THE RIVER AGAIN KILLED HIS WIFE

Legislative Committee Investigates With Axe and Then Ended His Own Life

The legislative committee on public health, came to Lowell this forenoon to hold relative to the pollution of the Merrimack river in this city. The lock into the matter of the pollution of river is a sort of annual affair and the one being considered at the present time was introduced by Senator Nelson of Haverhill. The bill is not favored in this city because it would give the state board of health the entire control of the Merrimack river and its tributaries. If the bill should pass the state board of health could at any time order a change in the sewerage system in Lowell and bring about a heavy and unwarranted expense to the city. Members of the committee on public health who came to Lowell today included the senate chairman, J. P. Parker; Dr. Oliver, house chairman; Rep.

CONCORD, N. H., April 27.—His less, terror-stricken wife, mind unbalanced by the strain of living with his nervously ill wife, Herman, who was about 45 years old, had been confined to her bed with W. Clough, a railroad switchman, late a nervous disorder for nearly six months. Clough had been acting strangely for a few days but nobody supposed him insane. He killed his wife with one blow of the axe as she lay in bed and then turned on the nurse and his 15-year-old daughter, but they escaped. Clough then ran a big knife into his throat. He was about 60 years old.

Thomas Curt of Lowell and Reps. Langman, Bradley, Hall, Montgomery, Dr. Smith and Dr. Smith Arnold. The delegation called at the city hall to visit the mayor and look the place over, and then they went out on a tour of inspection.

LOSS OF $530,000

Anheuser-Busch Plant Damaged

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 27.—Fire of unknown origin caused a loss estimated at $530,000 in the mammoth plant of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association early today and for a time threatened the entire establishment with destruction.

Five hundred thousand bottles of beer were destroyed and millions of burning corks made such a dense smoke that the firemen fought the flames in a black smog. The streets about the plant flowed with beer for more than an hour and smoking corks bobbed up and down in the streams.

Big orchestra, Associate, tonight.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The flight of Mrs. Adelle Rudolph, with clothing ablaze from her home on Staten Island is believed today to have been due to fear on the part of the young wife and mother that the flames which enveloped her might be communicated to the room in which she was sleeping.

Children were asleep. Mrs. Rudolph, with clothing and hair entirely burned from her was found outside her home late last night. She was barely alive and died today in a hospital. It is believed that blinding oil was thrown upon Mrs. Rudolph by an exploding lamp, and that she fled to the open in self sacrifice, being anxious for the safety of her children who were unharmed.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The return of clear weather in the morning skies shows that Halley's comet has brightened rapidly since last Friday and is now clearly visible to the naked eye shortly after 3 a. m. The comet is displaying a fine brush-like tail of some three degrees in length while the nucleus shines with a brightness of between 2.5 and 3 magnitude.

Prof. O. C. Wendell at the Harvard observatory was able to make a number of interesting observations this morning despite the moonlight and the hastening dawn and his photometric measurements showed the nucleus to be 6.31 magnitude.

Halley's comet has not yet attained so spectacular stages as that of comet A seen in the western sky in January but the rapidity with which it has increased in brightness during the past five days gives promise of a fine display in the course of a week and astronomers have great hope that when it reaches the point of greatest brilliancy in the west next month it will prove a most interesting celestial picture.

The comet is now moving through the constellation of Pisces and for a day or two will be a short distance east of the bright star in the southeastern corner of the great square of Pegasus.

SALE OF WOMEN'S COATS and FURS

From the J. Brest Co.'s Bankrupt Stock

This lot of clothing we bought with the stock of furniture. There was about $6000 worth. We sold most of it in Brockton and would have easily sold the balance in another week. But we were anxious to open the sale of furniture in Lowell by the 10th of April, so we shipped balance of furniture, clothing and all here so you can have your share of the bargains. And it is a good, clean, stylish lot of goods, as we saved out the best for our Lowell customers. Here are the prices:

3 Women's Coats, worth $5.00, sale price	$1.45
20 Women's Coats, worth $10 to $15, sale price	$4.95
9 Women's Coats, worth $12.50 to $18, sale price	$6.95
3 Women's Coats, worth $15 to $20, sale price	$8.95
2 Women's Coats, worth $22, sale price	$10.95

We sold every suit, skirt and waist in Brockton; but there were two suits on which a small deposit was made and they did not call for them, so they're for sale. One suit $4.95 and one $7.50.

THE FURS

Regular price $8.50 to $25.00

We shall offer the above goods for only two days

TOMORROW AND FRIDAY

What is left unsold, if any, will be sold to some dealer who handles these goods. We have no room for such goods in our store.

For the Men, Saturday Only

$8.50

These are worth from $15 to $22. We have made just one price, first come gets the best.

2 Overcoats, one sold for $15 and the other for $21, come first and grab the best	$8.50
9 Boys' Overcoats	$2.95
2 Boys' Overcoats	$4.95

These sold for $6.00 to $10.00.

Remember—the sale of Women's Coats and Furs Thursday and Friday only; the Men's Clothing Saturday only, as we can't interrupt our big sale of Furniture. As we have carloads of that to sell and only a handful of clothing and at the price we are offering in, we should sell the whole of it in a few hours.

Happy, Happy, Use TIZ

A Marvel For Sore Feet. Acts Right On

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ—Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet. Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots. You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold. It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably cool and comfortable. TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous excretions which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—never! You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain and worry about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you don't find all this true after trying a box of TIZ, you can get your money right back. TIZ is for sale at all drug stores at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter Lather, Dugg & Co., Chicago, Ill.

AN. AEROPLANE FLIGHT

Was Witnessed by Colonel Roosevelt in Paris

PARIS, April 27.—For the first time ex-President Roosevelt yesterday saw an aeroplane flight. It was a very short one, and the aeronaut, Emile Dubonnet, had a narrow escape from injury. Col. Roosevelt journeyed to Issy-Les-Moulineaux, as the guest of the Academy of Sports. There a large crowd had gathered, including cabinet ministers and noted aviators. Unfortunately, a strong wind was blowing and it seemed as though the promised flight would have to be abandoned. Not wishing to disappoint Col. Roosevelt, Dubonnet volunteered to go up in the face of the gale. He had recently made a sensational flight over the city of Paris, and it was thought if anyone could give a good account of himself, that man was Dubonnet.

The ex-president was deeply interested in every detail of the start and he pressed forward as the machine left the ground. It was evident, however, that this was no day for flying and the aeroplane had hardly gone 150 yards when it came down with a swoop, almost capsizing as it struck the ground. One of the wings was broken, but Dubonnet was not hurt. Col. Roosevelt rushed forward and offered him his heartiest congratulations.

The aeroplane sheds were then visited and Count De Lambert and Hart O. Berg, European manager for the Wright machine. Count De Lambert explained the operation of the machine to make a flight, but the wind was found impossible. Tetro to his return to Paris, M. De Villeneuve, president of the Academy of Sports, presented to Col. Roosevelt an honorary president of the academy's gold medal.

During the course of the afternoon Mr. Roosevelt received a deputation from the French parliamentary group for international arbitration, headed by former Premier Leon Bourgeois and Baron D'Estournelles De Constant. The latter, in addressing the ex-president, said he counted upon Mr. Roosevelt's influence in the holding of a third peace conference at The Hague.

"To this Mr. Roosevelt replied that his influence could be taken for granted, but," he added, "you must remember I am now a private citizen."

"I too, am a private citizen," said M. Bourgeois.

"I am proud to admit," continued

Mr. Roosevelt, "that I am the first statesman to make an appeal to the Hague court—in a dispute between the United States and Mexico. A former government official should not give the impression that he believes he is still a government official but with this reserve, I am entirely in accord with you upon the necessity of a third Hague conference."

After a visit to the Luxembourg gallery in the morning, Mr. Roosevelt was conducted to the famous revolutionary prison in the wing of the Palais de Justice, known as the Conciergerie, where he inspected the dungeons, among others that in which Marie Antoinette was confined prior to her execution.

Ambassador and Mrs. Bacon gave a dinner last evening of 28 covers in honor of Col. and Mrs. Roosevelt. The guests included Premier Briand, ex-President and Mme. Loubet, Foreign Minister and Mme. Pichon, the former ambassador to the United States and Mme. Jusserand, Count Deselves, M. Lepine, prefect of Paris, Gen. Dalstein, military governor of Paris, M. Caron, president of the municipal council, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Montgomery Sears. One of the ex-president's visitors yesterday afternoon was the Indian prince, Jagatjit Singh Bahadur, maharaja of Kapurthala.

The last day in Paris of the Roosevelt party includes a visit to Vincennes this morning, where, under the direction of Gen. Dalstein the Paris garrison will be put through a series of evolutions.

In the afternoon there probably will be an excursion to Versailles, where fetes have been arranged, and in the evening Col. Roosevelt will be the guest at a dinner at the ministry of foreign affairs.

THE HOLY NAME

Of St. Patrick's Held a Banquet

The Holy Name society of St. Patrick's parish held a banquet in the school hall in Suffolk street last night and despite the inclement weather there was a large attendance and the affair proved to be a success.

The speaker of the evening was James E. O'Donnell, the well known local lawyer, who gave an interesting address on "The Manner of Conducting the Government of the Commonwealth."

Mr. O'Donnell spoke in part as follows:

"Our government is divided into three different branches, executive, judicial and legislative. The executive branch is composed of the governor and his council; the judicial being made up of the justices of the supreme court, judges of the superior court and the district and police court judges. All of whom are appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, their terms of office being during good behavior, except trial justices whose terms are for three years, and justices of the peace who are appointed for seven years.

The legislative branch is composed of the senate and the house of representatives. Like the executive department, the members of the legislative branch are elected by the people direct. The senate has 40 members, the presiding officer being designated as the president of the senate. The house has 200 members, its presiding officer being known as the Speaker.

In the senate the republican party generally has about 32 members, the democrats the balance, and in the house the democrats have a little over 10. Then there is another branch of the legislature known as the Third House, composed of representatives of those seeking special legislation, lobbyists sometimes called.

"When both branches assemble, which is on the first Wednesday in January of each year, they each proceed to the election of their respective presiding officers, both of whom are generally republicans."

The speaker then went into detail in explaining the naming and choosing of the different committees, the favored ones of the body receiving the most sought-for positions.

"After all of these preliminaries have been gone over and the different committees assigned to their respective rooms, the real work begins and from then the scenes about the state house during the session are indeed busy ones."

Lawyer O'Donnell then explained the different courses bills go through before they are finally passed into law, and what becomes of the bills after they are passed, he also explained the work of the lobbyists and what an important part they sometimes play in the enactment or defeat of bills.

In closing he said: "In my brief experience as a member of the legislature, I met high-minded men, animated with desires to do of real service to their state and their constituency—a body of men in whom all the people might safely have confidence."

B. & M. AGREEMENT

BOSTON, April 27.—A new agreement affecting the locomotive engineers on the entire Boston & Maine system, some 1250 employees, has been entered into by the officials of the road and the men's union, satisfactory to all parties, according to an announcement made yesterday. The engineers made no requests for increase in wages but asked a readjustment of the men's working schedules.

Nothing was given out as to the details of the agreement, it being stated the new schedules were technical and of little general interest.

HIGHWAY BILL

Sen. Hibbard Presents a Revised Bill

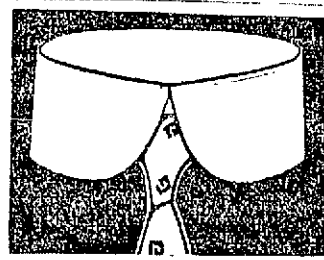

Senator Hibbard has framed and introduced in the senate his revised bill for the construction of the state highway between Lowell and Lawrence and it has been referred to the committee on ways and means. While differing from the original measure the revised bill embodies the points cleared up at the hearings held on the original bill for the highway and by the visit of the joint committee on roads and bridges here some time ago.

It differs from the original measure in that it specifically provides for the construction of the highway along the line of the Boston & Northern street railway along the bank of the Merrimack river, and that it divides the cost to the cities and towns affected somewhat differently.

As in the original bill, it is provided that the cities and towns in each county shall divide equally the cost of constructing that portion of the road which lies in that county. Unlike the original bill, however, it is provided that of the share to be paid by the cities and towns, 55 per cent. shall be paid by the city and 15 per cent. by the town.

As a result of this division, it is estimated that the whole cost to fall upon Middlesex county, the city of Lowell and the town of Braintree, will be $11,500. Of this, the county will pay half, or $5750, the city of Lowell will pay $1875.00, and the town of Braintree $3875.00.

The cost to Essex county, Lawrence and Methuen will be about $16,000. This will mean an expenditure of $5000

BROOKSIDE LINE

L. &amp; F. R. R. Must Resume Its Service

The railroad commissioners have ordered the Lowell & Fitchburg street railway to resume the service from Brookside to Westford Centre, which has been suspended since winter.

The company is ordered to resume its service from the Centre to Brookside on a reduced schedule and under some other conditions not yet fully known here. The town will hold a mass meeting Friday evening in the town hall at 8 o'clock to consider the whole problem and everybody is asked to attend, including the women.

Under the head of good and welfare interesting remarks were offered by financial Secretary John McPadden, Grand Secretary Wm. H. Stafford and John Barrett. At the conclusion of the meeting whist was enjoyed by the members.

The lecturer of the court is preparing for a series of lectures to be delivered by many prominent speakers from this city and throughout the state.

Odd Fellows

The regular meeting of Pilgrim encampment, 4. I. O. O. F., was held on Monday evening at the Centralville Odd Fellows hall. The regular business was transacted. An invitation from Rev. F. A. Macdonald to attend the service at the Fifth Street Baptist church Sunday evening, May 1, at 6:30 o'clock was accepted.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. John H. Bilson and Miss Lillian T. Hoar were united in matrimony Tuesday afternoon at the parochial residence of the Sacred Heart church, Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. L., officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Katherine A. Hoar, while Mr. Thomas W. Doyle was best man.

HESELTON—HESELTON

Mr. Herbert Heselton, a well known employee of the Lowell Automobile company, and Mrs. Emma M. Heselton were united in marriage by Rev. J. W. Stephan, pastor of the Worthen Street M. E. church, Monday evening.

COTTON CROP DESTROYED

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—That the Southern planter is finding great difficulty in obtaining desirable cotton seed to replant the first crop destroyed by frost, was indicated by reports from Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia and other regions yesterday. A shortage of seed was needed before the cold spell. A great deal of choice seed already changed hands at $150 a ton. Much seed is offered at $40 and $50 a ton, but the cheaper grades have been found so full of dirt that they will only be used where no better can be had.

However, few cases of exhortation have been reported in spite of conditions.

TO APPEAR IN COURT AS THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT WILL APPEAR WITH CHAS. E. HUGHES AS A MEMBER

Auto Drivers Charged With Exceeding Speed Limit

The automobile law is being enforced in this city as it has never been before and as a result of the stringent measures taken by Supt. Richmond Welch of the police department 11 drivers of motorcars will be haled into court this week to answer to complaints charging them with exceeding the speed limit.

There has been so much complaint about automobiles "flying" through the congested parts of the city that the superintendent stationed members of the motor squad in Central and Moody streets on April 19, 20 and last Sunday, the 24th, and though many more complaints were given to the superintendent, out than warrants were issued, where there was any doubt the driver was given the benefit of the doubt.

On Patriots' day 11 men, it is alleged, exceeded the speed limit on the following day there were two men who ran their machines faster than the law allowed, it is said, while last Sunday three victims came under the drag-net.

Four of the offenders have been summoned to appear in court tomorrow, namely: Joseph H. Boyle, Amos

A. Bliss and Eugene Lavoie of this city and Roscoe W. Hilliker of Lynn. The other offenders will appear in court on Friday morning.

According to the law the penalty for the first offense is a minimum fine of $10 and a maximum of $25.

Two of the men who were held up were motor cyclists, they being Walter E. Rokes and Fred H. Buxton of this city.

The following is the list of offenders, their residences and the date on which it is alleged they exceeded the speed limit.

April 20—Franklin N. Rogers of Manchester, N. H.; Tanerada Pariseau of Manchester, N. H.

April 24—Alfred D. Hoyer of Lowell, George V. Gregg of Lowell, John D. Blunt of Somerville.

BOXING GOSSIP

Martin Flaherty of this city has accepted an invitation to attend the testimonial entertainment to Young Corbett at the Falmouth Athletic club of New York City to be held May 2. Martin will give an exhibition in the main art with Spike Sullivan.

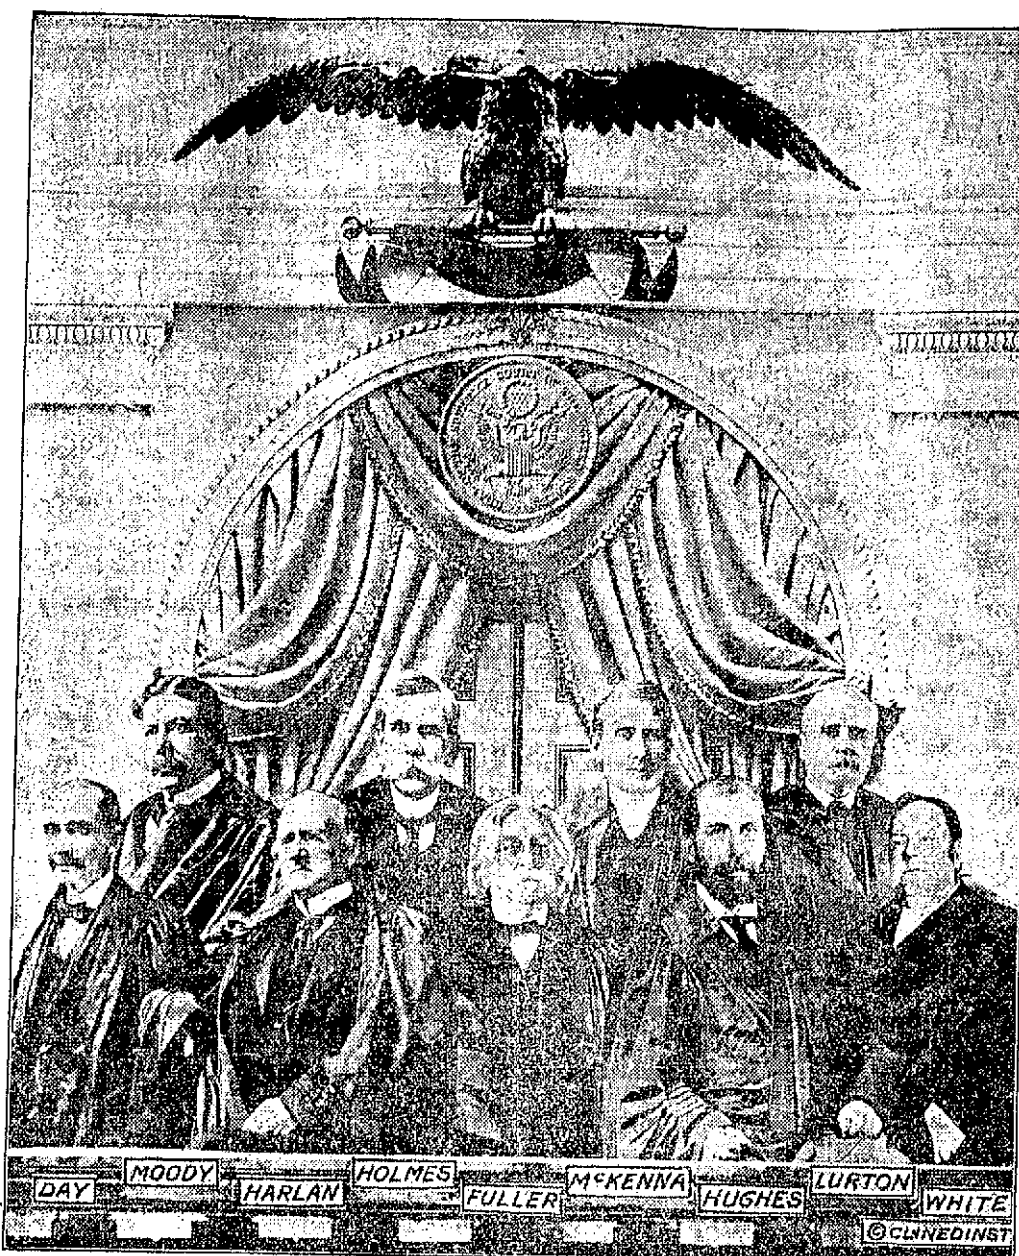

Fight fans, who pay fancy prices to see Stanley Ketchel and Sam Langford in a six round battle at the National A. C. of Philadelphia tonight will doubtless watch every move of the famous slugger with the idea of convincing themselves that everything is aboveboard. The pugilists and their managers insist that there will be no doubt about the honesty of the mill and that the hardest kind of fighting will be seen. As Ketchel has never taken part in a questionable ring contest his assertion that he will do his best is generally credited by the smart set. Langford, on the other hand, while never accused of throwing a fight, has been frequently charged with "pulling" in order to let an opponent stay in a certain number of rounds.

It was openly stated several months ago that Langford purposely allowed Jim Flynn to have a slight advantage in a ten round battle at New York, Cal. in order to secure another mill, also another purse, which the Boston negro won by a clean knockout. That was a fair illustration of Langford's methods. It is alleged, and has given impetus to a rumor, unconfirmed, that when tonight's contest is under way Langford will not try to land a knockout blow. It is also whispered that the men have received a guarantee that if neither scores a knockout in this affair they can sign for a $30,000 purse offered by a leading California promoter, who will insist upon forty-five rounds at 158 pounds and will pull off the battle on July 1 or July 5. Those who know this offer have been made futile to the belief that both Ketchel and Langford will be on their feet when the sixth round ends, and they are willing to bet on it—that there will be no knockout.

If there is any scheme of this kind below the surface, however, it may be nipped in the bud by the managers of the Philadelphia boxing club, who, it is understood, will make it clear that if in their opinion the pugilists are not trying the best they know how not a dollar will be paid over to either of them. Ketchel and Langford are fast, aggressive, heavy hitters. If they intend to fight on the level they will get busy the moment the first round begins. There can be no stalling, light boxing or incessant clinching without causing a storm of disapproval and charges of fraud. The fight will draw more than $20,000 in gate receipts and those who pay for tickets are entitled to a fair, square run for their money. It is argued.

If there is no restraining influence behind the men and they are not afraid to mix it up it is predicted the fight will be one of the most sensational slugger matches ever seen in a ring. In local sporting resorts Sunday no other topic was discussed. Langford, because of his greater ring experience and science, ruled favorite at 10 to 9, and plenty of money was offered. There seems to be little doubt that the negro will remain the choice up to the sound of the gong, and may be quoted at 10 to 8. He is in better physical condition than for many months, which is due to his constant work on the coast in preparation for his battles with Flynn and Barry. Ketchel worked hard at Woodlawn all day Sunday and repeated the stunts Monday. He is a horse for work and

DAY MOODY HARLAN HOLMES FULLER MCKENNA HUGHES LURTON WHITE

ALBANY, N. Y., April 27.—Before Governor C. E. Hughes goes to Washington to take up his new duties as a member of the United States supreme court he has a number of reforms and further investigations that he promises to make in the Empire state. When President Taft made the offer to Governor Hughes that he fill the post made vacant by the death of Justice Brewer he hesitated about accepting until he was informed that he would not be required to be in Washington until October. Lieutenant Governor Horace White, who is known as a typical machine man, will take up the duties of Governor Hughes, but the governor's friends say White will not have much to do in the way of investigations.

JEFFRIES TRAINING
BEN LOMOND, Cal., April 27.—James J. Jeffries yesterday made up for his vacation of Monday by working with redoubled energy. He declared he felt in a working mood and allowed himself little rest. He worked on all the indoor strength building devices with vim.

A six round boxing bout was scheduled for yesterday afternoon, but Jeffries' work yesterday morning was so wearing that his trainers did not want to heat his blood.

Joe Choynski after looking Jeffries over the other day announced that the boiler-maker, while in apparently good health, required much hard work to get into his old condition. Choynski also said that he wished to be absolute boss of the training of Jeffries or he would pack his trunk and leave for Chicago. Meanwhile, Sam Berger is sending out stories that Jeffries is in the "pink of condition and weighs 223 pounds." If Berger tells the truth about Jeff's weight many experts in the handling of fighters say the big fellow will stay as weak if he works constantly for the next nine weeks. As a matter of fact, however, Jeffries weighs 240 pounds at least, according to impartial critics who have looked him over in camp. His stomach, hips and thighs carry the greater amount of superfluous flesh. He will try to work this off by road work and violent exercise and if unsuccessful he will employ a corps of massage operators. "This was necessary when Jeff trained for his first fight with Fitz Simons. He couldn't get the flesh off his hips and thighs in any other way, and four strong armed operators were assigned to the task.

Tex Rickard says he will post $30,000 with the stakeholder next Monday, and $50,000 of the purse for the big fight will then be up. Rickard will have the remaining $30,000 ready at the appointed time, 18 hours before the date of the mill. The referee will probably be selected next Monday unless a controversy arises. Johansen has declared himself in favor of Jack Welsh, but Jeffries is keeping mum. It is said that Jeff will suggest either Eddie Smith or Charley White. New Yorkers who are going to the fight hope that White will be the third man in the ring. His presence there would indicate the fight was on the "up and up" and would guarantee a fair play to the principals.

"MIKE" GARDNER

TO ASSIST IN TRAINING JIMMY FOR COMING BOUT

Michael Gardner, youngest son in the famous family of boxers, arrived in town Saturday after a stay of ten months in New York and Philadelphia. He is looking the picture of health, during his absence Mr. Gardner was engaged in clerical work at a New York hotel for the first several months, and lately has been in Philadelphia, looking after Joe Thomas' interests. He was instrumental in bringing about the match between Thomas and Papke, which takes place on the coast in the near future.

Mr. Gardner returned at the request of his brother Jimmy. He will assist in training the latter for his coming fight with Klaus. He believes that with the proper training Jimmy will be able to put away the Pittsburgh whippersnapper. He says that Jimmy will work hard to condition himself for the battle.

DIAMOND NOTES
Brookton today.

Lowell will play St. Anselm's college at Manchester tomorrow morning, and Lowell and Brookton will play there in the afternoon. The occasion is Fast day, a holiday in New Hampshire.

Somebody asks will John Smith play right field. Not while the outfield is working as it is now. It's a poor day when Flu and Marge don't do something with the stick.

And still the game starts at 3 o'clock although a majority of the fans would have it start earlier.

The New England league umpires are Connelly, Langan, Rorty and Byrne.

The St. Anselm's college team which plays Lowell at Manchester tomorrow has played and won three games: April 9, Lowell, 8 to 7; at Lowell; April 16, Dean Academy, 7 to 3; at Franklin, Mass.; April 20, Colby Academy, 11 to 5, at Manchester, N. H. The boys feel confident that they will win again tomorrow. Quite a number of Lowell fans will go to Manchester for the game.

Haverhill anticipates little trouble this season, either on the circuit or its own park, with Bill Massey signed up. Massey, besides being a ball player, is a reserve member of the Quaker City police force.

"Klondike" Smith, the local boy who played his first league game of baseball Saturday with the Brookton team, looked good to the fans and there is no question but what Steve Flanagan has recruited a most promising youngster. Smith was just a trifle nervous, and the occasion rendered him by the crowd unmoved him all the more, but despite that he showed good form at the bat and in the field. It was a trying day for the youngster to be placed in the line-up on the opening day in his home town, for although he knew he was among friends, it was that consciousness which makes even the best of us tremble. After Smith plays a few more games, and in cities where his work will not be so critically watched, he will feel more at home.—Lawrence Telegram.

Southpaw Tyler, the slab artist from Derry, N. H., who hung a victory on Jesse Burkett's braves at Lowell last Friday, was sent to again Monday to hand defeat to Lawrence and he succeeded to the tune of 2 to 1. In addition to pitching the splendid ball, he won the good graces of Lowell fans by breaking up the tie in the ninth inning and his single to left scored Huston with the winning tally. Lowell won the game after the first two men had died in the final session and Huston started the gong by a two-bagger to right. Tyler followed with a hit to right and Lowell had won from Lawrence by exactly the same score that the locals won from Brookton, Saturday at Glen Forest. Lawrence had chances to win, but fell down when a hit meant a score, while a bad throw by Al Smith paved the way for the up-river team's first run. Lawrence piled up five errors, but the misplay of Al Smith alone counted in the run getting—Lawrence Eagle.

Delmar Orcutt, the North Abington boy selected by Manager Flanagan for the Brookton baseball team, was expected to show at shortstop in the game scheduled with Worcester yesterday. Orcutt did not play Saturday, as the manager desired to try out Smith in right field. Although Smith did well as did Stanard at second base, Manager Flanagan will use Orcutt on the team, as he thinks he is a good hitter. Smith, however, will be retained as utility man and may be used in the box occasionally, as he has shown good form in the preliminary games. With Orcutt in the game at short, Shannon will go back to second and Stanard to right field. Manager Flanagan says Stanard looks good at second base.—Brookton Times.

The Lawrence newspapers are loud in their praise of the Brookton team, which went down to defeat in the opening game at Lawrence Saturday. The Sunday Sun of that city has the following:

"But the honors went not to Lawrence alone. The fans will be talking of Steve Flanagan's team. That he has a likely aggregation of ball tossers is not denied. Sweeney pitched a game that was indeed a credit to him. He kept the locals' hits well centered and had some of the local hitters going over the plate for his wide breakers. He had speed to burn and showed good control and should prove a winner in the box for Flanagan this year. Dulin at third base, certainly is an ambitious youngster and was all over the lot. At first base he rapped out a stinging single, but it was in the field he did his best. Not afraid of making an error, he got after everything that went into his territory and impressed the fans by his willing work."

"Bull" Durham is pitching for the Regina club in Canada. As Manager Dowd has found out. As it costs more than $100 to bring him here for transportation Dowd will not send on for the big chap unless he finds him in the best of shape and pitching good ball. So the eyes of the fans will be centered on Regina.—New Bedford Times.

Harry Wormwood thinks that O'Brien has a better club at Fall River than last season and that there is more pepper and more harmony in the ranks. It looks as though O'Brien will miss the services of Messenger, Nichols and Sobras before the season ago. As several of the new recruits do not show up as well as those gone, but forgotten performers.—Fall River News.

Manager O'Brien of Fall River received a letter recently from Fred Tenka, the Philadelphia twirler, announcing that he made up his mind not to play professionally this year. He has a good position there and through playing with independent teams can easily equal the salary offered him, while he has the advantage of being at home. In explanation of the incident, which entangled the Fall River and Worcester clubs in a claim for his services, whereupon Secretary Farrell decided in favor of the local team. Tenka assumes the responsibility. He said Control Mack asked him if he would like to go to Worcester, and he replied in the affirmative. Tenka writes that he did not tell Mack that he had sent a letter accepting the local club's terms, but thought this unnecessary because he believed that nothing but a signed contract was binding. Manager O'Brien has suspended Tenka to preserve his rights.

Merkle is rather fond of touching runners coming in to first base. He does this sometimes when he could keep his foot on the bag and make the catch. The latter when possible is the safer catch. Mr. Merkle should make use of his long reach.

The Cubs are getting rusty from disuse.

Again Witte has gone through a game strong. Looks as if he were his best self.

If Jack Knight keeps up his present clip Foster is likely to wait some time before getting in at short again.

A thrown ball hit Hank O'Day the other day. He kept Wagner from stealing a base.

Mordca Brown, not generally at his best until hot weather, is as fit right now as any of them.

TEXTILE GAME

M. I. T. SOPHOMORES AT CAMPUS TODAY

The Textile team will play the M. I. T. Sophs at the campus this afternoon and the local boys are in the condition.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

Saturday afternoon on the North common the John Pilling Shoe Co. team will play its first home game of the season, and will appear for the first time in their new uniforms. They will have for their opponents Saturday the strong O. M. I. Cadet team from Belvidere. Both of these teams are entered in the Lowell and Suburban league, and each will be represented with a fast team. The game will be exceedingly interesting because of the fact that O'Brien who pitched for the Cadets last season, will be in the box for the J. P. S. team.

The Silesia Worsted mills baseball team defeated the North Chelmsford Rinkette Juniors by a score of 10 to 2. Lineup: H. Johnson, J. McCulloch, W. Tobin, B. H. Lurgston.

25. J. Marlow ss; J. McEneaney 1b; R. Prescott lf; C. McLaughlin cf; F. Shelousky rf.
The winners would like to challenge any team in or around the city at the average of 18 or 19 years of age. Send all challenges to William Tobin, 78 Whipple street, Lowell, Mass., or to Silesia Worsted mills, North Chelmsford.

The Red Cross baseball team will play any 12-year-old team in the city Saturday, May 7, at Pillsbury field. Telephone Peter McMahon, 2569-2.

The Rosedale team would like a game for May 7 with any team under 20 years in or out of the city. Write to James Manning, 130 Ennell street.

The Young Tigers would like to challenge any team under 13 years of age. Send all challenges to R. Chesley, 16 B street. Our lineup is: J. McCann, cf; L. Lear, p; F. Grady, 1b; R. Chesley, 2b; J. ### PLAYERS SHIFTED

IMPORTANT CHANGES MADE IN CLEVELAND TEAM

CLEVELAND, April 27.—As a result of the recent slump of the local team of the American league Manager James McGuire yesterday announced several changes to take effect today. Stovall will play first base; Lajoie second; Turner short, and Grancy centrefield. Birmingham goes to the bench.

SUNDAY BASEBALL LEGALIZED

ALBANY, N. Y., April 27.—The McGrath bill legalizing Sunday baseball by amateurs between 3:30 and 6:30 p. m. squeezed through the assembly yesterday, receiving 77 votes with 67 in the negative. Cheering greeted the announcement of the result.

NEW BOWLING RECORD

BALTIMORE, April 27.—The record for the two man class in the bowling tournament of the National Bowling association was broken yesterday by George Burdino and J. A. Eickstein of Washington, with a score of 1305. This is but 13 points below the world's championship record.

COLUMBUS DAY

Bill Passed House Today, 135 to 45

In the legislature yesterday afternoon the bill to make Columbus day a legal holiday passed in a third reading by a vote of 135 in favor and 45 against.

A BLUE BOOK

For the Wives of Congressmen

WASHINGTON, April 27.—In imitation of their husbands, whose names and deeds are recorded in the Congressional Directory, the members of the wives of national lawmakers, intend to have a blue book of their own. The idea originated with Mrs. Champ Clark, better half of the minority leader of the house of representatives. Each member of the club has been asked to furnish a brief biography of herself, and among other questions is asked, "If thrown on your own resources, what could you do to win a living for yourself?" A full record as to genealogy and personal achievements is requested. Mrs. Clark believes that the book will not only lend dignity to the club, but that it will act as a cementing bond between the members. Each new session of congress will see a new blue book.

Does Your Back Ache?

If you are a woman and you have this symptom get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound without delay. Backache seems an invention of the evil one to try woman's souls. Only those who suffer this way can understand the wearing, ceaseless misery.

We ask all such women to read the two following letters for proof that Mrs. Pinkham's medicine cures backache caused by female diseases.

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world about it. 'I suffered from female troubles and fearful pains in my back. I had the best doctors and they all advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I am ready to tell every one what this medicine has done for me.' Mrs. Emma Ince, 833 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Pittsburg, Pa.—"I had backache for four months steady and tried everything for it, but nothing helped me until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After the first bottle I felt a change. I took five in all and I am cured. I have not had any backache since. I think the Compound is wonderful for women." Mrs. G. Leiser, 5219 Kirkland St., E. E., Pittsburg, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made thousands of cures of such cases. You notice we say has cured thousands of cases. That means that we are telling you what it has done, not what we think it will do. We are stating facts, not guesses.

We challenge the world to name another remedy for female ills, which has been so successful or received so many testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

KELIHER IS BAILED

Bonding Company Put Up the Sum of $25,000

"Big Bill" Keliher, who since Friday night had been lodged in the Charles street jail, under arrest on charges alleging connection with the looting of the National City bank of Cambridge, was released yesterday afternoon upon the acceptance by the federal authorities of a $25,000 reorganization by a bonding company.

Early in the afternoon Daniel H. Conkley, Keliher's counsel, had a conference with U. S. Dist. Att. Asa P. French at which the latter expressed his willingness to accept the surety offered. The preliminaries were then gone through, and shortly before 4 o'clock Keliher was brought in a closed carriage from the jail to the federal building by Deputies Waters and Tighe.

He was taken to the marshal's office and placed in the cage while the formalities were gone through by Mr. Conkley and Asst. U. S. Dist. Att. William H. Garland.

The bond was entered by Earl M. Lamphere, vice president of the bonding Co. and was pronounced acceptable by Assistant District Attorney Garland. The defendant was brought out of the cage and taken into the adjoining office of Commissioner Hayes.

Mr. Conkley then suggested that the continuance of the hearing before the commissioner set for Saturday might be annulled and his client be allowed to plead not guilty and be held immediately for the United States grand jury. This proposed short cut, however, met with opposition from Asst. Dist. Atty. Garland, and the suggestion was withdrawn by Mr. Conkley. Bail was then formally entered at 4:30, and the defendant released.

Keliher, who has borne very ungraciously his four days' seclusion, greatly relieved at his return to freedom, and lost no time in hurrying out of the federal building with his counsel. Both Keliher and Mr. Conkley declined to discuss any feature of the case or their plans.

Yesterday the United States circuit court grand jury resumed its special session to consider the Keliher case, and it is expected to report this morning. It brings in an indictment against Keliher, the case will be taken out of Commissioner Hayes' hands. Saturday's hearing will then be annulled and Keliher may be called on to plead. In this event he will be required to continue or renew bail.

A feature of yesterday's proceedings was a conference between District Attorney French with Asst. District Attorney Garland and others of his official staff, which presumably had to do with the testimony submitted to the grand jury and the protection of witnesses from newspaper interviews.

Mr. French subsequently in a talk with reporters gave vigorous expression to his intention to prevent such interviews, in the interest of justice. He implied that any violation of his wishes in this regard would bring contempt of court proceedings upon the offender.

COST OF LIVING INJURIES FATAL

Short Weight Packages
Make High Prices

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Short weight packages and secret agreements between wholesalers and retailers are largely responsible for the high cost of living, according to statements of witnesses yesterday before the house committee investigating the subject.

Dr. Wm. C. Woodward, health officer of the District of Columbia, told of short weight bread, flour and other necessities of life.

Col. W. C. Haskell, superintendent of weights and measures, declared that everyone of the 300,000 barrels of flour sold in Washington, were short four pounds each of the advertised weight and that Washingtonians were paying annually $42,000 for flour which they never received.

STRIKE IS AVERTED

SPRINGFIELD, April 27.—A compromise agreement between the Springfield and Worcester Street Railway companies and their employees was reached last night, according to a semi-official authority. It is stated that the companies and men have agreed upon a sliding scale of wages, of from 23 to 27 cents an hour for motion and conductors for five years. About 4200 men are affected.

DR. BURRILL DEAD

BOSTON, April 27.—Dr. Herbert Leslie Burrill, former president of the American Medical association, surgeon general in charge of the hospital ship Day State during the Spanish war, and one of the leading members of the medical profession in New England, died last night at his home in Newbury street, of heart failure. He was born in Boston in 1856 and graduated from the Harvard medical school in 1879. He leaves a widow and two sons.

Benjamin Earle, Jr.
Shot Himself

HYDE PARK, April 27.—Benjamin M. Earle, Jr., 37 years old, shot himself in the head with a revolver yesterday afternoon and died early last evening at the home of his parents, 31 Oak street.

After viewing the body Medical Examiner Sturtevant said he could not decide whether it was a case of suicide or accidental shooting.

Mr. Earle was said to have been engaged. He was not known to have been dependent. He returned a few days ago from South Carolina, where his father is sojourning for his health. The son had lived at home with his mother and grandmother since returning from the south. He was employed as a clerk in his father's works here.

CLAIM ADJUSTED

PHILLIES SETTLE WITH W. J. MURRAY

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—The claim of William J. Murray against the Philadelphia National league baseball club was adjusted here yesterday at a meeting between Thomas J. Lynch, president of the National league, for Manager Murray, and officials of the local club. After the conference, Murray gave out the following statement:

"I simply want to say that the new owners of the Philadelphia club have settled with me on terms entirely satisfactory. President Lynch and I came over from New York this afternoon and met. President Fogel and Judge Elliott at the club's office, and in less than an hour arrived at an amicable agreement. The new owners have dealt fairly with me and that is all I have to say."

The terms of settlement of the claim, which was for the complete term of manager and for back salary were not made public.

COMMON COUNCIL THE POLICE BLAMED

Took Up Labor Day
Appropriation

The common council held a short meeting last night. There were 26 members present.

An appropriation of $1000 for the proper observance of Labor day was referred to the committee on appropriations.

An order for $675 for band concerts introduced by Councilman Elliott was adopted. Councilman McKenzie voting in opposition.

Councilman Kilpatrick introduced an ordinance to change the name of the poor farm to the Chelmsford Street hospital, and the same was referred to the committee on ordinance and legislation.

Sidewalks were voted in the following streets: School, Pawtucket, Gates, Sidney, West Fourth, State, Howe and Clitheroe and Butler avenues.

TO INCREASE RATES

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 27.—The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company plans for increasing passenger rates upon the system now being worked out will be based on the density of traffic upon the road's lines, and will arrange for an increase from about two per cent. upon the main stem to nearly or quite 25 per cent. upon the most unprofitable branches. Upon some of the latter the increase may be from two cents a mile to two and a half cents a mile, the rate which prevailed before the general reduction was made on the whole system three years ago. The mileage book system, however, will probably be continued at the old rate of two cents a mile plus two cents for each fraction of a mile. The readjustment will be based upon the theory that the increases will nearly or quite make good the increased cost of operation caused by the increase of wages in the various operating branches of the service.

Chief Says That They Are Constantly Violating Rules

BOSTON, April 27.—Chief Charles A. Kendall of the Somerville police department in a general order read at roll call last evening told the members of the department severely to task in one of the most stinging arraignments they have ever been subjected to.

In part, he said: "From personal observation I am thoroughly convinced that many of the officers are continually violating the rules of this department, namely, not properly patrolling their routes; improperly ringing in duty calls; meeting at signal boxes; conversing with each other; unnecessarily standing and talking with persons; walking with persons on their routes, etc."

Within a short time I saw one day a patrolman standing talking in one place for a period of 17 minutes. One night recently, while making a tour of the city covering a period of 3 1/2 hours and visiting nearly every part of the city, I saw four patrolmen out of 26 who were supposed to be on duty.

"One was standing alone on Broadway; the next visited the fire station of engine company 2 and was in there for 15 minutes; the next was standing talking with two men in Maguire square, and the fourth was standing talking with a group of four or five young men in front of a drug store in the western part of the city for a period of 20 minutes."

"At Dewey's corner at 10:45 p. m. there was a crowd of young men standing on the corner singing and acting in a boisterous manner. There was no officer in sight."

"The public, whose servants you are, have a right to expect and demand better police service than this. I shall expect more rigid attention to duty in the future and all violations of the rules will be summarily dealt with."

"The lieutenants and sergeants on duty in the station house will report

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was

16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

THE IDEAL NEWSPAPER.

Major I. C. Hemphill of the Richmond Times-Dispatch in a lecture on Journalism at Yale seemed to speak in a pessimistic tone of the hopelessness of seeing the "Ideal Newspaper."

The ideal newspaper, like the ideal man, is a rarity of course; but Editor Hemphill is unjust to the average newspaper when he deprecates "the present degradation of the press which caters to the worst tendencies of a corrupt and malodorous age." That some papers cater to such tendencies is unfortunately true; but Mr. Hemphill knows or should know that the papers which do this are in the minority. There are still a few sensational sheets that try to work up a scare whenever they can. The sensational manner in which the raid at the Veaspee Country club has been treated by some newspapers proves this, but that is no reason why respectable newspapers should be maligning by a man who is himself in the business or by anybody else.

The decent newspapers in this case as in many others have to suffer the blame that properly belongs only to the yellow sheets and the sensational organs that try to live on scandals and the use of the muck rake.

It is a perfectly just and proper function of the honest newspaper to show up dishonesty in public officials, to stand for civic probity and official integrity. That is one of the functions of the press that has greatly assisted in purifying municipal government in this country.

In no city in which there has been an honest and fearless newspaper have the officials been found to engage in wholesale corruption. If perchance any official ventured to prostitute his office to private gain, he was quickly exposed and either convicted or driven into obscurity.

The service which the honest newspapers have rendered in this respect has been of incalculable value to American cities.

Yet these newspapers do not get credit for their work in this respect. In other respects also the newspapers have done incalculable good as for example in denouncing wrong, in pleading for the poor and the weak, in defense of right and in exposing shams and humbugs.

When some ministers thought of getting out an ideal newspaper and undertook to publish a paper such as in their opinion would Christ Himself were He on earth, the result was not nearly as good even from the Christian standpoint as hundreds of papers published by laymen throughout the year without any pretense to religious motives.

Next to the church the press is the greatest power for good in the land and its work should not be scoffed at, minimized or misrepresented, because of the shortcomings of a small number of unprincipled newspapers.

When Editor Hemphill spoke of the "ideal newspaper" he may not have realized that the "ideal" in newspaper production is never attainable for the reason that the man who produces the most perfect newspaper has still an ideal far beyond what he can then realize. The ideal always stands afar off like a beautiful vision perched upon the horizon of the highest reality.

Carlyle says: "Alas, we know that ideals can never be completely embodied in practice. Ideals must ever be a great way off—and we will thankfully content ourselves with any not intolerable approximation thereto! Let no man as Schiller says, too querulously, 'measure by a scale of perfection the meagre product of reality' in this poor world of ours."

In this connection we might also appropriately quote Adelaide Proctor when she says:

"Dwells within the soul of every artist,
More than all his efforts can express,
He knows the best remains unuttered
Sighing at what we call 'his success.'"

Thus after all Editor Hemphill need not be discouraged because he cannot find in this broad land of ours the ideal newspaper. If he cannot find it here he certainly cannot find it elsewhere and it, therefore, does not exist.

No line of business has made such rapid strides within the past dozen years as did the newspaper business. The marvel of news, intelligence and research crowded into the columns of a one cent paper nowadays is far beyond what the greatest journalists of twenty years ago dreamed of as possible. The ideals of the past have been more than realized as the ideals of today may be realized in the future. It is not expected, therefore, that the present ideal of great journalists should be realized. To accomplish this would require superhuman gifts, for when we consider the work of the great journalists such as Col. Henry Watterson, the late Charles A. Dana and the present critic, Major I. C. Hemphill as reflected in their respective newspapers, we find that while each might have attained excellence in one or in many points yet none of them ever issued a newspaper approaching the highest ideal of journalistic excellence.

The newspapers that print the news of the world faithfully and up to the minute, that hold up to the people high ideals of morality, citizenship, civic purity, strong manhood and noble womanhood, are doing their full duty to their clientele no matter how far they may be away from the critic's conception of the ideal.

But did not the great Caesar himself—beg pardon, we mean Col. Roosevelt—who was not averse to giving the newspapers a severe slant when it suited his purpose or his mood—did he not make the statement in his Paris speech that

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the door of duty could have been done better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood, whose place shall never be with those cold, timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat."

Applying this piece of common sense we can see the absurdity of Major Hemphill setting himself up as a general critic of the press of this country, while the paper of which he is editor in point of excellence will rank only third rate when compared with the best in the land.

How grand, how noble, how sublime would be the achievements of man in every field of endeavor if the critics could remedy the imperfections they can so readily point out in the works of others.

ENJOYABLE EVENT

Rosebuds Held Dancing Party Last Evening

O. U. A. M. hall, Middle street, was the scene last evening of one of the most enjoyable dancing parties of the season, the occasion being the third annual sociable of the Rosebuds. Like its predecessors it was a grand success in every particular. There were about seventy-five couples present and all enjoyed the program furnished. The ladies of the party were all becomingly attired in beautiful gowns, while the men wore evening dress.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Pink and white, the colors of the club, predominated. Streamers of these colors were alternately suspended from the center of the hall to the sides. In the center was a large bell of light blue, pink and white. The stage was decked with potted plants and ferns. Hidden behind the greenery was Kittredge's orchestra. Harry Kittredge, director, which rendered excellent music for the dancers.

An order of twenty numbers was given and each was anchored several times. One, in particular, namely, the Rosebud waltz, proved to be the feature of the evening. There were about the last dance before intermission and it was applauded many times.

At intermission refreshments were served, after which dancing was resumed and continued until midnight.

Those responsible for the success of the affair were: Maybelle Sullivan, general manager; May Crowley, assistant general manager; Blanche Sullivan, floor director; Josephine Cronin, assistant floor director; Josephine Hennessy, chief aid.

OFFERS TO MARRY

Green Has Letters From 150 Women

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—E. H. R. Green of Terrell, Texas, president of the Texas Midland R. R. Co., and a son of Mrs. Hetty Green of New York and who recently announced in St. Louis that he had not married because he could find no woman who would accept him except for his money, admitted last night the receipt of 150 letters from women asking his hand in marriage during the last two weeks.

The letters were accompanied by about fifty photographs of the writers, according to Green. One of the letters was from a widow with half a dozen children. Green will remain in St. Louis several days. He denied a statement that his mother had retired or was about to retire from business.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Tonight Viola Allen will present at the Opera House what is perhaps the most interesting and important dramatic work that she has ever appeared in during her distinguished career as an actress. It is "The White Sister." The last play written by F. Marion Crawford, which he made from his book of the same name. The play, therefore, has a sentimental value, in addition to the interest in the work of a writer of international repute. A large and notable cast has been engaged by Messrs. Leiber & Co. to support Miss Allen. The part of Montsignor Saracinesca is in the hands of James O'Neill of "Monte Cristo" fame; that of Captain Severi in those of William Farrum; while Minna Gale, the one time leading lady of Booth and Barrett, has given to the stage upon a retirement of a decade and a half, will be seen as the Countess Chiaromonte. The other important roles have been assigned to Fanny Addison Pitt, Richie Ling, Edwin Barbour, Dwight Dana and Bella Chippendale.

"The White Sister" as a play differs from the book of the same title in many respects. The central theme, however, is much the same, presenting a dramatic conflict between love and duty in the case of a young girl who turns to the church for comfort upon receiving false reports of her soldier lover during an ill-fated African expedition only to meet him in the flesh after having taken religious vows. The setting of the first two acts on the desert grounds, especially that of the second act, which shows the elation of the young man's return to the management ample opportunities for elaborate stage effects. William Farrum, the well known composer, wrote the musical score for "The White Sister." A female chorus and several musicians are part of the company and are interpreters of the music of the concert. The scene music runs through the entire performance, and has been made to fit the sentiments of each scene.

"HAVANA." "Havana," the successful musical comedy in which James T. Powers will appear in this city tomorrow night, was originally written for George Edwards, who produced it at the Gaiety Theatre, London, where it ran for a long time. Mr. Edwards is the most successful producer of musical plays in the United Kingdom. When Mr. Powers was looking for a new play to succeed "The Blue Moon," he dropped into the Gaiety Theatre, London, one day to see "Havana." Although in the form he saw it, it would not do at all for America,

THEATRE VOYONS

PRIMROSE MINSTRELS

The "First Part" setting of the Primrose Minstrels is said to be a perfect gem in its way; white and gold are the pretty colors used towards an effect of genuine grandeur. The whole scheme utilized is one of massive scenic conception, and carries with it a fairly good idea of some of the ancient Roman palaces.

This magnificent background is further enhanced in effectiveness by the rich draperies and other picturesque furnishings that have been generously provided by Mr. Primrose, who prides himself on giving the proper atmosphere to his entertainment of so much novelty. The Primrose Show promises more than a little in the way of exceptionally fine singing at the Opera House next Friday, April 29, not forgetting the clever performance by the famous Ward Bros., who have arranged a special act of astonishing, as well as laughing importance.

A special added attraction for the engagements of the large New England cities is George Wilson of the famous Barlow, Wilson, Primrose & West. This is the first time that Primrose and Wilson have appeared together in nearly twenty years. Those two great artists need no introduction to theatre goers from ocean to ocean and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. Now won't it look good to you to see George Wilson on one "End" and George Primrose on the other? It should pack the theatre from "pit to dome."

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The Roosevelt pictures are still drawing admiring crowds to the Academy of Music, while the vaudeville offering is of the best. The sketch "Hubby's Dream" presented by MacCollin and Hall is a gem of mirth and melody. Rarely if ever has such an artistic piece of high class comedy been seen in a picture theatre. It is ought to be on the Keith time. Julia Tracey is making a host of friends by her clever work and the rest of the show is up to the standard. Amateurs tonight. Admission 5 and 10 cents.

Barto and McCue, the world's greatest exponent of physical culture, will present their athletic and acrobatic act which is one of the finest on the vaudeville stage today. It is an act distinctive in itself.

Carley Curious is one of the daintiest of dainty girls and a wonderful little dancer. She is styled "The Parisian Singer" and "Russian Dancer," introducing novelties which earn for her that title and which will attract a big house at every performance.

The pictures are all new and are personally selected by the manager.

PRINCETON CLUB

Held Minstrel Show and
Dancing Party

The Princeton club, an organization composed of young men who reside in Centralville, gave a minstrel show and dancing party in Associate hall last night. The excellent program and the manner in which it was carried out proved conclusively that there is plenty of good talent in the club.

The popularity of the members of the club was evidenced by the large attendance and the event proved a success both from a social as well as a financial standpoint.

The interior of the hall was prettily decorated with the club's colors, yellow and black. A new curtain, made of two large American flags, was seen for the first time last evening. This added greatly to the decorative feature.

The overture was carried out in a manner which reflects much credit on the young men and ladies who assisted them. Then came the songs which were so well received that it was necessary for each soloist to respond to an encore.

Andrew Doyle made a hit with "Meet Me Tonight in Dreamland," and John Payne gave "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?" in his own inimitable way. The refrain to the latter piece was given by the entire chorus. Miss Katherine French was loudly applauded after her rendition of "Laura Lee."

One of the hits of the evening was "I'm Going Home," by Joseph Furlong, but no one believed him. Miss Mae Delgann pleased the audience with her rendition of "I'm Glad I'm Irish."

Miss Ada Gordon gave that lively and useful rag-time selection "Wild Cherry Rag," and James Scamion rendered "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." Anthony Doyle's number was "Bumble Bee," a pretty conceit, and Miss Margaret McDonough, with the green spot light shining on her sang "Well Go Back to Erin Some Day, Mavourneen."

Miss Mabel Knight, who was one of the end "men," provoked laughter with her rendition of "You'll Come Back."

Herbert McKenzie gave "The Hat My Father Wore," and James Lyons, a tenor, sang pleasingly "Just Like a Rose."

Daniel Gray's song was "I Wish I Had

My Old Girl Back Again." A quartet composed of James Lyons, Fred Robert and Bert Lindsay, sang a brace of numbers that proved highly popular.

The performance closed with the stent song, "Bohemian," the entire company participating in it. The members of the chorus were: Misses Florence Nolan, Mayme Carroll, Mabel LeClair, Elizabeth Catterall, Joseph O'Brien, Margaret O'Brien, Mae McFarland, Nellie Hurley, Ina McCaskill, Harriet Clancy, Mamie McDonald, Mae Clark, Josie Shea, Lena Collins, Annie Russell, Marietta Gildee, Anna Kelley, Norah Slattery, Annie Breen, Agnes Kelley, Messrs. Charles Slowe, William Grant, Albert McKenzie, Thomas Ryan, Miles Thompson, Henry Johnson, Thos. Hubin, Harry McNeil, Arthur Monahan, Charles McGowan, Joseph Clark, Fred Powers, John McNulty, Edward McKinley, William Foye, Sidney McKenzie, James Monahan, Walter Foye, Thomas McGuane, Charles McKenzie, Charles Vidito, Frank Clarke, Frank Lescaur.

Charles D. Slattery, who has considerable reputation as a producer of entertainments, was largely responsible for last night's show. The orchestra was under the direction of Emil J. Borjes, George H. Donchue was a suave, dainty interlocutor.

Dancing was begun about 10:30 o'clock and was continued until midnight.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The North Chelmsford Choral society will give a grand concert in the Second Congregational church this evening, and a large number of Lowell people will attend. There will be a chorus of 40 voices, assisted by Mrs. Nano Gallagher Lehey, Mrs. Daisy Dunne, Mrs. Hanson, Mr. Arthur Booth, violin soloist; Miss Ethel A. Hinton, reader. Director of chorus, Mr. P. Pickett; organist, Mrs. A. Slattery; accompanist, Miss Helen Savage, Mr. Herbert Waterhouse.

WILL NOT BE ANNEXED

NEW YORK, April 27.—Annexation of Newfoundland either to the United States or Canada is a visionary project, according to Edward Morris, premier of the island, who expressed this view at a farewell dinner given in his honor by countrymen at the Hoffman house last night previous to his departure to attend the fisheries conference at The Hague.

TWO SPEEDY ATHLETES WHO WILL
SHINE IN ATHLETIC CARNIVAL

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—Great preparations have been made for the University of Pennsylvania's 16th annual relay race carnival to be held on Franklin field April 30. The contests will bring together the biggest and finest lot of college and scholastic athletes in the country to compete in a series of relay races and special events. Never before in the history of scholastic and collegiate sport has such a fine set of entries been received for any meet. Two hundred and twenty-three teams have sent word that they will be on hand to battle for honor and glory. One of the features of the meet is the magnificent entry list of colleges. Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Cornell, Syracuse, Dartmouth, Amherst, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Lafayette, Penn State, Pittsburgh and Virginia will all have representatives here. The one mile college championship seems to be the favorite event for the American athlete, and there will be no exception to the rule on April 30, for no less than nine colleges representing the entire country have entered. Chicago, the present champion, Michigan and Illinois, both of whom chased Stagg's men to the very finish last season; Pennsylvania, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Virginia and Dartmouth are the teams out for the honors. Michigan will rule the favorite, because she retains all of her last year's team, one that was then beaten only by two feet for the title. In Paul Penn has one big star of the meet, for he is the college record holder at 4 minutes 17 4-5 seconds for the mile. Great things are expected of Kirjassoff, Yale's star half miler.

THE MUNICIPALITIES

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM OTHER AMERICAN CITIES

Washington, D. C.—First steps toward placing permanent markers on historic sites within the District were taken at the New Willard hotel at a meeting of the committee to accomplish this work. W. P. Van Winkle is chairman of the committee, which was appointed by the commissioners. The committee is permanent in its character. It is expected that Independence day at least one or two prominent historic sites in the city will be marked with a suitable bronze tablet or some other equally permanent form of identification.

Chicago, Ill.—Electric theatres should be owned by the municipality for the purpose of improving the morals of our young, is the opinion of Chief of Police Steward, who made the suggestion to Ald. Bellows, of the Small Parks commission. The alderman will lay the matter before the proper administrative committee. Chief Steward believes in the educational value of the well-conducted five-cent theatre, but realizes the damage improper shows do. He explained the trouble in revoking licenses and said such things as proprietors permitting children to smoke cigarettes and otherwise misbehave behind the scenes would not be possible if he could get the theatres under his jurisdiction. The theatres ought to be established in the small parks, he says, and any adults should be charged the full five-cent price of admission. Children under 10 years of age one cent, or be admitted free. The chief thinks also that the theatres should be constructed of corrugated iron, so that they could be moved about and used for voting purposes or supplementary schoolrooms in the crowded districts.

PLAYGROUNDS IN HOLYOKE

Holyoke, Mass.—The city of Holyoke is taking the playground act most seriously, and Building Inspector Frank O'Connell, who is to be general supervisor of the playground activities, has already mapped out the season's campaign, which will begin the last of May. There are three large slating parks opened and maintained by the city during the winter time, each one of which will be used as a wading pool during the summer months. The total expended for the three was less than $50, and Mr. O'Connell points to the fact that no Holyoke children were drowned while skating the last season, although in previous years one or two drowning accidents always occurred, and often five or six. Prospect Park and Riverside Park were equipped with playground apparatus by the board of park commissioners previous to the passage of the playground act, and will be continued along the same lines as last season. Three new playgrounds will be fully equipped, located as follows: West street, in ward 1; Hampden street between Linden and Beech, and Maple street north of Cabot street. The equipment of each will include a small field, swimming pool, boys' outdoor gymnasium, girls' outdoor gymnasium, a room for dances and a wading pool. In addition there will be playground apparatus of a minor nature, such as sandboxes, swings, teeters, etc., at six of the schoolhouses, Highlands, South Chestnut, Elm street, Kirkland Park and Appleton streets. About $2,000 will be spent. It is estimated that between 2,000 and 4,000 children will be accommodated in pleasant weather. The $30,000 spent will be largely for permanent apparatus and grading, so that another year the bill will be but a fraction of the amount expended this year.

ABOUT CITY AUTOS

Minneapolis, Minn.—E. R. Dutton, assistant city engineer, was instructed by the City Council Ways and Means Committee to allow C. A. Thompson, city treasurer, to use the city mobile assigned to him for official business. The city treasurer will use it twice a month in distributing pay checks to city employees, thus saving the expense of $25 to $50 a month. It has often happened that the car assigned to the engineer was lying idle while other city officials were paying $4 an hour rent for automobiles for official business. Last year $400 was expended in automobile hire by the treasurer's office. At the last election the city clerk spent $269 for similar purposes.

RAG STORAGE IN CHELSEA

Chelsea, Mass.—Judge Bosson in the Chelsea police court has nullified the second effort of the board of control to regulate the storage of rags. The court held that the word "rag" as defined in the dictionary does not include new clippings "of worsted cloth serviceable for patching." One of the first things done by the board after the fire was to prohibit rag shops unless regulated by the chief of the fire department. Most of the rag dealers in Chelsea re-established their rag shops without a license, and in a case to test the validity of the ordinance the supreme court decided that the board of control had no right to delegate the power of licensing. When the board made its second ordinance Chelsea had almost as many rag shops as before the fire. It is probable that still another effort will be made to regulate the business.

News of a Great Purchase

Probably the largest purchase of unbleached sheetings ever made by a New England firm—outside the manufacturing corporations—was consummated by us a few days ago when we closed a deal with the Salvage company, on account of the underwriters, for nearly 250,000 yards of unbleached sheetings slightly damaged by the recent fire on the Clyde line steamship Onondaga while at her wharf in Boston Feb. 27. Before offering these goods for sale the insurance underwriters had the entire lot thoroughly dried and put in shape.

A special selling of greater proportions than Lowell has ever experienced—a sale which we anticipate will attract customers from all over New England—will soon be announced.

Dyspepsia and Nervouness

Entirely cured by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey after other medicines did her no good. Now Mrs. Houck recommends it to all her friends. She recently wrote:—

"Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done me so much good I intend to always keep it on hand. About two years ago when I was feeling all run down I consulted a physician. He pronounced my trouble a species of dyspepsia and nervousness. I had taken two bottles of other medicine and they had not helped me, when a friend recommended Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I am pleased to say that it has cured me entirely, and I do not hesitate to give it my indorsement. I shall recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey to all my friends."

—Mrs. Frances Houck, 423 E. Water St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Coming Big Fight Divides Interest With Baseball

By TOMMY CLARK.

PARAPHRASING an oft quoted line, the whole world loves a heavyweight fight for the championship. The coming battle between Jim Jeffries and John Johnson unquestionably has aroused more worldwide interest than any other fight ever staged. In the history of the world there have been several fights that were truly great. Nearly every one knows something about the great struggle be-

VIC WILLIS.

Manager Roger Bresnahan of the St. Louis Nationals is highly elated over the early showing of Vic Willis, whom he obtained from the Pittsburghs since the close of last season. In fact, Vic is now twirling as good ball as he ever did.

tween David and Goliath. Mythology chronicles the desperate battle between Hector and the invulnerable Achilles, and nearly every male child has heard of the Sullivan and Kilrain scrap. But not one of these can compare in point of interest with the Jeffries-Johnson mill. It is figured that the crowd that will cheer the winner at the Emeryville race track, Emeryville, Cal., on Independence day will be ten times as great as the mob that howled when Spartacus won the gladiatorial championship and as many times as great as the gang that saw Hector do his sprint around the walls of Troy before Achilles put him out.

Throughout the east, south, north and parts of the west special trains are being chartered to carry the enthusiasts of the different cities to the scene of the battle. But America is not alone interested in the big fight. The promoters have had orders for ringside seats from England and other parts of Europe, while even far-off Australia and India will be represented. Such enthusiasm is astonishing and has no parallel in the history of sports.

It will have a far-reaching effect, too, this scramble to get to the battle-ground. It will test the capacity and power of the railroads to the straining point and affect business in general.

Why? Because it is a battle between the greatest white pugilist against an equally great black man and a heavy-weight battle in which the outcome is in doubt.

There has been a lot of frenzied writing about the probable receipts, and some of the unthinking have estimated that $500,000 or even $1,000,000 will be taken in at the box office. It should be said that about $350,000 will cover the receipts very nicely.

They are saying that a full million will be bet on the result. A million is a lot of money, but there are many wise boys and luncheons who are quietly stowing away the dollars against the time when the betting begins to be lively, and it is possible that the aggregate of the wagers at the last will look like a picture of the national debt.

Is it not barely possible that retirement of all this coin to stakeholders' hands might bring on stringency, tight money and large uncertainty? This is not the financial editor's department, but it is humbly suggested that if the Jeffries-Johnson mill takes the money out of circulation, as some of the sport writers say it will do, the treasury experts had better arrange to have all the big prizefight transactions carried out by check.

At least it is wise to leave enough money in circulation to handle properly. We want no more clearing house certificates.

Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American league baseball club, says:

"To discontinue the present style of spikes would slow up the game. None of the substitutes that we have examined would have the effect of the old spikes. I admit that they are dangerous, but I think it would be better to adopt safeguards such as shin guards or something like that instead of doing away with the spikes. In my mind baseball is just fast enough, and we should take no chances of reducing that speed in any way."

Splendid! "Spikes are dangerous!" but what are a few crippled players more or less compared to the delight of a dashing steal to third base?

"Adopt safeguards, such as shin guards or something like that!" Shin guards would not slow up the game—not much more than molasses would the legs of a fly. "None of the substitutes would have the effect of the old spikes!" It is not necessary to give them a fair trial, but murderous spikes will be found where it belongs—in the ash heap.

Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Americans has the record for securing great players for almost nothing. Perhaps Eddie Collins, his star second was a financial disaster was made then that by which McGraw acquired Pitcher Rube Marquard and Durham for a total of $16,000, Marquard costing $11,000. Durham was hardly given a show-ero he was chased to Canada or some other distant wilds, while Marquard has that he is worth every cent paid for him.

There is some doubt in certain quarters as to whether the return of Johnny Kling to the Chicago Nationals' fold will add enough strength to give that team a chance to beat out Pittsburgh for the banner this year. It is argued that the Cubs were not weak behind the bat last season, that Archer did everything in the way of receiving that Kling could possibly have done and that the additional batting that Kling would bring will not be sufficient to make a material difference in the team's standing.

It is the opinion of the members of the Cubs, however—that is, of the veterans on the team—that the presence of Kling will make a great difference in the team because of his knowledge of the game and the fact that the players know his style and have a lot of confidence in him. One ball player often makes a wonderful difference in a team, and it may be that Kling is just the man to help the Cubs to another flag.

But to most persons who last year watched closely the Chicago team work it wasn't so much the want of a catcher that hurt the club as it was the inefficiency of the pitching department at the start of the year.

Frank Gotch, the world's heavyweight wrestler, may not have such an easy time with the gentleman whose name looks like a bunch of pled type, Zybisco, whom he is to meet in Chicago on May 14. Recently the Galician met Dr. Roller, the Seattle physician and crack wrestler, in Kansas City and threw him after a hard struggle. Next to Gotch, Roller is considered the best mat artist in America. In the recent contest the European showed that he possesses great defensive strength. It almost makes one believe that the failure of Gotch to throw him within an hour's time limit in Buffalo some time ago was not merely for exhibition and get the money purposes.

Zybisco has a neck about one thirty-second of an inch in height and as thick as a Norwich elm. In his bout with Roller nelson holds off him like rats off a slicker. He is so tremendous a man physically that he is very difficult to handle, and, while his own attack is weak as compared with Gotch's, he is a hard man to throw.

Gotch's toe hold will be needed to put this man on his back. At that he has broken this terrible punishing hold several times.

Have you stopped to consider that the new football rules practically mean that the quarterback is a thing of the past save in title? For several years the tendency has been to have a quarterback a player who stacks up about the average with the other backs in weight and height. Some teams have even had at quarter a man bigger and heavier than the other men back of the line. Now this is made compulsory. It is expected to turn out a good eleven. In the first place, there is no restriction that the man who first receives the ball from the center—or snapper back—must run five yards outside, before crossing the line of scrimmage. That does away with the necessity of playing a man directly back of center to receive the ball and pass it to the man selected to run with it.

Then there is a new rule allowing but four men back of the line of scrimmage, which minimizes interference and means the backs must rely largely on their own exertions. Obviously, all else being equal, the team that has three heavy and fast backs and one light and fast back is not going to be as well equipped for offense as the eleven that has four heavy and fast men back of the line.

It would not be surprising next fall to find all backs standing in a row about the same distance back of the line of scrimmage and with any of them receiving the leather, according to the signal called. Certainly the game has seen some radical changes.

Business End of a Circus

People on the Payroll and What It Takes to Feed Them and the Animals—Victor Herbert's Vision. Theatrical Landmarks.

MISS IDA CONQUEST.

Miss Ida Conquest, one of the favorite beauties of the American stage and an actress whose merits require no acclaim, is now playing a conspicuous role in Isen's "Little Egypt," of which Miss Nazimova is the star, at the new Nazimova theater in New York city. Miss Conquest's last appearance previous to the present was in "A Little Brother of the Rich."

sent its ludicrous features. Although humorously presented, "The Chanticleer" gets an advance notice, and in one of the big shows the homecoming of Colonel Roosevelt and Kermit is foreshadowed.

Aside from all this, the circus has a business end that will command the respect of business men and an organization that requires brains and capital.

One of the best known shows on the road requires eighty-nine railroad cars to transport it from point to point. Its list of performers and superintendents foot up to 1,300 men and women. It has

vas. This canvas means eighteen tents. The big tent seats nearly 16,000 people. Fifty ushers are employed to seat the audience. It feeds from its own eating tent more than 1,000 persons. The clerical force of press agents, stenographers, ticket sellers and gatekeepers number forty people. It carries a Red Cross department composed of a physician and surgeon and two assistants, a corps of trained nurses and a graduate pharmacist who has his stock of drugs. It also has a veterinary surgeon and several aids. It has its own harness shop, wagon shop and paint shop, employing in all fifty people.

An expert lawyer travels with the show. It is his business to adjust all legal complications, and these are more numerous than many suppose.

The show in question has 400 performers and fifty clowns, thirty-eight elephants and as many of the animal kingdom as can be captured and as will live in this climate. The feeding of these animals keeps several men who are posted in prices and food busy. It takes daily seven tons of hay, 200 bushels of oats, 150 bushels of corn, six tons of straw, fifty bushels of bran and two or three carcasses of beef for lions and tigers and 700 bushels of vegetables to satisfy the hunger of caged and uncaged animals that help to make up the big show.

In the cooking tent 200 pounds of beef are necessary daily for the people who feed in the tent. In addition, there is purchased every day 150 pounds of mutton, 200 pounds of pork, and on two days of the week 500 chickens are bought and prepared. Two hundred dozen eggs, 800 loaves of bread, a half barrel of sirup and ten barrels of apples, alternating with other fruits in season, are purchased every day. Canned goods are bought by the gross. It takes sixty waiters to serve the meals. A high salaried chef and eight assistants and a pastry cook and three assistants prepare the dishes.

It requires experts to arrange for the billing of the show, advertising it and conducting the publicity department. The staff that attends to these features must be men of education, judgment and energy. The treasurer of such an organization must of necessity be a man of business and of the highest character. He has several assistants who must likewise be men who are alert and accurate. The business end of a big show is prodigious. That's the word.

Victor Herbert's Vision.

When Victor Herbert was the leader of the Seventh regiment (N. G. N. Y.) band he gave concerts at a stated festival. The arrangement of the program was in the hands of a committee of ladies who knew their music. To him Herbert submitted a list of the names of the great composers. There was an left off—Simping! Sometimes the committee wrangled over Herbert's list except when they came to the name of Simping! His scherzo from the "Symphony in D" was never eliminated from the program. No member of the committee had ever heard of Simping! They simply knew his name was on the list, and they knew his music. "That was enough, plus the fact that he was a favorite with Herbert. Herbert was often asked to tell the story of his discovery, but he always shrugged his big shoulders when asked "Whence Simping?" He might have said and maybe he did say it in the words of one of the ancients, "The unknown is held to be gloriously impressive."

Came the time when Victor Herbert was a master of concert music and a composer of renown. They know him away out in some of the one night stands as well as he is known in the great cities. And how often has his orchestra played the fetching music of Simping! Still the question, "Whence Simping!," the favorite of Victor Herbert?

The spell is broken. There is no Simping! There never was a Simping!

The scherzo from the "Symphony in D" was a wonderful vision. It was a creation of the brain of Victor Herbert. Simping! is Victor Herbert, or vice versa, as you prefer.

Nibbling his luncheon and sipping his favorite vintage from the Rhine at the Lamb club the other day, he was asked about the truth of the story here written, and, with a blush in his face, the composer of the most popular concert music in this country confessed.

An Actress Who Bites.

Benrino (J. H.), who takes the part of Anton Schindler in the dramatic biography of Beethoven, which closes the season at the New theater, in New York city, has a scar on one arm which it is not necessary to exhibit, but he never will forget how he got it. He was the principal support of an actress whose name, like Benrino's scar, must remain under cover. She and Benrino had a little tiff before the curtain went up. Somewhere in one of the acts it was Benrino's place to smooth and admire the jeweled arm of the star. He went through his part all right, but just as he finished speaking his lines the star, whose part it was just then to caress the bared arm of Benrino, sank her pearly teeth into the flesh in a way not called for by the book. She drew the blood from Benrino's arm, and if he had not been an old actor he would have screamed with pain. Fortunately for him the curtain went down on the act. Benrino hurried to his dressing room, and the wound was bandaged by a physician who happened to be near by. In the subsequent parts of the play there was no occasion for the two to get close together. But the next day Benrino informed the manager that he would not go on that night unless the actress was muzzled. Meanwhile the talented lady had repented of her biting propensities, and a truce was declared. At the close of the season Benrino refused to be booked with the lady for the next season.

Playhouse Landmarks.

Old time playgoers who used to visit New York and such as continue to migrate that way occasionally will not find many familiar playhouses in the metropolis. Only three of these familiar old houses under their old names remain. The Academy of Music, Daly's and Wallack's continue as they were, and the Academy is soon to go into vaudeville. Of course there is the old house where Tony Pastor used to appear with that perennial smile, but as a theater proper it is no more, although it caters to people who like the continuous show. The Union Square that knew Stoddard, Charlie Thorne and Richard Mansfield, for it was in that house that Mansfield took his first step toward the heights, is plastered over with vaudeville signs.

The other day a new hand took hold of Wallack's. This is not the original Wallack's. The first was built in 1861 by James W. Wallack. It stood at the corner of Broadway and Thirtieth street. When its founder passed away he was succeeded by Lester Wallack, that finished actor and accomplished gentleman and one who always looked as if he had stepped out of the knightly creations of Walter Scott. He built the Wallack's still standing at Broadway and Thirtieth street. And what plays Lester Wallack brought out in this house! When he "slept with his fathers" the company scattered. Then the house, after some uncertain stages, passed to the management of A. M. Palmer, who had been the spirit of the old Union Square. In an unguarded moment Palmer rubbed out the name of Wallack and substituted his own. He might as well have written Ichabod over the lintel, for the house under his management failed, and the name of Wallack stood out again in its old place, a reminder of the man who made it famous.

Recently Charles Burnham got a lease of the house, and he ordered that the name of Wallack should remain so long as Burnham is the manager. So Wallack's it is—one of the few theatrical landmarks of the big city that old time visitors will recognize.

Four Cities in the Scheme.

New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston will each have a theater in which only European plays will be produced. The plan has been worked out in London by Charles Frohman, A. L. Erlanger and Henry W. Savage. The plan also will include European players, many of whom have never been seen in this country. In connection with this comes the announcement that a London manager is arranging to obtain a number of vaudeville houses in our northwestern states and contemplates erecting several theaters for this line in New York.

The Only Lillian.

The most alert press agent has to sit up late to work out a story about Lillian Russell that will get into type. It would be the extreme of ungallantry to intimate that encroaching years had anything to do with this case. But there have been so many. However, when one blows in from Iowa one is tempted to open the box. It happened at Sioux City. Maybe you have noticed that all Iowa stories are dated from Sioux City or Burlington, although Council Bluffs does butt in now and then.

The sleeping car in which the "airy fairy" was dreaming—gingers and actresses always dream—was on the side track, probably waiting for the freight to pass. A young man managed to reach the car of the manager of the company and asked him to arouse Lillian from slumber. The manager is reported to have said that Miss Russell always slept twelve hours and that was why she was always young (but sure that the manager did not overlook any Russell bets).

The late caller thought if Miss Russell was told that a young man who used to live in St. Charles, Ill., was writing to see her she would "shake off death's counterfeit." Just what connection there was between the sleeping beauty and the Illinois town the manager could not divine. But the night prowler sprang it. When he was a kid living in St. Charles—now St. Charles is a suburb of Chicago—Nell Leonard used to come to his mother's house. Nell Leonard was the family name of Lillian Russell. The kid's mother was noted all over town for making the best light bread, and she was an artist in anaesthetizing it over with molasses in a way that made the eaters have brighter visions than ever crept over a plantation negro when he was gazing the juiciest watermelon ever. Nell Leonard doted on the bread, sweetened molasses and often ran duge. Often—many a time, no doubt—she went home with the plantation treacle soured over her sunny face. The caller said as a kid he often led her home while Nell shooed the flies that swarmed about her molasses covered countenance. Maybe if the manager would whisper the recollection in the ears of Miss Russell she would arise like a spirit from a fountain. But the manager shook his head. Not even the vision of Nell Leonard (now Miss Russell) with sugary splashes on her face would move the managerial wretch. And the caller went away in the depths of the Iowa night, sorrowful, no doubt.

MISS MABEL HACKNEY.

Miss Mabel Hackney, in private life Mrs. Laurence Irving, is now playing the role of Julie to Mr. Irving's M. Dupont in Eugene Brieux's play, "The Three Daughters of Monsieur Dupont," at the Comedy theater, New York city. The theme of the play is the unhappiness caused by a typical marriage of convenience," due primarily to the mercenary selfishness of M. Dupont. There are three daughters, the principal being Julie.

Hippodromes in Cold Storage.

What becomes of the properties of a hippodrome after it has run its course in New York, for up to the present time only New York has had a hippodrome in this country? Just now there are four hippodromes stored away in the metropolis. These are to be utilized next season. Chicago is to have a hippodrome, and so is Philadelphia. The shows in storage in New York are to be unboxed and sent to the cities named. Not only are the properties to be shipped to new homes, but some of the people are also to go. Marcelline, for instance, who has been seen by nearly every child in Greater New York, as well as by many from out of town, is to "act" next season in Chicago. Marcelline has never been outside of New York in his funny business since the New York Hippodrome opened. As most people who have seen him know, he is an Englishman. He probably couldn't tell offhand whether Chicago is in Illinois or in

THREE OF THE PRINCIPAL CHARACTERS IN "THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER"

The three hundredth performance of "The Chocolate Soldier," the run of which production at the Casino theater, in New York city, has been unprecedented, will occur within a few weeks. On this occasion an intermezzo specially written by the composer, Oscar Straus, will be played for the first time. It is the opinion of those who have heard both that the intermezzo for "The Chocolate Soldier" surpasses the one in "Cavalleria Rusticana." # 6 O'CLOCK LARCENY CHARGED

Man is Accused of Stealing a Coat

Clifford Dussault was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on complaints charging him with drunkenness and indecent exposure. He pleaded guilty and the court finding him guilty sentenced him to six months in jail on the charge of indecent exposure, the case of drunkenness being placed on file.

Case Continued
Julia Toney and Charles Menz were charged with drunkenness, but owing to the fact that another complaint will be made against the couple, the cases were continued till tomorrow morning.

Charged With Larceny
Frank Stone, charged with the larceny of a coat valued at $5, the property of Ellen Carney was given a trial but the disposition of his case was continued till tomorrow morning. According to the testimony the complainant lives at 20 Appleton street and it is alleged that yesterday someone entered her house and after drinking all the milk which was in the ice chest stole a half pound of pork and then took the coat.

Mill Trouble Aired
Melville Roney of 165 Market street and George Pappas had trouble about 1.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon near the gates of the Tremont & Suffolk mills and both men were arrested, but after the pair was brought to the police station and the story told Roney was released and a charge of assault and battery was preferred against Pappas.

It seems that Roney was desirous of going to work, but owing to some difficulty among the men employed in the mill Pappas tried to prevent the man from entering. There was an exchange of blows and Roney came out second best in the argument.

Pappas was fined $20, to be paid within three days or go to jail for three months.

Sent to Jail
Katherine O'Malley, who was suffering from the effects of liquor, was taken out of a house at 25 Bridge street last night by Patrolman David Petrie and this morning was sentenced to one month in jail.

Drunken Offenders
Michael J. Burns, while under the influence of liquor, yesterday afternoon, smashed a pane of glass in a store in Middlesex street and after settling for the glass came back looking for his money. He was arrested, and this morning the suspension of his driver's license to the state farm was revoked.

Michael Connors was also sentenced to the state farm.

James Whelan paid a fine of $6, and five first offenders were fined $2 each.

END OF TRAINING SCHOOL

Selection of Teachers Left in Hands of Eight Grammar Masters

New Fangled Rule for Selection of Teachers

Some of the Oldest Masters Left Out of the Arrangement

The training school in Charles street has been abolished and a new board of supervisors has been elected.

This was all done at a meeting of the school committee held last night. The motion came as a surprise and was presented by Edmund T. Simpson.

Miss Gertrude Edmund has been principal of the training school for about fourteen years, and the abolition of the training school means that Miss Edmund's services will cease with the expiration of the June term.

Hereafter Lowell's public school teachers will be named by a board of supervisors, comprising eight masters of grammar schools, all applicants to be graduates of normal schools or colleges.

The new board of supervisors elected includes the following: Frederick A. Wood, Greenhatch school; Charles W. Morey, Highland school; Calvin W. Burbank, Edson school; Henry H. Harris, Varian school; Herbert D. Bishop, Bartlett school; James L. Melvin, Lincoln school; John E. Bart, Washington school; Albert L. Bachelor, Green school.

In submitting the motion for the abolition of the training school, Mr. Simpson said:

"I believe that the Training School under its present plan of operation is not the most satisfactory method of selecting our teachers, for the reason that it has relieved the grammar masters of the privilege and the duty of selecting teachers for their several schools. Its greatest weakness has been with respect to the separation of the power and responsibility insofar as the grammar masters have been concerned. At present teachers are assigned to schools without regard to their fitness for the position, and the highest and best of the grammar masters, and sometimes without their approval. It is self-evident, therefore, that any attempt to better the school system must have for its foundation the elevating and the dignifying of the position of grammar master, and that any plan to remedy the existing situation must give to the grammar master large powers in the selection of his teachers. Whatever plan is consummated, the grammar master must, in the last analysis, be the judge of the fitness of candidates for the positions in his schools and be responsible for their selection. This is fundamental and cannot be changed by any condition. Assuming that each master should be held responsible by the school board for the character and the intellectual and professional capacity of his teachers, a system must be devised which shall bring it within the power of the master, acting under competent advice, to secure suitable teachers for his school.

"I believe the following plan will meet these conditions. That it will provide for the selection of approved teachers for the schools of Lowell, furnish a regular substitute list, and put in the power where only the responsibility has hitherto rested—with the grammar master—where both belong."

Mr. Simpson's motion became a unanimous vote, the only member not voting being Mr. Mahoney, who was absent.

Mr. Simpson then pointed out the new rules and the amendments to the old rules made necessary by the abolition of the training school.

The new rules governing the selection of teachers by the board of supervisors as read and adopted, are as follows:

Chapter 2, section 11. A board of supervisors, consisting of eight grammar masters together with the master of the high school, whose tenure of office shall be permanent is hereby organized by the school board.

Duties: Section 12. This board, with the superintendent of schools, shall furnish the members of the school committee with expert information as to the fitness of teachers for the schools at any time and give expert advice as to improving the same.

At the present time, as well as for all future time, the principal duty of the members shall be the selection of teachers for filling vacancies in the high grammar and primary schools. They shall also fill the specific vacancies which exist, subject to the changes as found advisable for adoption by the board.

Chapter 4, section 40. About Oct. 1 of each year, the superintendent shall issue a public advertisement, announcing that during the first week of the June next following, a public examination of applicants for Lowell teachers' certificates of the third grade will be held in Lowell and stating the number of applicants likely to be chosen. Persons to be eligible to take these examinations must be graduates of normal schools or colleges, must have had at least one year's successful experience in teaching, attested to in writing by the superintendent under whom they have worked, said attestation to be presented at the time of taking the examination. All applicants must sign their intention of taking the examination by notifying the superintendent of schools in writing by November 15th next following the issuance of the public notice, at which time the list will be closed and no new names added.

Section 41.—The superintendent of schools shall assign to each member of the board of supervisors a partial list of names of the applicants.

It shall then be the duty of each member of the board of supervisors to visit each of the applicants assigned to him and report in writing to the superintendent the result of such visit.

No applicant, whatever be her qualifications, shall be admitted to examination until the visiting members of the board find sufficient of her qualifications.

Section 12. The examination shall be conducted by the superintendent of schools and the board of supervisors. All questions for these examinations shall be prepared by some school department other than that of Lowell, and the papers of applicants, identified by number only—not by name—shall be sent by mail or express to the framers of the questions for correction, and they shall later return the corrected papers with the list of numbers arranged in order, beginning with the highest and going to the lowest.

Section 13. The successful candidates having been chosen, they shall be assigned to certain of the grammar and primary schools—to be changed from time to time—as permanent substitutes for one year, where they will work under the observation of the visiting members of the board.

The total amount turned in by the young women collectors, yesterday, "Guild day," for the benefit of the milk station in Market street was $1848.25.

The envelopes according to the program—were taken to the Lowell Institution for Savings in Shattuck street, and were not turned in until evening.

There are six envelopes to be turned in that could not be collected yesterday. If you missed the fair canvassers and feel disposed to give to the milk station fund the Guild will appreciate it if you will turn your offering in at the Lowell Institution for Savings in Shattuck street.

Yesterday the regular staff of the Lowell Institution for Savings was recruited by expert counters from other banks and the work was done quickly and well.

The sums in the envelopes ranged all the way from one cent to ten dollars, and one envelope contained a check for $25. The men who did the counting were: E. B. Carney, J. E. Gibson, W. P. Butterfield, A. J. McKim, L. H. H. Boardman, Marcus T. Pierce, C. Frank Butterfield, James Walsh, E. F. Lamson and Chas. O. Allen.

GREAT MEETING
Of Confederate and Union Soldiers

CHICAGO, April 27.—Reminiscences of the Civil war were renewed at Gallena, Ill., today, in one of the most remarkable gatherings of former Confederate and Union soldiers held since the close of the war. Hundreds of former associates of General U. S. Grant from every part of the United States gathered at the former home of the dead warrior and statesman to celebrate the 8th anniversary of his birth.

An interesting feature of the celebration was the fact that the orator of the day—Col. James Hamilton Lewis—was the son of one of the Confederate generals who surrendered to General Grant. In the audience were hundreds of former soldiers who bore arms against General Grant during the war. General Frederick Dent Grant was present, and he was the first to violate his fixed rule not to take part in the celebration in honor of his father and went to Gallena today.

rious members of the board of supervisors, who will be able to determine during that time with reasonable accuracy their exact fitness for filling vacancies that may occur.

Section 44. After one year's successful service as permanent substitutes, the applicants shall go on the regular reserve list of teachers, and a new class, larger or smaller according to the desire of the school committee, shall be chosen to take their places.

Section 45. In the event of a vacancy, the master in whose district it occurs shall name the most available person, in his judgment, from the reserve list to fill that particular vacancy and, subject to the vote of the board of supervisors, she shall be recommended to the school committee for immediate election.

Section 46. (a) All graduates of the Lowell Training school shall preserve their standing and shall be given employment before anyone holding a Lowell teachers' certificate under the above plan.

The abolition of the training school does not mean that instruction in that school will be discontinued, but it means that prospective teachers will not be received in the school after the June term. The teaching force will not be disturbed with the exception of Miss Edmund, who holds the position of principal.

On motion of Edward T. Goward a vote of sympathy was extended to Craven Midgley upon the recent death of his wife.

The resignations of Grace Ward of the high school and Alice Leach of the Riverside school were read and accepted with a vote of thanks for faithful service given. Johanna Hoar, asked for leave of absence until 1911, and it was granted.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians wanted to have the high school hall for a banquet in June, but some of the members thought this would be establishing a bad precedent. The matter was referred to a subcommittee.

The estimated cost of the building is $30,000 and that amount will have to be forthcoming before anything is done. The matter will go to the city council at an early date.

The new building would provide stalls for 48 horses, 45 ordinary and two box stalls, and that would accommodate not only the horses of the health department that are now being housed and fed in the city yard but it would also make room for the horses that are now being cared for at the city stables at the cost of $25 a month to the city. These are driving horses and are used by heads of departments and bosses.

AN AUTOPSY
PERFORMED ON THE BODY OF GEORGE LEWIS

An autopsy on the body of George Lewis, who was found dead in a vat in the pickling house of the American Hide & Leather Co., Monday morning, was held last evening at the warehouses of Charles H. Molloy & Sons in Market street and the examining surgeons came to the conclusion that there was no evidence of foul play present.

The autopsy was performed by Medical Examiner Joe V. Meigs, Dr. Boyden H. Pillsbury and Dr. M. A. Long. At the conclusion of the examination it was stated that there was no evidence of drowning, and that the man died as a result of a fracture—dislocation of the cervical vertebra, or a broken back. Abrasions were found, however, on face and head.

It was positively stated that there was no evidence of murder, and that the injuries which the body showed the man sustained, might easily have been received in the vat where the man was found.

YOUNG FAMILY OFFICERS CHOSEN

Identified Remains of At Meeting of Andover Mother Angel Association

SALT LAKE CITY, April 27.—For almost two years the bones of Brigham Young's first mother-in-law, Mother Angel, have lain unclaimed at the Salt Lake police headquarters. They were identified today by members of the Young family who have been hunting them for years and will be placed in a vault prepared for them long ago in Brigham Young's private cemetery.

This peculiar circumstance results from the early custom of interring bodies near their former homes. Mother Angel was buried in this manner and when the deceased members of the Young family were gathered in one cemetery her grave could not be found. J. W. Young, a son of Brigham, a well known railroad promoter, spent considerable money in digging through the block where Mrs. Angel had lived, but all hope of finding the grave was given up. The bones which he at the police station were discovered in June, 1908, by workmen excavating for a new carriage factory on South Hall avenue.

Remember, the last professional minister show in Lowell was a disappointment. Moral: See the Bachelors' show, Friday, Associate hall.

HELD THE ANNUAL MEETING IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 27.—Members of the Associated Press met at the Waldorf-Astoria yesterday for the 11th annual meeting. The attendance, in point of numbers was the largest ever gathered at a similar meeting.

After the reading of the various committee reports elections were held to fill seven vacancies in the board of directors. The voting resulted in the election of the following: Clark How, D. Atlanta Constitution; Charles W. Jenapp, St. Louis Republic; V. C. McCleary, Sacramento Bee; Albert J. Park, Pittsburgh Post; Charles Hopkins Clark, Hartford, Conn.; Frank B. Noyes, Washington Star; A. C. Weiss, Duluth Herald.

The two last named were elected to fill the vacancies created by the death of Rufus N. Rhodes of the Birmingham News and by the resignation of Chas. J. Gracy of the Baltimore Sun.

In addition the following were elected as members of the advisory board of the four divisions of the Associated Press:

Central division—Charles A. O'Leary, Cleveland News, chairman; H. M. Jindell, Peoria Journal, secretary; John C. Eastman, Chicago Journal; Gardner Cowles, Des Moines Register and Leader; Frank E. MacLennan, Kansas State Journal, secretary; John R. Rona, Charlotte Evening Chronicle; Robert Badling, New Orleans States, members' nominating committee; W. J. Crawford, Memphis Commercial Appeal; P. A. Stovall, Savannah Press.

Western division—W. H. Cowles, Spokane Spokesman-Review, chairman; R. A. Crothers, San Francisco Bulletin, secretary; L. N. Stevens, Pueblo Chieftain; E. T. Pearl, Los Angeles Express; W. W. Chapin, Seattle Post Intelligencer, members' nominating committee; Charles W. Hornick, San Francisco Call; Alden J. Berber, Seattle Times.

29th Century Bachelor Club, Friday.

The annual spring meeting of the Andover association, formerly called the "Andover Conference," of Congregational churches and ministers, was held yesterday, afternoon and night. In the first church, Mr. Andrew Sutherland of Lawrence was moderator.

Officers and committee were elected as follows:

Secretary for the fall meeting, Rev. F. H. Greer, alternate, Justin E. Varney of Lawrence. Place of meeting, South church, Lawrence.

Committee on work of the churches, Rev. F. R. Shipman, Rev. E. C. Davis, L. A. Olney.

Advisory committee, (additional members), Rev. J. L. Keedy, W. D. Bartleson.

Committee on systematic giving, Rev. A. F. Daniels, Rev. W. E. Wolcott, L. H. Thompson, Andrew Sutherland, Judge W. P. Frye.

Second Secretary, Rev. O. H. Gates (re-elected).

Delegate to state association, Professor W. H. Ryder; alternate, Rev. D. A. Walker.

Delegates to national council, Rev. O. H. Gates, Rev. B. A. Wilcott, William Shaw; alternates, Rev. Arthur Barber of Lawrence, Rev. F. A. Wilson of Andover, A. C. Russell of Lowell.

The following were appointed a special committee on new work among foreigners, J. E. Varney, Rev. J. L. Keedy, Rev. George F. Keenigott, Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, Arthur W. Colburn.

The committee on ministerial standing reported progress toward the consummation of the transfer. This session that this association will confer for the ministerial candidates rather than the ministerial association.

One hundred delegates were reported, and at the supper which followed the afternoon session, 175 were present.

Rev. L. E. Victor Bigelow led the devotional exercises at the opening of the evening session. There were several musical selections by the chorus choir of the First church, led by Mr. Frank R. Murphy.

We invite criticism, Bachelor Club.

To Cost $30,000 is Planned at City Yard

The public buildings department has plans for a stable 210 by 40 feet, to take the place of the old shacks in the yard of health yard in Broadway. These buildings have been an eyesore and a nuisance for a long time and a new building which would extend from Broadway to Cross street would make a big improvement in that section, besides bringing about a saving that would in time mean a great deal to the city.

The estimated cost of the building is $30,000 and that amount will have to be forthcoming before anything is done. The matter will go to the city council at an early date.

The new building would provide stalls for 48 horses, 45 ordinary and two box stalls, and that would accommodate not only the horses of the health department that are now being housed and fed in the city yard but it would also make room for the horses that are now being cared for at the city stables at the cost of $25 a month to the city. COTTON POOL INVESTIGATION
WASHINGTON, April 27.—In view of the adverse comment made on the action of the department of justice in directing an investigation by the grand jury of New York into the alleged cotton pool, Attorney General Wickham today made this formal statement:

"The action of the government in instituting the investigation before the grand jury in New York concerning an alleged cotton pool should not in any way be construed as an attack on legitimate operations of any of the cotton or produce exchanges in the United States.

The proceeding, being one before a grand jury and not yet completed, manifestly cannot with propriety be discussed at the present time."

ENTERTAINED AT HARVARD
CAMBRIDGE, April 27.—The German ambassador to the United States, Count Von Bernstorff who is here to speak at the meeting of the Bostoner Deutsche Gesellschaft tonight, was given a luncheon at Harvard today in the German Museum Association of which Prof. Hugo Munsterberg is president. After luncheon he was shown the site of the proposed new German museum.

PRIZE OF $50,000
LONDON, April 27.—Another Graham White's not Louis Pauw's aeroplane was ready for the promised flight to Manchester for the $50,000 prize this forenoon. It is possible that it will be made later in the day.

The plans call for a brick building, two stories high and modern in all its equipment and appointments. The end of the building where the stalls are located would be 138 by 40 feet. There would be a carriage house and wash room 18x10; blacksmith shop 20x10, carpenter shop 10x10 and a space 15x10 that would be divided into harness rooms, offices, toilet rooms, etc. These of course would be on the lower floor.

The hay dept. would be over the stable and over the carriage house would be a room for the driver and small dry room. These rooms would be supplied with all the necessary accommodations for the teamsters. Over the carpenter room there would be a lumber room and over the administration part, so called, there would be an office and drying room.

Inspector How says that the stable is badly needed and he allows the building would effect a saving that would soon wipe out the cost of construction. The old shacks now used by the board of health in its yard, he says, are unfit for use and a menace to public safety.

FECITT SISTERS

Resisted Deportation From This Country

BOSTON, April 27.—Steamship Megantic of the White Star line, Capt. Smith, sailed from Boston docks at noon yesterday for Liverpool and Queenstown with the largest list of saloon passengers taken to England this season. On board were 110 saloon passengers, 100 second cabin and 200 steerage, and 10 deportees.

Elizabeth, Louise and Lily Feclit, sisters, who arrived from Louth, Eng., on the Megantic as second cabin passengers, were among those sent back. When they were examined upon their arrival all three were intoxicated. They were going to New Bedford to work in a mill, but the board of special inquiries before whom they were examined decided that they were likely to become public charges and they were ordered deported.

LATEST THE RUSSELL CASE

Move Made That May Open Up Contest Again

CAMBRIDGE, April 27.—There was another turn in the legal machinery of the famous Russell case with the filing today of an appeal to the supreme court from the decision of the probate court in throwing out the claims of a North Dakota ranchman for a share in the property of the late Daniel Russell of Melrose. The petitioner, who had a six months' hearing in an effort to prove his identity, now asks the supreme court to say that he is Daniel Russell and entitled to half the real estate. It is expected that there will be a strenuous contest over the question whether the case shall be reopened before a jury or before a single judge. This question must be settled by one of the justices of the supreme court, sitting this county.

INDICTMENTS AGAINST COLEMAN

BOSTON, April 27.—Additional indictments in the grand jury investigation of the closed National City bank of Cambridge were returned today against George W. Coleman, the former bookkeeper, and W. J. Keilher of Boston through whom Coleman says he lost the greater part of the $250,000 trying to break a fare bank. Coleman was re-indicted in ten counts for misapplying $49,000 of the funds of the bank by means of checks made out to J. Thomas Reinhardt & Co. of this city and New York. Keilher, who was arrested on a court warrant on Friday last and released yesterday on $25,000 bail, was indicted for aiding and abetting Coleman in the misapplication of the funds of the bank. Coleman's trial has been set for May 10, but no date has as yet been assigned for the Keilher trial.

POISONED WHISKEY CASES

KINGSTON, R. I., April 27.—The case of T. J. Bannon, a Westerly druggist, charged with maintaining a liquor nuisance in connection with the 14 sudden deaths in that city and surrounding towns within the last few weeks, believed to have been caused by drinking whiskey containing wood alcohol, was continued today by Judge Tanner in the Washington county superior court until the third Monday in September. The continuance was necessitated by the death of the father of Attorney John Sweeney, counsel for the defense.

MORE STRIKEBREAKERS ARRIVE

GREENVILLE, R. I., April 27.—The arrival at noon today of five more strike breakers accompanied by six deputy sheriffs at the mills of the Stillwater Worsted-Co. where a hundred weavers are out on strike, added a little color to the situation but no riotous demonstration followed. A committee of strikers will meet Rustin T. Levy of New York, the owner of the mills, later in the day, and it is believed that overtures towards ending the strike may be made.

PLEADED GUILTY

DEDHAM, April 27.—Upon his plea of guilty, Clarence Dadmun, former tax collector of Wellesley, was sentenced to a term of three to five years in state prison for the larceny of between $7000 and $8000 of the town's funds by Judge Hitchcock in the Norfolk county superior court here today. Dadmun was indicted on thirty counts charging larceny in sums ranging from $160 to $250 during 1906 and 1909. It was stated today that Dadmun made an agreement with his creditors under which he turns over to their use all of his property. By this agreement the creditors, it is expected, will receive about 50 per cent. of their claims against Dadmun.

WARRANT ASKED

For the Arrest of a —Millionaire

BEVERLY, April 27.—Sumner E. Glines, a well-known Beverly politician, has requested a warrant for the arrest of Dr. John C. Phillips, a millionaire resident of Wenham, on charges of assault and battery. Glines alleges that last night, Dr. Phillips, who is a brother of William Phillips of the United States embassy in London, called at his home in this city, after a heated discussion assaulted him in his own house.

Glines, who is 60 years of age, claims he was roughly handled by Dr. Phillips and finally to save himself from a beating ordered the physician out of his house. The trouble between Glines and the physician arose over the question of revoking the permits to fish in Wenham Lake. Wenham Lake furnished the water supply for Beverly and Salem and comes under the control of the Salem water board. There has been constant discussion as to the granting of permits for fishing privileges for some time and last Friday night the Salem water board granted a hearing to those interested. Glines, who has been twice candidate for mayor of Beverly, appeared in favor of granting the permits. In the course of his remarks Mr. Glines referred to Dr. Phillips as "an embryo doctor," whereat Dr. Phillips became indignant and grew wrathful. He went to Glines' home and after being admitted to the parlor, according to Glines' story, began to abuse his venerable opponent by profane remarks and otherwise.

LEGAL CONTEST

Over Strip of Unimproved Land

BOSTON, April 27.—One of the most valuable strips of unimproved land in Massachusetts, a 10-acre lot of swamp and marsh lying between the large estates of Washington B. Thomas, Robert S. Bradley and Gordon Dexter in Beverly Farms, and situated on the finest continuous stretch of water front in the Bay State, became a matter of legal contention in the supreme judicial court yesterday. Although this land grows neither grass nor trees and is itself of no value, it is highly attractive to the eye when scattered bushes and sand which, if situated other than it is, could hardly command a price of $5 an acre. Mr. Bradley applied to the court to compel Edward B. Haven and Mary H. Haven, trustees of the Haven estate, to deliver to him a good deed of the property in return for a consideration of $70,000. Mr. Bradley claims to have a valid agreement to purchase from the heirs. Mr. Bradley contends that Reginald Boardman was the agent of the Havens with authority to sell the land for the price which he is anxious to pay. The Havens deny that Boardman was ever authorized to make a definite offer of the land, and that no memorandum sufficient to satisfy the statute of frauds was ever made. Judge Rugg has reserved his decision in the case.

TAORMINA ARRESTED

BOSTON, April 27.—The local police learned today of the arrest in Chicago of Salvatore Taormina who is wanted in this city on a charge of obtaining $20,000 from sixteen wholesale furniture dealers by false pretenses. It is claimed that Taormina purchased the goods, gave checks which afterwards proved worthless, shipped the goods to Chicago and then disappeared.

THURSDAY IS BARGAIN DAY IN THE LOWELL STORES.

BONES OF HUMAN BODY

ROCKLAND, Me., April 27.—The Penobscot bay tragedy of August, 1908, in which the lives of seven young people belonging in Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Mount Holyoke and Bangor were lost by the capsizing of a yacht, was recalled today when a number of bones of a human body which had been brought up by their scullop drags in ten fathoms of water, one mile west-northwest of Northwest harbor, Deer Isle. The bones included what appeared to be a skull, a rib, thigh and leg bones. These gruesome reminders were recovered within two miles of the scene of the accident. All of the bodies of victims were not recovered at the time of the accident.

COOLIES LEAVING PEKING

PEKING, April 27.—Reports of the rioting in Hunan province, though suppressed by the native papers, have been received here and caused unrest among the servants and coolies who are said to be leaving Peking in large numbers because of whisperings that an uprising in this city will occur. The local authorities give assurance that there is not the slightest danger of an outbreak here.

THE LANGFORD FIGHT

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—One of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a boxing match in the National A. C. in this city will be on hand tonight to witness the six round fight between Sam Langford, the Boston negro, and Stanley Ketchell of Grand Rapids, Mich. There is practically no betting on the outcome chiefly because under the laws of Pennsylvania prize fighting is prohibited and therefore no decisions are rendered by the referees of boxing bouts. Both fighters are declared to be in condition to go any distance. Added interest is lent to the fight because it is expected the winner of tonight's contest will probably be looked on as the logical man to meet the fighter who will win the world's championship at Buncyville on July 4.

FUNERALS

SWETT.—The funeral of Miss Laura S. Swett took place yesterday afternoon from her residence, 50 Pine street. The services were conducted by Rev. Ransom A. Greene, D. D., pastor of the Grace Universalist church. A delegation was present from the Highland Union lodge, 21 Daughters of Rebekah. The bearers were Cyrus P. Blood, Frank H. Haynes, Charles H. Philbrick and Walter P. Wiley. Burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery, in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

PRECOURT.—Miss Helena Precourt, formerly of this city, died Monday at her home in Arctic, R. I. Miss Precourt had resided here for nearly all her life, before removing a year ago to Arctic, and counted a great many friends here, being a woman of a sweet disposition and fine character. She leaves four sisters, Mrs. Azilda Trique, Mrs. Raymond Geoffrey, Miss Amanda Precourt and Miss Jennie Precourt, of Arctic, all formerly of this city and one brother, Anselme Precourt of the west.

DONOVAN.—With solemn impressive services held at St. Patrick's church, this morning, the mortal remains of the late Cornelius Donovan were consigned to their final resting place in the Catholic cemetery. The obsequies were attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends of deceased, who was widely known, including a number from out of town. Among the latter were Miss Minnie Healy of New York City, and Mrs. Thomas Barry of Haverhill. On all sides were apparent the sorrow for the deceased and sympathy for the bereaved family. The service was held in the large cortege that left the house, No. 42 Centre street, and proceeded to the church, where at 9 o'clock a mass of requiem was sung by Rev. John McHugh. The choir, under the direction of Mr. Michael J. Johnson sang the Gregorian mass, the solemn requiem, and the Kyrie. Mr. E. Murphy and Andrew McCarthy, Mr. Johnson presiding at the organ.

There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes including a large pillow inscribed "Our Connie," from the family; large wreath on base inscribed "Donovan," from Margaret and Eugene Donovan; large wreath on base inscribed "Farewell, Connie," from Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Donovan; spray of calla lilies inscribed "Uncle," from Barbara Agatha Donovan; large wreath from the Healy family of New York, cousins of deceased; wreath on base, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Donovan; large standing cross inscribed "At Rest," from Cutting Room of Phillips' Shoe Shop; large pillow inscribed "At Rest," from employees of Lowell postoffice; large standing cross, from Jolly Campers; mammoth cross inscribed "Connie," from the local baseball associates; large wreath from Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hession and family; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McCutcheon; spray, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilson; spray, Miss Julia Driscoll; cross, Mrs. F. A. Flather and Mrs. F. E. Dunbar; wreath, Eugene F. Moorey; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Richard spray, Martin McGuire; mammoth basket, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Weller. The bearers were Thomas E. Smith, Timothy Reardon, Denis Hallissy, John Redding, Florence Murphy, George Doran, William Looby, and Patrick Crowley. At the grave Rev. T. S. McHugh read the committal prayer and the burial was in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

McGURR.—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Conway McGurra took place from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Conway, 215 Church street, this morning, at 8.45 o'clock, and a solemn high mass of requiem was sung at St. Peter's church at 9 o'clock, with Rev. John O'Brien as celebrant. Rev. W. George Mullin as deacon, and Rev. J. J. Heffernan as sub-deacon. The choir sang the Gregorian mass, Mrs. J. W. McKennedy presided at the organ. The bearers were Messrs. John P. Conway, Thomas Conway, William E. Conway, James W. McGuire, Owen L. McGuire, Richard C. McGuire, all relatives of the deceased. The burial took place in the Catholic cemetery, where Rev. John O'Brien read the committal prayer. The floral pieces were beautiful and costly and showed the esteem in which the deceased was held. Among them were the following: A large pillow of roses, pinks and lilies, with the inscription "Dear Wife and Mother," from the husband and children; a large pillow inscribed "Sue," from the parents, brothers and sisters; a pillow inscribed "Auntie Sue," from May and Lena Conway; a large standing cross on base from the Higelow Co., Amherst Threading and Ingrain; Warr rooms; large wreath from A. A. Conway and family; spray of tulips from Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bielen and daughter; large mound from Miss Alice Plimpton; large standing wreath on base surmounted by a white dove with the word "Farewell," from Mr. and Mrs. J. Crawford; standing cross on base with the words on white ribbon "There is sweet rest in Heaven," from Frank, Owen and Edward McGurra; star on base marked "Sue," from Mrs. and Mrs. Thomas Conway; wreath standing on base, from Mr. and Mrs. James W. McGuire; sprays from the following: Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Snodgrass, James and Lena Kelly, Miss E. H. Conter, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sweeney, Miss M. Reynolds, and Mrs. O'Connor, all of Claremont, N. H.; Mrs. James McManmon, Parker Avenue school, Miss D. F. Briscoe and Mr. and Mrs. D. Connors of Plymouth, Mass. The burial was in charge of Undertaker John J. O'Connell.

KEEFE.—The funeral of Mrs. Agnes M. Keefe took place this morning from her late home, 324 Stevens street, at 8.45. Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Peter's church at 9.45. Rev. Fr. Burns being celebrant, Rev. Fr. Mullin deacon, Rev. Fr. Heffernan sub-deacon. The choir sang the Gregorian mass, Mrs. Josephine Kennedy presided at the organ. The bearers were Frederick Rieck, William Mullin, John Myron, Patrick Donaghy, John Keegan and Dennis L. Keefe, Jr. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery and Rev. Fr. Burns read the committal prayer. Undertaker Peter H. Savage had charge of the funeral.

Among the many beautiful floral tributes were: a pillow inscribed "Wife and Mother," from husband and children; a pillow on base inscribed "Rest," from Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Barrett and Mrs. M. A. Corcoran; wreath on base, Miss Nellie Crowley; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Comerford; large basket, the Misses Margaret, Ellen and Mary Haggerty; wreath, Miss Katherine McGurra; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Keefe and family; wreath inscribed "Aunt Agnes," James Masters; spray, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Griffiths, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Keefe, Jr., Mary McPaul, Stephen Johnson, Robert Johnson, William Johnson, Daniel Crowe and Frederick Crowe.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

Because of Epidemic of Scarlet Fever

SOMERVILLE, April 27.—The public schools of this city were closed today because of an epidemic of scarlet fever. There are now about 70 cases of the disease in the city, 54 having developed since last Saturday. Physicians attribute the epidemic to the milk supply.

The school authorities thought that the closing of the schools might prevent further spread of the epidemic. The annual spring vacation begins on Friday next and continues until May 15, by which time, it is expected, 12,000 children are affected by the school board's decision.

Gold given away, Assoc., tonight, 26c.

ARMY VS. YALE

WEST POINT, N. Y., April 27.—The army baseball team faced Yale for its annual game with more confidence than would be warranted alone by the many defeats the New Haven players have given the soldiers in years past. But Hyatt, the West Point pitcher, has acquitted himself so well this year that the army players expect to give the college the hardest fight of their career. The game was scheduled for 4 o'clock.

RECEPTION TO KITCHENER

SOUTHAMPTON, April 27.—Field Marshal Lord Kitchener arrived here today on board the steamer Oceanic and was received enthusiastically by a huge crowd, recalling the scene upon his return from Africa. The mayor of the corporation greeted the field marshal aboard the steamer and later entertained him at luncheon.

HAZING METHOD

As Described by Young Woman

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 27.—Macaroni cooked in soup and labelled "angle worms" had to be eaten, and a cocktail of vinegar, molasses, salt, pepper and the white of an egg had to be gulped down before a girl could join the Alpha Sorority in the High School here, according to testimony offered yesterday to the board of education.

A score of witnesses appeared. The girl is a wreck, witnesses testified. It will be three years before her stomach is again in normal condition. Loraine Clark, daughter of Payette C. Clark, a member of the lower house of the Connecticut General Assembly, was the victim. Her nerves shattered, she is now in a retreat at Linden Lodge, Brattleboro, Vt., recruiting her health.

Miss Ethel Havens, daughter of Colonel E. H. Havens of Governor Weeks' staff, gave a graphic description of the ceremonies attendant upon Miss Clark's initiation, which she said were practically the same in every institution. Expert chemists, physicians and lawyers were included among the spectators.

After Herbert Smith, a chemist of the Parlet Soda company, had demonstrated with an elaborate experiment that the compounds prepared by the girls for Miss Clark to eat and drink were not harmful he declined to drink the concoction when Major William H. Marigold, president of the board of education and postmaster of the city, asked him to do so.

Miss Havens said that the sorority blindfolded Miss Clark and gave her three strips of macaroni three inches long which had been boiled in soap for half an hour, telling her they were angle worms. Then they gave her two glasses, with sugar on them, telling her they were molasses. When she had eaten them the girls gathered about her and gibed her.

Then they gathered and in conversation among themselves discussed the girl's symptoms and speculated within earshot of the victim on her chances of ever being helped again. Then they forced her to drink a cocktail made of molasses, vinegar, salt, pepper and white of egg, to eat a raw egg, and to drink milk and sugar from a nursing bottle. These were the kitchen stunts, so-called, handed down from the early history of the sorority.

Other stunts were the "branding" of victims. First a candle was melted and the hot wax dripped upon the arm of the candidate. Then a hot poker was shown to the victim, who was immediately blindfolded. While the candidate's shoulder was bared and a piece of flesh was secured upon the burning flesh was applied the effect of the candidate's senses by plunging the poker into a piece of raw meat.

Following the initiation Miss Clark was indisposed, and later became a nervous wreck, the direct result, her father's physician testified, of the initiation.

DOG WENT MAD WARD-CALLAHAN

Animal Created Considerable Excitement
Pretty Wedding in Pawtucketville Today

A Scotch collie dog belonging to Joseph E. Griffin of 180 Tremont street and bearing the license number 4162 went mad in Webster street shortly after 10 o'clock this morning and before his earthly career was ended by a couple of well directed bullets from the gun of Patrolman Joseph Clark the animal caused considerable excitement.

The queer antics of the dog were noticed by several persons passing by in Webster street, the animal yelping and acting in a very strange manner. It then ran through Middlesex street and as the inward bound Boston car was passing Tower's corner the canine rushed in front of the car and before the motorman could bring the car to a standstill the car struck the dog and cut his head badly.

The crazed animal infuriated by the injuries received made a blind rush up the stairs leading into the office of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. and finding the door of the telephone room open raced through there, much to the discomfort of the employees, but one of the cooler headed persons chased the dog out and the animal turned into Green street and was running rapidly when Patrolman Clark put in an appearance and ended the dog's misery.

THE FOREIGNERS

Are Returning to Changsha

CHANGSHA, April 27.—The governor of Changsha urges foreigners not to return to the district where native rioting has occurred before thirty days from the present have elapsed.

A number of foreigners have returned here. The city is quiet but considerable apprehension is felt as a feeling of unrest still exists among the natives. The Hunanese Gentry assert that they will refuse to recognize the new governor. The latter declares that he can control the situation but adds that the presence at the capital of a large number of foreigners would strengthen the leaders of the recent trouble who could easily inflame the malcontents and cause fresh outrages in order to bring about his dismissal.

GRAY-SWIFT

Andrew A. Gray and Clara M. Swift were married this afternoon at three o'clock at the parsonage residence of St. Peter's parish. Anna M. Gray, niece of the groom, was bridesmaid, and James J. Gray, the groom's brother, was best man.

TO APPEAR IN COURT AS THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT WILL APPEAR WITH CHAS. E. HUGHES AS A MEMBER

Auto Drivers Charged With Exceeding Speed Limit

The automobile law is being enforced in this city as it has never been before and as a result of the stringent measures taken by Supt. Richmond Welch of the police department 14 drivers of motorcars were haled into court yesterday to answer to complaints charging them with exceeding the speed limit.

There has been so much complaint about automobiles "flying" through the congested parts of the city that the superintendent stationed members of the highway squad in Central and Moody streets on April 19, 20 and last Sunday, the 24th, and though many more complaints were given to the superintendent than warrants were issued, where there was any doubt the driver was given the benefit of the doubt.

On Patriots' day 11 men. It is alleged, exceeded the speed limit. On the following day there were two men who ran their machines faster than the law allowed, it is said, while last Sunday three victims came under the drag-net.

Four of the offenders have been summoned to appear in court tomorrow, namely: Joseph H. Boyle, Amos

A. Bliss and Eugene Layola of this city and Roscoe W. Hilliker of Lynn. The other offenders will appear in court on Friday morning.

According to the law the penalty for the first offense is a minimum fine of $10 and a maximum of $25.

Two of the men who were held up were motor cyclists, they being Walter E. Rokes and Fred R. Buxton of this city.

The following is the list of offenders, their residences and the dates on which it is alleged they exceeded the speed limit.

April 20—Franklin N. Rogers of Manchester, N. H., Tancredo Parleau of Manchester, N. H.

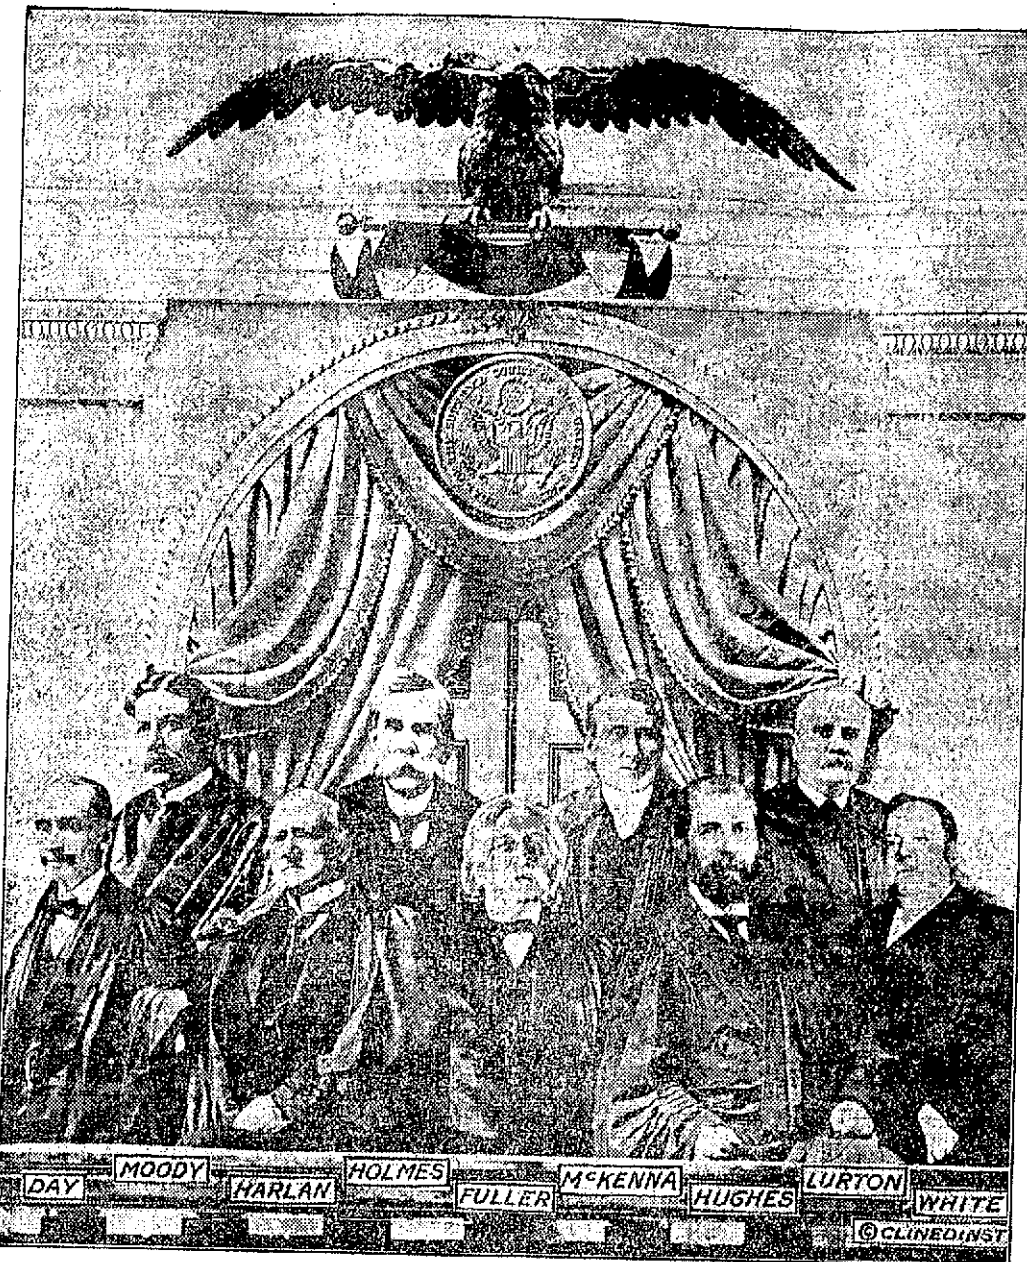

April 24—Alfred D. Hovey of Lowell, George V. Gregg of Lowell, John D. Blunt of Somerville.

Five rounds at 168 pounds and will pull off the battle on July 1 or July 5. Those who know this offer has been made incline to the belief that both Ketchel and Langford will be on their feet when the sixth round ends, and they are willing to bet on it—that there will be no knockout.

If there is any scheme of this kind below the surface, however, it may be slipped in the bud by the managers of the Philadelphia boxing club, who, it is understood, will make it clear that if in their opinion the pugilists are not trying the best they know how not a dollar will be paid over to either of them. Ketchel and Langford are fast, aggressive, heavy hitters. If they intend to fight on the level they will get busy the moment the first round begins. There can be no stalling, light boxing or incessant clinching without causing a storm of disapproval and charges of fraud. The fight will draw more than $20,000 in gate receipts and those who pay for tickets are entitled to a fair, square run for their money, it is argued.

If there is no restraining influence behind the men and they are not afraid to mix it up it is predicted the fight will be one of the most sensational slugfests ever seen in a ring. In local sporting resorts Monday night or Tuesday night would be a good time to see the fight.

Ketchel worked hard at Woodlawn all day Sunday and repeated the stunts Monday. He is a horse for work and

ALBANY, N. Y., April 27.—Before Governor C. E. Hughes goes to Washington to take up his new duties as a member of the United States supreme court he has a number of reforms and further investigations that he promises to make in the Empire state.

When President Taft made the offer to Governor Hughes that he fill the post made vacant by the death of Justice Brewer he hesitated about accepting until he was informed that he would not be required to be in Washington until October. Lieutenant Governor Horace White, who is known as a typical machine man, will take up the duties of Governor Hughes, but the governor's friends say White will not have much to do in the way of investigations.

Jeffries Training
BEN LOMOND, Cal., April 27.—James J. Jeffries yesterday made up for his vacation of Monday by working with redoubled energy. He declared he felt in a working mood and allowed himself little rest. He worked on all the indoor strength building devices with vim.

A six round boxing bout was scheduled for yesterday afternoon, but Jeffries' work yesterday morning was so tiring that his trainers did not want to tempt his blood and the bout was postponed. "The skin trouble on Jeffries' back is disappearing rapidly."

Jeffries spent the afternoon with the laborers on the river dam which sprang a leak Saturday. Until the leak is stopped, boating and swimming are impossible. As these are Jeffries' favorite pastimes, he will put in much of his time helping at the dam.

best of us tremble. After Smith plays a few more games, and in cities where his work will not be so critically watched, he will feel more at home.—Lawrence Telegram.

Southpaw Tyler, the slab artist from Derry, N. H., who during a victory on Jesse Burkett's brave at Lowell last Friday, was sent in again Monday to hand defeat to Lawrence and he succeeded to the tune of 2 to 1. In addition to pitching splendid ball, he won the good graces of Lowell fans by breaking up the tie left scored by the winning pitcher. Lowell won the game after the first two men had died in the final session and Huston started the going by a two-bagger to right. Tyler followed with a hit to right and Lowell had won from Lawrence by exactly the same score that the local won from Brockton, Saturday at Glen Forest. Lawrence had chances to win, but fell down when a hit meant a score, while a bad throw by Almsmith paved the way for the up-river team's first run. Lawrence piled up five errors, but the mastery of Almsmith alone counted in the run getting—Lawrence Eagle.

Delmer Orcutt, the North Abington boy selected by Manager Flanagan for the Brockton baseball team, was expected to show at shortstop in the game scheduled with Worcester yesterday. Orcutt did not play Saturday, as the manager desired to try out Smith in right field. Although Smith did well, as did Stankard at second base, Manager Flanagan will use Orcutt on the team, as he thinks he is a good hitter. Smith, however, will be retained as utility man and may be used in the box occasionally, as he has shown good form in the preliminary games. With Orcutt in the game at shortstop, Shannon will go back to second and Stankard to right field. Manager Flanagan says Stankard looks good at second base.—Brockton Times.

The Lawrence newspapers are loud in their praise of the Brockton team, which went down to defeat in the opening game at Lawrence Saturday. The Sunday Sun of that city has the following:

"But the honors went not to Lawrence alone. To the fact will be talking of Steve Flanagan's team. That he has a likely aggregation of ball tossers is not denied. Sweeney pitched a game that was indeed a credit to him. He kept the local's hits well scattered and had some of the local hitters going over the plate for wide breakers. He had speed to burn and showed good control and should prove a winner in the box for Flanagan this year. Dulin at third base, certainly is an ambitious youngster and was all over the lot. At the bat he rapped out a stinging single, but it was in the field he did his best. Not afraid of making an error, he got after everything that went into his territory and impressed the fans by his willing work."

"Bull" Durham is plying for the Regina club in Canada, as Manager Dowd has found out. As it costs more than $100 to bring him here for transportation Dowd will not send on for the big cash unless he finds him in the line of shape and pitching good ball. So the crew of the fair will be centered on Regina—New Bedford Times.

Harry Wormwood thinks that O'Brien has a better club at Fall River than last season and that there are more pep and more harmony in the ranks.

It looks as though O'Brien will miss the aid of Messengers, Nichols and Sohrman before the season opens, but several of the new recruits do not show up as well as those gone, but not forgotten performers.—Fall River News.

Manager O'Brien of Fall River received a letter recently from Fred Tenka, the Philadelphia twirler, announcing that he made up his mind not to play professionally this year. He has a good position there and through his playing with independent teams can easily equal the salary offered him, while he has the advantage of being at home. In explanation of the incident, which entangled the Fall River and Worcester clubs in a claim for his services, whereupon Secretary Farrell decided in favor of the local team, Tenka assumes the responsibility. He said Connie Mack asked him if he would like to go to Worcester, and he replied in the affirmative. Tenka writes that he did not tell Mack that he had sent a letter accepting the local club's terms, but thought this unnecessary because he believed that nothing but a signed contract was binding. Manager O'Brien has suspended Tenka to preserve his rights.

Merkle is rather fond of touching runners coming in to first base. He does this sometimes when he could keep his foot on the bag and make the catch. The latter when possible is the safer catch. Mr. Merkle should make use of his long reach.

The Cubs are getting rusty from disuse.

Again Wiltse has gone through a game strong. Looks as if he were his '08 self.

If Jack Knight keeps up his present clip, Foster is likely to lose some time before getting in at short again.

A thrown ball hit Hank O'Day the other day and kept Wagner from stealing a base.

Mordca Brown, not generally at his best until hot weather, is as fit right now as any of them.

TEXTILE GAME
M. I. T. SOPHOMORES AT CAMPUS TODAY
The Textile team will play the M. I. T. Sophs at the campus this afternoon and the local boys are in fine condition.

AMATEUR BASEBALL
Saturday afternoon on the North common the John Pilling Shoe Co. team will play its first home game of the season, and will appear for the first time in their new uniforms. They will have for their opponents Saturday the strong O. M. L. Cadet team from Belvidere. Both of these teams are entered in the Lowell and Suburban league, and each will be represented with a fast team. The game will be exceedingly interesting because of the fact that O'Brien who pitched for the Cadets last season, will be in the box for the O. M. L. team.

The Shasta Worsteds mills baseball team defeated the North Chelmsford Blackstone Juniors by a score of 10 to 3. Lineup: 1. Johnson, c. J. McClellan, p. W. Tobin 1b. L. Lunnegton

PLAYERS SHIFTED IMPORTANT CHANGES MADE IN CLEVELAND TEAM
CLEVELAND, April 27.—As a result of the recent slump of the local team of the American League Manager James McQuire yesterday announced several changes to take effect today. Stovall will play first base; Lajoie second; Turner short, and Graney centerfield. Birmingham goes to the bench.

SUNDAY BASEBALL LEGALIZED
ALBANY, N. Y., April 27.—The McGraw bill, legalizing Sunday baseball by amateurs between 3.30 and 6.30 p. m., squeezed through the assembly yesterday, receiving 77 votes with 67 in the negative. Cheering greeted the announcement of the result.

NEW BOWLING RECORD
BALTIMORE, April 27.—The record for the two man class in the bowling tournament of the National Bowling association was broken yesterday by George Burdine and J. A. Hackett of Washington, with a score of 1306. This is but 13 points below the world's championship record.

COLUMBUS DAY
Bill Passed House Today, 135 to 45
In the legislature yesterday afternoon the bill to make Columbus day a legal holiday passed to a third reading by a vote of 125 in favor and 45 against.

A BLUE BOOK
For the Wives of Congressmen
WASHINGTON, April 27.—In imitation of their husbands, whose names and deeds are recorded in the Congressional Directory, the members of the Congressional club, composed of the wives of national lawmakers, intend to have a blue book of their own. The idea originated with Mrs. Champ Clark, better half of the minority leader of the house of representatives. Each member of the club has been asked to furnish a brief biography of herself, and among other questions is asked, "If thrown on your own resources, what could you do to win a living for yourself?" A full record as to genealogy and personal achievements is requested. Mrs. Clark believes that the book will not only lend dignity to the club, but that it will act as a cementing bond between the members. Each new session of congress will see a new blue book.

Does Your Back Ache?

If you are a woman and you have this symptom get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound without delay. Backache seems an invention of the evil one to try woman's souls. Only those who suffer this way can understand the wearing, ceaseless misery.

We ask all such women to read the two following letters for proof that Mrs. Pinkham's medicine cures backache caused by female diseases.

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world about it. I suffered from female troubles and fearful pains in my back. I had the best doctors and they all advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I am ready to tell every one what this medicine has done for me."—Mrs. Emma Ince, 833 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Pittsburg, Pa.—"I had backache for four months steadily and tried everything for it, but nothing helped me until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After the first bottle I felt a change. I took five in all and I am cured. I have not had any backache since. I think the Compound is wonderful for women."—Mrs. G. Leiser, 5219 Kinkaid St., E. E., Pittsburg, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made thousands of cures of such cases. You notice we say has cured thousands of cases. That means that we are telling you what it has done, not what we think it will do. We are stating facts, not guesses.

We challenge the world to name another remedy for female ills which has been so successful or received so many testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

FOR 30 YEARS LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND HAS BEEN THE STANDARD REMEDY FOR FEMALE ILLS. NO SICK WOMAN DOES JUSTICE TO HERSELF WHO WILL NOT TRY THIS FAMOUS MEDICINE. MADE EXCLUSIVELY FROM ROOTS AND HERBS, AND HAS THOUSANDS OF CURES TO ITS CREDIT.

KELIHER IS BAILED

Bonding Company Put Up the Sum of $25,000

"Big Bill" Kelher, who since Friday night had been lodged in the Charles street jail, under arrest on charges alleging connection with the looting of the National City bank of Cambridge, was released yesterday afternoon upon the acceptance by the federal authorities of a $25,000 recognizance by a bonding company.

Early in the afternoon Daniel H. Coakley, Kelher's counsel, had a conference with U. S. Dist. Atty. Asa P. French at which the latter expressed his willingness to accept the surety offered. The preliminary were then gone through, and shortly before 4 o'clock Kelher was brought in a closed carriage from the jail to the federal building by Deputies Waters and Tighe.

He was taken to the marshal's office and placed in the cage while the formalities were gone through by Mr. Coakley and Asst. U. S. District Atty. William H. Garland.

The bond was entered by Earl M. Lamphere, vice president of the bonding Co., and was pronounced acceptable by Asst. U. S. District Atty. Garland. The defendant was brought out of the cage and taken into the adjoining office of Commissioner Hayes.

Mr. Coakley then suggested that the continuance of the hearing before the commissioner set for Saturday might be granted and his client be allowed to plead not guilty and be held immediately for the United States grand jury. This proposed short cut, however, met with opposition from Asst. Dist. Atty. Garland, and the suggestion was withdrawn by Mr. Coakley, who was then formally entered at $25,000 and the defendant released.

Kelher, who has borne very ungraciously his four days, seemed greatly relieved at his return to freedom, and lost no time in hurrying out of the federal building with his counsel. Both Kelher and Mr. Coakley declined to discuss any feature of the case or their plans.

Yesterday the United States circuit court grand jury resumed its special session to consider the Kelher case, and it is expected to report this morning. If it brings in an indictment against Kelher, the case will be taken out of Commissioner Hayes' hands. Saturday's hearing will then be annulled and Kelher may be called on to plead. In this event he will be required to find a new bail.

A feature of yesterday's proceedings was a conference between District Attorney French with Asst. District Attorney Garland and others of his official staff, which presumably had to do with the testimony submitted to the grand jury and the protection of witnesses from newspaper interviews.

Mr. French subsequently in a talk with reporters gave vigorous expression to his intention to prevent such interviews, in the interest of justice. He implied that any violation of his wishes in this regard would bring contempt of court proceedings upon the offender.

COST OF LIVING INJURIES FATAL

Short Weight Packages Make High Prices

Benjamin Earle, Jr. Shot Himself

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Short weight packages and secret agreements between wholesalers and retailers are largely responsible for the high cost of living, according to statements of witnesses yesterday before the house committee investigating the subject.

Dr. Wm. C. Woodward, health officer of the District of Columbia, told of short weight bread, flour and other necessities of life.

Col. W. C. Haskell, superintendent of weights and measures, declared that everyone of the 300,000 barrels of flour sold in Washington, were short four pounds each of the advertised weight and that Washingtonians were paying annually $42,000 for flour which they never received.

Cigars and gold, Associate, tonight.

STRIKE IS AVERTED

SPRINGFIELD, April 27.—A compromise agreement between the Springfield and Worcester Street Railway companies and their employees was reached last night, according to a semi-official authority. It is stated that the companies and men have agreed upon a sliding scale of wages, of from 22 to 27 cents an hour for motormen and conductors for five years. About 4200 men are affected.

DR. BURRILL DEAD

BOSTON, April 27.—Dr. Herbert Leslie Burrill, former president of the American Medical Association, surgeon general in charge of the hospital ship Bay State during the Spanish war, and one of the leading members of the medical profession in New England, died last night at his home in Newbury street, of heart failure. He was born in Boston in 1856 and graduated from the Harvard medical school in 1879. He leaves a widow and two sons.

CLAIM ADJUSTED

PHILLIES SETTLE WITH W. J. MURRAY

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—The claim of William J. Murray against the Philadelphia National league baseball club was adjusted here yesterday at a meeting between Thomas J. Lynch, president of the National league, for Manager Murray, and officials of the local club. After the conference, Murray gave out the following statement:

"I simply want to say that the new owners of the Philadelphia club have settled with me on terms entirely satisfactory. President Lynch and I came over from New York this afternoon and met President Fogel and Judge Elliott at the club's office, and in less than an hour arrived at an amicable agreement. The new owners have dealt fairly with me and that is all I have to say."

The terms of settlement of the claim, which was for the complete term of manager and for back salary were not made public.

COMMON COUNCIL

Took Up Labor Day Appropriation

The common council held a short meeting last night. There were 26 members present.

An appropriation of $1000 for the proper observance of Labor day was referred to the committee on appropriations.

An order for $875 for band concerts introduced by Councilman Elliott was adopted, Councilman McKenzie voting in opposition.

Councilman Kilpatrick introduced an ordinance to change the name of the poor farm to the Chelmsford Street hospital, and the same was referred to the committee on ordinance and legislation.

Sidewalks were voted in the following streets: School, Pawtucket, Gates, Sidney, West Fourth, State, Howe and Chittenden and Butler avenues.

Kittredge's, Prescott, tonight.

TO INCREASE RATES

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 27.—The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company plans for increasing passenger rates upon the system now being worked out will be based on the density of traffic upon the road's lines, and will arrange for an increase from about two per cent. upon the main stem to nearly or quite 25 per cent. upon the most unprofitable branches. Upon some of the latter the increase may be from two cents a mile to two and a half cents a mile, the rate which prevailed before the general reduction was made on the whole system three years ago. The mileage book system, however, will probably be continued at the old rate of two cents a mile plus two cents for each fraction of a mile. The readjustment will be based upon the theory that the increases will nearly or quite make good the increased cost of operation caused by the increase of wages in the various operating branches of the service.

THE POLICE BLAMED

Chief Says That They Are Constantly Violating Rules

BOSTON, April 27.—Chief Charles A. Kendall of the Somerville police department in a general order read at roll call last evening took the members of the department severely to task in one of the most stinging arraignments they have ever been subjected to.

In part, he said: "From personal observation I am thoroughly convinced that many of the officers are continually violating the rules of this department, namely, not properly patrolling their routes; improperly ringing in duty calls; meeting at signal boxes; conversing with each other; unnecessarily standing and talking with persons; walking with persons on their routes, etc."

"Within a short time I saw one day a patrolman standing talking in one place for a period of 17 minutes. One night recently, while making a tour of the city covering a period of 3 1/2 hours and visiting nearly every part of the city, I saw four patrolmen out of 20 who were supposed to be on duty."

"One was standing alone on Broadway; the next visited the fire station of engine company 2 and was inside for 15 minutes; the next was standing talking with two men in Magoun square; and the fourth was standing talking with a group of four or five young men in front of a drug store in the western part of the city for a period of 30 minutes."

"At Dewires corner at 10:45 p. m. there was a crowd of young men acting in a boisterous manner. There was no officer in sight."

"The public, whose servants you are, have a right to expect and demand better police service than this. I shall expect more rigid attention to duty in the future and all violations of the rules will be summarily dealt with."

"The lieutenants and sergeants on duty in the station house will report

all violations of ringing in duty calls. The sergeants on street duty are required and must report all patrolmen not properly attending to their duties. "The patrolmen are hereby ordered to ring in a duty call every 30 minutes unless engaged in some other work, and if so engaged to report the reason therefor to the officer in charge of the station house."

Requiring the men to ring in every 30 minutes is in the nature of a punishment, as heretofore they have been obliged to ring in only once an hour if they so elected.

GENERAL HOSPITAL

EXAMINATION FOR ADMISSION TO TUBERCULOSIS CAMP

The first examination for admission to the Tuberculosis camp for this summer will be held at the hospital on Thursday morning at half past ten. Indications are that the applicants for admission will greatly exceed the accommodations of the camp. This summer the camp will be under the charge of Dr. Boyden H. Pillsbury and Dr. John H. Lambert. These doctors are planning to give a great deal of time and attention to the patients at the camp. With good food, good hygienic surroundings, good air in abundance, together with the medical attendance noted above, it must follow that persons at the camp will have everything possible done for them toward making a full and complete recovery.

HALF HOLIDAYS

Local Store Clerks Will Get Them

As a result of the mass meeting of the store clerks held recently it is now practically assured that most of the larger business firms will give their employees a half holiday on Thursdays during July, August, and September, beginning July 1 and ending Sept. 15. ## THE IDEAL NEWSPAPER.

Major I. C. Hemphill of the Richmond Times-Dispatch in a lecture on Journalism at Yale seemed to speak in a pessimistic tone of the hopelessness of seeing the "Ideal Newspaper."

The ideal newspaper, like the ideal man, is a rarity of course; but Editor Hemphill is unjust to the average newspaper when he deprecates "the present degradation of the press which caters to the worst tendencies of a corrupt and materialistic age." That some papers cater to such tendencies is unfortunately true; but Mr. Hemphill knows or should know that the papers which do this are in the minority. There are still a few sensational sheets that try to work up a scare whenever they can. The sensational manner in which the raid at the Vesper Country club has been treated by some newspapers proves this, but that is no reason why respectable newspapers should be maligned by a man who is himself in the business or by anybody else.

The decent newspapers in this case as in many others have to suffer the blame that properly belongs only to the yellow sheets and the sensational organs that try to live on scandals and the use of the muck rake.

It is a perfectly just and proper function of the honest newspaper to show up dishonesty in public officials, to stand for civic probity and official integrity. That is one of the functions of the press that has greatly assisted in purifying municipal government in this country.

In no city in which there has been an honest and fearless newspaper have the officials been found to engage in wholesale corruption. If perchance any official ventured to prostitute his office to private gain, he was quickly exposed and either convicted or driven into obscurity.

The service which the honest newspapers have rendered in this respect has been of incalculable value to American cities.

Yet these newspapers do not get credit for their work in this respect. In other respects also the newspapers have done incalculable good as for example in denouncing wrong, in pleading for the poor and the weak, in defense of right and in exposing shams and humbugs.

When some ministers thought of getting out an ideal newspaper and undertook to publish a paper such as in their opinion would Christ himself have been on earth, the result was not nearly as good even from the Christian standpoint as hundreds of papers published by laymen throughout the year without any pretence to religious motives.

Next to the church the press is the greatest power for good in the land and its work should not be scoffed at, minimized or misrepresented, because of the shortcomings of a small number of unprincipled newspapers.

When Editor Hemphill spoke of the "ideal newspaper" he may not have realized that the "ideal" in newspaper production is never attainable for the reason that the man who produces the most perfect newspaper has still an ideal far beyond what he can then realize. The ideal always stands afar off like a beautiful vision perched upon the horizon of the highest reality.

Carlyle says: "Alas, we know that ideals can never be completely embodied in practice. Ideals must ever lie a great way off—and we will thankfully content ourselves with any not intolerable approximation thereto! Let no man as Schiller says, too querulously, 'measure by a scale of perfection the meagre product of reality' in this poor world of ours."

In this connection we might also appropriately quote Adelaide Proctor when she says:

"Dwells within the soul of every artist.
More than all his efforts can express.
He knows the best remains unuttered
Sighing at what we call his success."

Thus after all Editor Hemphill need not be discouraged because he cannot find in this broad land of ours the ideal newspaper. If he cannot find it here he certainly cannot find it elsewhere and it, therefore, does not exist.

No line of business has made such rapid strides within the past dozen years as did the newspaper business. The marvel of news, intelligence and research crowded into the columns of a one cent paper nowadays is far beyond what the greatest journalists of twenty years ago dreamed of as possible. The ideals of the past have been more than realized as the ideals of today may be realized in the future. It is not expected, therefore, that the present ideal of great journalists should be realized. To accomplish this would require superhuman gifts, for when we consider the work of the great journalists such as Col. Henry Watterson, the late Charles A. Dana and the present critic, Major I. C. Hemphill as reflected in their respective newspapers, we find that while each might have attained excellence in one or in many points yet none of them ever issued a newspaper approaching the highest ideal of journalistic excellence.

The newspapers that print the news of the world faithfully and up to the minute, that hold up to the people high ideals of morality, citizenship, civic purity, strong manhood and noble womanhood, are doing their full duty to their clientele no matter how far they may be away from the critic's conception of the ideal.

But did not the great Caesar himself—beg pardon, we mean Col. Roosevelt—who was not averse to giving the newspapers a severe slam when it suited his purpose or his mood—did he not make the statement in his Paris speech that—

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who in actuality in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood, whose place shall never be with those cold, timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat."

Applying this piece of common sense we can see the absurdity of Major Hemphill setting himself up as a general critic of the press of this country, while the paper of which he is editor in point of excellence will rank only third rate when compared with the best in the land.

How grand, how noble, how sublime would be the achievements of man in every field of endeavor if the critics could remedy the imperfections they can so readily point out in the works of others.

ENJOYABLE EVENT

Rosebuds Held Dancing Party Last Evening

O. U. A. M. hall, Middle street, was the scene last evening of one of the most enjoyable dancing parties of the season, the occasion being the third annual social of the Rosebuds. Like its predecessors it was a grand success in every particular. There were about seventy-five couples present and all enjoyed the program furnished. The ladies of the party were all becomingly attired in beautiful gowns, while the men wore evening dress.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Pink and white the colors of the club, predominated. Streamers of these colors were alternately suspended from the center of the hall to the sides. In the center was a large bell of light blue, pink and white. The stage was decked with potted plants and ferns. Hidden behind the greenery was Kittredge's orchestra, Harry Kittredge, director, which rendered excellent music for the dancers.

An order of twenty numbers was given and each was anchored several times. One, in particular, namely, the Rosebud waltz, proved to be the feature of the evening. This was the last dance before intermission and it was applauded many times.

At intermission refreshments were served, after which dancing was resumed and continued until midnight.

Those responsible for the success of the affair were: Maybelle Sullivan, general manager; May Crowley, assistant general manager; Blanche Sullivan, floor director; Josephine Cronin, assistant floor director; Josephine Hennessy, chief aid.

Popular Militiaman Succumbed to Scarlet Fever

The many friends of Sergeant Armande Henri Grenier of Co. G, Sixth regiment, will be pained to learn of his death, which occurred yesterday at the Lowell hospital, after a few days' illness with scarlet fever. He was 32 years, 11 months old. Owing to the nature of the disease the funeral took place yesterday afternoon and was private. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery and Undertaker Joseph Albert had charge. Capt. Colby T. Kittredge of the general staff of the militia represented the Spanish War Veterans, and Capt. Walter R. Hayes of Co. G represented the company, which sent a beautiful floral tribute.

ADS PELVITONE

This preparation has been carefully compounded by the National Formula Committee of the great American Druggists Syndicate, and is particularly effective for those who are victims of the more common ailments of women.

All women thus affected should not hesitate to consult their family physician fully, but when this is impossible this remedy is the next best course, and if taken according to instruction will bring entire relief in a large percentage of cases. It is safe and harmless and can be obtained at any A. D. S. drug store.

OFFERS TO MARRY

Green Has Letters From 150 Women

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—E. H. R. Green of Terrell, Texas, president of the Texas Midland R. R. Co. and a son of Mrs. Betty Green of New York and who recently announced in St. Louis that he had not married because he could find no woman who would accept him except for his money, admitted last night the receipt of 150 letters from women asking him to marry during the last two weeks.

The letters were accompanied by about fifty photographs of the writers, according to Green. One of the letters was from a widow with half a dozen children. Green will remain in St. Louis several days. He denied a statement that his mother had retired or was about to retire from business.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Tonight Viola Allen will present at the Opera House what is perhaps the most interesting and important dramatic work that she has ever appeared in during her distinguished career as an actress. It is "The White Sister," the last play written by E. Marion Crawford, which he made from his book of the same name. The play, therefore, has a sentimental value, in addition to the interest in the work of a writer of international repute. A large and notable cast has been engaged by Messrs. Lieber & Co. to support Miss Allen. The part of Monsignor Savanesca is in the hands of James O'Neill of "Monte Cristo" fame; that of Captain Severi in those of William Farnum; while Minnie Gale, the one time leading lady of Booth and Barrett, who returns to the stage after a retirement of a decade and a half, will be seen as the Countess Chiaromonte. The other important roles have been assigned to Fanny Addison Pitt, R. L. Lids, Edwin Barbour, Dwight Dana and Bella Chippendale Warner.

"The White Sister" as a play differs from the book of the same title in many respects. The central theme, however, is much the same, presenting a dramatic conflict between love and duty in the case of a young girl who turns to the church for comfort upon receiving false reports of her soldier lover during an ill-fated African expedition, only to meet him in the flesh after having taken religious vows. The setting of the first two acts on the conventional grounds, especially that of the second act, which shows the cloister grounds, has given the management ample opportunities for elaborate stage effects. William Furst, the well known composer, wrote the musical score for "The White Sister." A female chorus and several musicians are part of the company and are interpreters of the music of the convent chapel scene. Music runs through the entire performance, and has been made to fit the sentiments of each scene.

"HAVANA." The successful musical comedy in which James T. Powers will appear in this city tomorrow night, was originally written for George Edwards, who produced it at the Gaiety theatre, London, where it ran for a long time. Mr. Edwards is the most successful producer of musical plays in the United Kingdom. When Mr. Powers was looking for a new play to succeed "The Tropic Moon," he dropped into the Gaiety theatre, London, one day to see "Havana." Although in the form he saw it, it would not do at all for America,

THEATRE VOYONS

PRIMROSE MINSTRELS

The "First Part" setting of the Primrose Minstrels is said to be a perfect gem in its own white and gold are the pretty colors used towards an effect of genuine grandeur. The whole scheme utilized is one of massive scenic conception, and carries with it a fairly good idea of some of the ancient Roman palaces.

This magnificent background is furthermore enhanced in effectiveness by the rich draperies and other picturesque furnishings that have been generously provided by Mr. Primrose, who prides himself on giving the proper atmosphere in his entertainment of so much novelty. The Primrose Show promises more than a little in the way of exceptionally fine singing at the Opera House next Friday, April 29, not forgetting the clever performances by the famous Ward Bros., who have arranged a special act of astonishing, as well as laughing importance.

A special added attraction for the engagements of the large New England cities is George Wilson of the famous Farlow, Wilson, Primrose & West. This is the first time that Primrose and Wilson have appeared together in nearly twenty years. Those two great artists, need no introduction to theatre goers from ocean to ocean and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. Now won't it look good to you to see George Wilson on one "End" and George Primrose on the other? It should pack the theatre from "pit to dome."

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The Roosevelt pictures are still drawing admiring crowds to the Academy of Music, while the vaudeville offering is of the best. The sketch "Hubby's Dream," presented by MacCollin and Hall, is a gem of mirth and melody. Rarely if ever has such an artistic piece of high class comedy been seen in a picture theatre. It is being shown in the Keith time. Tracey is making a host of friends by her clever work, and the rest of the show is up to the standard. Amateurs tonight. Admission 5 and 10 cents.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Tomorrow the Empire theatre will be opened to the people of Lowell to give to them a new first class moving picture and vaudeville theatre. From the artistic front of the stage this house is a model of beauty and forethought, and a work of which Mr. Davis, the architect, ought to be proud.

The management, through its efforts in securing the best booking agents in the country, plans on showing acts and pictures which are fitting such a neat, up to date theatre. For the first show, commencing Thursday afternoon, Clifford, Dempsey & Co. will present their comedy act, "Rome by the Rarible Route." They are clever people and their clever act will be one of the funniest comedies.

Barto and McCue, the world's greatest exponent of physical culture, will present their athletic and acrobatic act which is one of the finest on the vaudeville stage today. It is an act distinctive in itself.

Carley Carlos is one of the daintiest of dainty girls, and a wonderful little dancer. She is styled "The Parisian Singer" and "Russian Dancer," introducing novelties which earn for her that title and which will attract a big house at every performance.

The pictures are all new and are personally selected by the manager.

STAR THEATRE

"The Tongue of Scandal," "His Last Burglary," and several other excellent motion picture subjects, with the talking picture and illustrated songs, comprise the bill at the Star theatre. Comedy and drama are mingled in the talking picture, "His Last Burglary," by the Biograph company. Tomorrow there will be a complete change of program. Women and children are tendered special attention. The theatre is thoroughly clean and well ventilated. The admission of five cents includes a seat.

PRINCETON CLUB

Dancing Party

The Princeton club, an organization composed of young men who reside in Centralville, gave a minstrel show and dancing party in the Associated hall last night. The excellent program and the manner in which it was carried out proved conclusively that there is plenty of good talent in the club.

The popularity of the members of the club was evidenced by the large attendance and the event proved a success both from a social as well as a financial standpoint.

The interior of the hall was prettily decorated with the club's colors, yellow and black. A new curtain, made of two large American flags, was seen for the first time last evening. This added greatly to the decorative feature.

The overture was carried out in a manner which reflects much credit on the young men and ladies who assisted them. Then came the songs which were so well received that it was necessary for each soloist to respond to an encore.

Andrew Doyle made a hit with "Meet Me Tonight in Dreamland," and John Payne gave "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?" in his own inimitable way. The refrain to the latter piece was given by the entire chorus. Miss Katherine Fay was loudly applauded after her rendition of "Laura Lee."

One of the hits of the evening was "I'm Going Home," by Joseph Furlong, but no one believed him. Miss Mae Delgan pleased the audience with "I'm Glad I'm Irish."

Miss Ada Gordon gave that lively and tuneful rag-time selection "Wild Cherry Rag," and James Scanlon rendered "When You and I Were Young, Mackerle." Anthony Doyle's number was "Bumble Bee," a pretty conceit, and Miss Margaret McDonough, with the green spot light shining on her sang "We'll Go Back to Erin Some Day."

Miss Mabel Knight, who was one of the end men, provoked laughter with her rendition of "You'll Come Back." Herbert McKenzie gave "The Hat My Father Wore," and James Lyons, a tenor, sang pleasingly "Just Like a Rose." Daniel Gray's song was "I Wish I Had

My Old Girl Back Again." A quartet composed of James Lyons, Fred Robert and Bert Lindsay, sang a brace of numbers that proved highly popular. The performance closed with the stoin song, "Bohemia," the entire company participating in it. The members of the chorus were: Misses Florence Nolan, May Carroll, Mabel LeClair, Elizabeth Catterall, Mae O'Brien, Margaret O'Brien, Mae McPartland, Nellie Hurley, Ina McCaskill, Harriet Clancy, Mamie McDonald, Mae Clark, Josie Shea, Lena Collins, Annie Russell, Marcelita Gildee, Anna Kelley, Norah Slattery, Annie Breen, Agnes Kelley, Messrs. Charles Slowe, William Grant, Albert McKenzie, Thomas Monahan, James Quinn, William Ryan, Miles Thompson, Henry Johnson, Thos. Hublin, Harry McNeil, Arthur Monahan, Charles McGowan, Joseph Clark, Fred Powers, John McNulty, Edward McKinley, William Foye, Sidney McKenzie, James Monahan, Walter Foye, Thomas McGuane, Charles McKenzie, Charles Vidito, Frank Clarke, Frank Lescour.

Charles D. Slattery, who has considerable reputation as a producer of entertainments, was largely responsible for last night's show. The orchestra was under the direction of Emil J. Borjes. George H. Donelue was a suave, dressy interloper.

Dancing was begun about 10.30 o'clock and was continued until midnight.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The North Chelmsford Choral society will give a grand concert in the Second Congregational church this evening, and a large number of Lowell people will attend. There will be a chorus of 40 voices, assisted by Mrs. Nemo Gallagher Leakey, Mrs. Daisy Duncan, Mrs. Hanson, Mr. Arthur Booth, violin soloist; Miss Ethel A. Elliott, reader. Director of chorus, Mr. D. P. McKenney; organist, Mrs. A. Slattery; accompanists, Miss Helen Savage, Mr. Herbert Waterhouse.

WILL NOT BE ANNEXED

NEW YORK, April 27.—Annexation of Newfoundland either to the United States or Canada is a visionary project, according to Sir Edward Morris, premier of the island, who expressed this view at a farewell dinner given in his honor by countrymen at the Hoffman house last night previous to his departure to attend the fisheries conference at The Hague.

TWO SPEEDY ATHLETES WHO WILL
SHINE IN ATHLETIC CARNIVAL

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—Great preparations have been made for the University of Pennsylvania's 16th annual relay race carnival to be held on Franklin field April 30. The contests will bring together the biggest and finest lot of college and scholastic athletes in the country to compete in a series of relay races and special events. Never before in the history of scholastic and collegiate sport has such a fine set of entries been received for any meet. Two hundred and twenty-three teams have sent word that they will be on hand to battle for honor and glory. One of the features of the meet is the magnificent entry list of colleges, Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Cornell, Syracuse, Dartmouth, Amherst, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Lafayette, Penn State, Pittsburgh and Virginia will all have representatives here. The one mile college championship seems to be the favorite event for the American athlete, and there will be no exception to the rule on April 30, for no less than nine colleges representing the entire country, have entered. Chicago, the present champion; Michigan and Illinois, both of whom chased Stagg's men to the very finish last season; Pennsylvania, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Virginia and Dartmouth are the teams out for the honors. Michigan will rule the favorite, because she retains all of her last year's team, one that was then beaten only by two feet for the title. In Paul Penn has one big star of the meet, for he is the college record holder at 4 minutes 17.4 seconds for the mile. Great things are expected of Kirjassoff, Yale's star half miler.

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM OTHER AMERICAN CITIES

Washington, D. C.—First steps toward placing permanent markers on historic sites within the District were taken at the New Willard hotel at a meeting of the committee to accomplish this work. W. D. Van Winkle is chairman of the committee, which was appointed by the commissioners. The committee is permanent in its character. It is expected that by independence day at least one or two prominent historic sites in the city will be marked with a suitable bronze tablet or some other equally permanent form of identification.

Chicago, Ill.—Electric theatres should be owned by the municipality for the purpose of improving the morals of young, is the opinion of Chief of Police Steward, who made the suggestion to Aid. Bellows, of the Small parks commission. The aidman will lay the matter before the proper administrative committee. Chief Steward believes in the educational value of the well-conducted five-cent theatre, but realizes the damage improper shows do. He explained the trouble in revoking licenses and said such things as proprietors permitting children to smoke cigarettes and otherwise misbehave behind the scenes would not be possible if he could get the theatres under his jurisdiction. The theatres ought to be established in the small parks, he says, and only adults should be charged the full five-cent price of admission—children under 16 years of age one cent, or be admitted free. The chief thinks also that the theatres should be constructed of corrugated iron, so that they could be moved about and used for voting purposes or supplementary schoolrooms in the crowded districts.

PLAYGROUNDS IN HOLYOKE
Holyoke, Mass.—The city of Holyoke is taking the playground act most seriously, and Building Inspector Frank O'Connell, who is to be general supervisor of the playground activities, has already mapped out the season's campaign, which will begin the last of May. There are three large skating rinks opened and maintained by the city during the winter time, each one of which will be used as a wading pool during the summer months. The total expended for the three was less than $50, and Mr. O'Connell points to the fact that no Holyoke children were drowned while skating the past season, although in previous years one or two drowning accidents always occurred, and often five or six. Prospect Park and Riverside Park were equipped with playground apparatus by the board of park commissioners previous to the passage of the playground act, and will be continued along the same lines as last season. The new playgrounds will be fully equipped, however, as follows: West street, in ward 1; Hampden street between Linden and Beach, and Maple street north of Cabot street. The equipment of each will include a baseball field, swimming pool, boys' outdoor gymnasium, girls' outdoor gymnasium, a green for dances and a wading pool. In addition there will be playground apparatus of a minor nature, such as sandboxes, swings, ladders, etc., at six of the schoolhouses, Highlands, South Chestnut, Elm street, Kirtland, Park and Appleton streets. About $20,000 will be spent. It is estimated that between 3,000 and 4,000 children will be accommodated in pleasant weather. The $20,000 spent will be largely for permanent apparatus and grading, so that another year the bill will be but a fraction of the amount expended this year.

ABOUT CITY AUTOS
Municipalities. Minn.—E. R. Dutton, assistant city engineer, was instructed by the City Council Ways and Means committee to allow C. A. Bloomquist, city treasurer, to use the city automobile (assigned to him for official business). The city treasurer will use it twice a month in distributing pay checks to city employees, thus saving rental expense of $25 to $50 a month. It has often happened that the car assigned to the engineer was lying idle while other city officials were paying $1 an hour rent for automobiles for official business. Last year $400 was expended in automobile hire by the treasurer's office. At the last election the city clerk spent $289 for similar purposes.

RAG STORAGE IN CHELSEA

Chelsea, Mass.—Judge Bosson in the Chelsea police court has nullified the second effort of the board of control to regulate the storage of rags. The court held that the word "rag" as defined in the dictionary does not include new clippings of worned cloth serviceable for patching. One of the first things done by the board after the fire was to prohibit rag shops unless regulated by the chief of the fire department. Most of the rag dealers in Chelsea re-established their rag shops without a license, and in a case to test the validity of the ordinance the supreme court decided that the board of control had no right to delegate the power of licensing. When the board made its second ordinance Chelsea had almost as many rag shops as before the fire. It is probable that still another effort will be made to regulate the business.

THE STORE FOR THRIFTY PEOPLE

News of a Great Purchase

Probably the largest purchase of unbleached sheetings ever made by a New England firm—outside the manufacturing corporations—was consummated by us a few days ago when we closed a deal with the Salvage company, on account of the underwriters, for nearly 250,000 yards of unbleached sheetings slightly damaged by the recent fire on the Clyde line steamship Onondaga while at her wharf in Boston Feb. 27. Before offering these goods for sale the insurance underwriters had the entire lot thoroughly dried and put in shape.

A special selling of greater proportions than Lowell has ever experienced—a sale which we anticipate will attract customers from all over New England—will soon be announced.

Dyspepsia and Nervouness

MRS. FRANCES HOUCK

Entirely cured by Duffy's Pure Malt

Whiskey after other medicines did her no good. Now Mrs. Houck recommends it to all her friends. She recently wrote:—

"Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done me so much good I intend to always keep it on hand. About two years ago when I was feeling all run down I consulted a physician. He pronounced my trouble a species of dyspepsia and nervousness. I had taken two bottles of other medicine and they had not helped me, when a friend recommended Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I am pleased to say that it has cured me entirely, and I do not hesitate to give it my indorsement. I shall recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey to all my friends."—Mrs. Frances Houck, 423 E. # Coming Big Fight Divides Interest With Baseball

By TOMMY CLARK.

PARAPHRASING an oft quoted line, the whole world loves a heavyweight fight for the championship. The coming battle between Jim Jeffries and Johnson unquestionably has aroused more worldwide interest than any other fight ever staged. In the history of the world there have been several fights that were truly great. Nearly every one knows something about the great struggle be-

VIC WILLIS.

Manager Roger Bresnahan of the St. Louis Nationals is highly elated over the early showing of Vic Willis, whom he obtained from the Pittsburghs since the close of last season. In fact, Vic is now twirling as good ball as he ever did.

tween David and Goliath. Mythology chronicles the desperate battle between Hector and the invulnerable Achilles, and nearly every male child has heard of the Sullivan and Kilrain scrap. But not one of these can compare in point of interest with the Jeffries-Johnson mill. It is figured that the crowd that will cheer the winner at the Emeryville race track, Emeryville, Cal., on Independence day will be ten times as great as the mob that howled when Spartacus won the gladiatorial championship and as many times as great as the gang that saw Hector do his sprint around the walls of Troy before Achilles put him out.

Throughout the east, south, north and parts of the west special trains are being chartered to carry the enthusiasts of the different cities to the scene of the battle. But America is not alone interesting itself in the big fight. The promoters have had orders for ring-side seats from England and other parts of Europe, while even far-off Australia and India will be represented. Such enthusiasm is astonishing and has no parallel in the history of sports.

It will have a far-reaching effect, too, this scramble to get to the battleground. It will test the capacity and power of the railroads to the straining point and affect business in general.

Why? Because it is a battle between the greatest white pugilist against an equally great black man and a heavyweight battle in which the outcome is in doubt.

There has been a lot of frenzied writing about the probable receipts, and some of the unthinking have estimated that $500,000, or even $1,000,000 will be taken in at the box office. It should be said that about $250,000 will cover the receipts very nicely.

They are saying that a full million will be bet on the result. A million is a lot of money, but there are many wise boys and hunches who are quietly stowing away the dollars against the time when the betting begins to believe, and it is possible that the aggregate of the wagers at the last will look like a picture of the national debt.

Is it not barely possible that retirement of all this coin to stakeholders' hands might bring on stringency, tight money and large uncertainty? This is not the financial editor's department, but it is humbly suggested that if the Jeffries-Johnson mill takes the money out of circulation, as some of the sport writers say it will do, the treasury experts had better arrange to have all the big prizefight transactions carried out by check.

At least it is wise to leave enough money in circulation to handle prosperity. We want no more clearing house certificates.

Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American league baseball club, says:

"To discontinue the present style of spikes would slow up the game. None of the substitutes that we have examined would have the effect of the old spikes. I admit that they are dangerous, but I think it would be better to adopt safeguards such as shin guards or something like that instead of doing away with the spikes. In my mind baseball is just fast enough, and we should take no chances of reducing that speed in any way."

Splendid! "Spikes are dangerous!" But what are a few crippled players more or less compared to the delights of a dashing steal to third base?

"Adopt safeguards, such as shin guards or something like that!" Shin guards would not slow up the game—not much more than molasses would the legs of a fly. "None of the substitutes would have the effect of the old spikes!" It is not necessary to give them a fair trial.

FRANK CHANCE, MANAGER AND FIRST BASEMAN OF THE CHICAGO NATIONALS

Manager Frank Chance is confident that his Cubs will capture the banner this season. He figures that his team is stronger than last season. Since the close of the 1909 campaign the astute pilot of the Cubs has corralled several promising young pitchers, some of whom he expects will make good. In a recent game against Cincinnati one of his youngsters, Cole, fanned seven of the Reds and won his battle by a score of 10 to 5. With the return of Ed Reulbach, who has been ill with diphtheria, Chance says that he will have the strongest twirling staff in the league. The addition of "Ginger" Beaumont to the team seems to have strengthened the outfield to some extent.

because the manufacturers might be forced to carry a big stock of the old ones and suffer a loss. How true the old saying, "A man convinced against his will is of the same opinion still." Some men can argue around a circle and rest content. Some day the pres-

baseman, is his most conspicuous success. But, strange to say, John McGraw, manager of the New York Nationals, probably has the record of paying more for "gold bricks" than the rest. It is doubtful if ever a deal of more conspicious financial disaster was made than that by which McGraw acquired Pittsburghers Rube Marquard and Durham for a total of $15,000. Marquard costing $11,000. Durham was hardly given a show ere he was chased to Canada or some other distant wilds, while Marquard has

that he is worth every cent paid for him.

There is some doubt in certain quarters as to whether the return of Johnny Kling to the Chicago Nationals' fold will add enough strength to give that team a chance to beat out Pittsburgh for the banner this year. It is argued that the Cubs were not weak behind the bat last season, that Archer did everything in the way of receiving that Kling could possibly have done and that the additional batting that Kling would bring will not be sufficient to make a material difference in the team's standing.

It is the opinion of the members of the Cubs, however—that is, of the voters on the team—that the presence of Kling will make a great difference in the team because of his knowledge of the game and the fact that the players know his style and have a lot of confidence in him. One ball player often makes a wonderful difference in a team, and it may be that Kling is just the man to help the Cubs to another flag.

But to most persons who last year watched closely the Chicago team work it wasn't so much the want of a catcher that hurt the club as it was the inefficiency of the pitching department at the start of the year.

Frank Gotch, the world's heavyweight wrestler, may not have such an easy time with the gentleman whose name looks like a bunch of puffed type, Zbyzco, whom he is to meet in Chicago on May 14. Recently the Galician met Dr. Roller, the Seattle physician and crack wrestler, in Kansas City and threw him after a hard struggle. Next to Gotch, Roller is considered the best mat artist in America. In the recent contest the European showed that he possesses great defensive strength. It almost makes one believe that the failure of Gotch to throw him within an hour's time limit in Buffalo some time ago was not merely for exhibition and get the money purposes.

Zbyzco has a neck about one thirty-second of an inch in height and as thick as a Norwich elm. In his bout with Roller nelson holds slid off him like rain off a slicker. He is so tremendous a man physically that he is very difficult to handle, and, while his own attack is weak as compared with Gotch's, he is a hard man to throw.

Gotch's toe hold will be needed to put this man on his back. At that he has broken this terrible punishing hold several times.

Have you stopped to consider that the new football rules practically mean that the quarterback is a thing of the past save in title? For several years the tendency has been to have as a quarterback a player who stacks up about the average with the other backs in weight and height. Some teams have even had at quarter a man bigger and heavier than the other men back of the line. Now this is made compulsory if it is expected to turn out a good eleven. In the first place, there is no restriction that the man who first receives the ball from the center—or snapper back—must run five yards outside before crossing the line of scrimmage. That does away with the necessity of playing a high directly back of center to receive the ball and pass it to the man selected to run with it.

Then there is a new rule allowing but four men back of the line of scrimmage, which minimizes interference and means the backs must rely largely on their own exertions. Obviously, all else being equal, the team that has three heavy and fast backs and one light and fast back is not going to be as well equipped for offense as the eleven that has four heavy and fast men back of the line.

It would not be surprising next fall to find all backs standing in a row about the same distance back of the line of scrimmage and with any of them receiving the leather, according to the signal called. Certainly the game has seen some radical changes.

Business End of a Circus

By FRANK H. BROOKS.

UNTIL wild geese honk their flight to the northward the white tents of the circus will rise and fall in the cities and towns of the country. Avoid the man who tells you that all circuses are alike. All circuses now are up to date. There is scarcely a phase of human life that is not represented in some manner on the tankard. The clowns of today catch a fad as quickly as film and present its ludicrous features. Although humorously presented, "The Chocolate Soldier" gets an advance notice, and in one of the big shows the homecoming of Colonel House and Kermit is foreshadowed.

Aside from all this, the circus has a business end that will command the respect of business men and an organization that requires brains and capital.

One of the best known shows on the road requires eighty-nine railroad cars to transport it from point to point. Its list of performers and superlatives foot up to 1,300 men and women. It has

vas. This canvas means eighteen tents. The big tent seats nearly 16,000 people. Fifty ushers are employed to seat the audience. It feeds from its own eating tent more than 1,000 persons. The clerical force of press agents, stenographers, ticket sellers and gatekeepers number forty people. It carries a Red Cross department composed of a physician and surgeon and two assistants, a corps of trained nurses and a graduate pharmacist who has his stock of drugs. It also has a veterinary surgeon and several aids. It has its own harness shop, wagon shop and paint shop, employing in all fifty people.

An expert lawyer travels with the show. It is his business to adjust all legal complications, and these are more numerous than many suppose.

The show in question has 400 performers and fifty clowns, thirty-eight elephants and as many of the animal kingdom as can be captured and as will live in this climate. The feeding of these animals keeps several men who are posted in prices and food busy. It takes daily seven tons of hay, 200 bushels of oats, 150 bushels of corn, six tons of straw, fifty bushels of bran and two or three carcasses of beef for lions and tigers and 700 bushels of vegetables to satisfy the hunger of caged and uncaged animals that help to make up the big show.

In the cooling tent 300 pounds of beef are necessary daily for the people who feed in the tent. In addition, there is purchased every day 150 pounds of mutton, 200 pounds of pork, and on two days of the week 650 chickens are bought and prepared. Two hundred dozen eggs, 800 loaves of bread, a half barrel of sirup and ten barrels of apples, alternating with other fruits in season, are purchased every day. Canned goods are bought by the gross. It takes sixty waiters to serve the meals. A high salaried chef and eight assistants and a pastry cook and three assistants prepare the dishes.

It requires experts to arrange for the billing of the show, advertising it and conducting the publicity department. The staff that attends to these features must be men of education, judgment and energy. The treasurer of such an organization must of necessity be a man of business and of the highest character. He has several assistants who must likewise be men who are alert and accurate. The business end of a big show is prodigious. That's the word.

Victor Herbert's Vision.

When Victor Herbert was the leader of the Seventh regiment (N. G. N. Y.) band he gave concerts at a stated festival. The arrangement of the program was in the hands of a committee of ladies who knew their music. To them Herbert submitted a list of the names of the great composers. There was an-left off—Simbling. Sometimes the committee wrangled over Herbert's list except when they came to the name of Simbling. His scherzo from the "Symphony in D" was never eliminated from the program. No member of the committee had ever heard of Simbling. They simply knew his name was on the list, and they knew his music. That was enough, plus the fact that he was a favorite with Herbert. Herbert was often asked to tell the story of his discovery, but he always shrugged his big shoulders when asked "Whence Simbling?" He might have said and maybe he did say it in the words of one of the ancients, "The unknown is held to be gloriously impressive."

Came the time when Victor Herbert was a master of concert music and a composer of renown. They know him away out in some of the one night stands as well as he is known in the great cities. And how often has his orchestra played the fetching music of Simbling? Still the question, "Who is Simbling, the favorite of Victor Herbert?"

The spell is broken. There is no Simbling. There never was a Simbling.

THREE OF THE PRINCIPAL CHARACTERS IN "THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER"

The three hundredth performance of "The Chocolate Soldier," the run of which production at the Casino theater, in New York city, has been unprecedented, will occur within a few weeks. On this occasion an intermezzo specially written by the composer, Oscar Straus, will be played for the first time. It is the opinion of those who have heard both the intermezzo for "The Chocolate Soldier" and the one in "Cavalleria Rusticana," that the single photograph in the group is that of Miss Ida Brooks Hunt, the center photograph is that of Miss Hunt

The scherzo from the "Symphony in D" was a wonderful vision. It was a creation of the brain of Victor Herbert. Simbling is Victor Herbert, or vice versa, as you prefer.

Nibbling his luncheon and sipping his favorite vintage from the Rhine at the Lamb club the other day, he was asked about the truth of the story here written, and, with a blush in his face, the composer of the most popular concert music in this country confessed.

An Actress Who Bites.

Benrimo (J. H.), who takes the part of Anton Schindler in the dramatic biography of Beethoven, which closes the season at the New theater, in New York city, has a scar on one arm which it is not necessary to exhibit, but he never will forget how he got it. He was the principal support of an actress whose name, like Benrimo's scar, must remain under cover. She and Benrimo had a little fit before the curtain went up. Somewhere in one of the acts it was Benrimo's place to smooth and admire the jeweled arm of the star. He went through his part all right, but just as he finished speaking his lines the star, whose part it was just then to caress the bared arm of Benrimo, sank her pearly teeth into the flesh in a way not called for by the book. She drew the blood from Benrimo's arm, and if he had not been an old actor he would have screamed with pain. Fortunately for him the curtain went down on the act. Benrimo hurried to his dressing room, and the wound was bandaged by a physician who happened to be near by. In the subsequent parts of the play there was no occasion for the two to get close together. But the next day Benrimo informed the manager that he would not go on that night unless the actress was muzzled. Meanwhile the talented lady had repented of her biting propensities, and a truce was declared. At the close of the season Benrimo refused to be booked with the lady for the next season.

Playhouse Landmarks.

Old time playgoers who used to visit New York and such as continue to migrate that way occasionally will not find many familiar playhouses in the metropolis. Only three of these familiar old houses under their old names remain. The Academy of Music, Daly's and Wallack's continue as they were. And the Academy is soon to go into vaudeville. Of course there is the old house where Tony Pastor used to appear with that perennial smile, but as a theater proper it is no more, although it caters to people who like the continuous show. The Union Square that knew Stoddard, Charlie Thorne and Richard Mansfield, for it was in that house that Mansfield took his first step toward the heights, is plastered over with vaudeville signs.

The other day a new hand took hold of Wallack's. This is not the original Wallack's. The first was built in 1861 by James W. Wallack. It stood at the corner of Broadway and Thirtieth street. When its founder passed away he was succeeded by Lester Wallack, that finished actor and accomplished gentleman and one who always looked as if he had stepped out of the knightly creations of Walter Scott. He built the Wallack's still standing at Broadway and Thirtieth street. And what plays Lester Wallack brought out in this house! When he "slept with his fathers" the company scattered. Then the house, after some uncertain stages, passed to the management of A. M. Palmer, who had been the spirit of the old Union Square. In an unguarded moment Palmer rubbed out the name of Wallack and substituted his own. He might as well have written Ichabod over the lintel, for the house under his management failed, and the name of Wallack stood out again in its old place, a reminder of the man who made it famous.

Recently Charles Burnham got a lease of the house, and he ordered that the name of Wallack should remain so long as Burnham is manager. So Wallack's it is—one of the few theatrical landmarks of the big city that old time visitors will recognize.

Four Cities in the Scheme.

New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston will each have a theater in which only European plays will be produced. The plan has been worked out in London by Charles Frohman, A. L. Erlanger and Henry W. Savage. The plan also will include European players, many of whom have never been seen in this country. In connection with this comes the announcement that a London manager is arranging to obtain a number of vaudeville houses in our northwestern states and contemplating erecting several theaters for this line in New York.

The Only Lillian.

The most alert press agent has to sit up late to work out a story about Lillian Russell that will get into type. It would be the extreme of ungallantry to intimate that encroaching years had anything to do with this case. But there have been so many. However, when one blows in from Iowa one is tempted to open the box. It happened at Sioux City. Maybe you have noticed that all Iowa stories are dated from Sioux City or Burlington, although Council Bluffs does built in now and then.

The sleeping car in which the "airy fairy" was dreaming—singers and actresses always dream—was on the side track, probably waiting for the freight to pass. A young man managed to reach the car of the manager of the company and asked him to arouse Lillian from slumber. The manager is reported to have said that Miss Russell always slept twelve hours and that was why she was always young (be sure that the manager did not overlook any Russell bets).

The late caller thought if Miss Russell was told that a young man who used to live in St. Charles, Ill., was waiting to see her she would "shake off death's counterfeit." Just what connection there was between the sleeping beauty and the Illinois town the manager could not divine. But the night prowler sprung it. When he was a kid living in St. Charles—now St. Charles is a suburb of Chicago—Nell Leonard used to come to his mother's house. Nell Leonard was the family name of Lillian Russell. The kid's mother was noted all over town for making the best light bread, and she was an artist in smearing it over with molasses in a way that made the eaters have brighter visions than ever except over a plantation negro when he was gashing the juiciest watermelon. Nell Leonard doted on the bread, smeared molasses and often put duge. Often—many a time, no doubt—she went home with the plantation treacle soured over her sunny face. The caller said as a kid he often led her home while Nell shook the flies that swarmed about her molasses covered countenance. Maybe if the manager would whisper the recollection in the ears of Miss Russell she would arise like a spirit from a fountain. But the manager shook his head. Not even the vision of Nell Leonard (now Miss Russell) with sugary splottches on her face would move the managerial wretch. And the caller went away in the depths of the Iowa night, sorrowful, no doubt.

MISS MABEL HACKNEY.

Miss Mabel Hackney, in private life Mrs. Laurence Irving, is now playing the role of Julie to Mr. Irving's M. Dupont in Eugene Brieux's play, "The Three Daughters of Monsieur Dupont," at the Comedy theater, New York city. The theme of the play is the unhappiness caused by a typical marriage of convenience, due primarily to the mercenary selfishness of M. Dupont. There are three daughters, the principal being Julie.

Hippodromes in Cold Storage.

What becomes of the properties of a hippodrome after it has run its course in New York, for up to the present time only New York has had a hippodrome in this country? Just now there are four hippodromes stored away in the metropolis. These are to be utilized next season. Chicago is to have a hippodrome, and so is Philadelphia. The shows in storage in New York are to be unboxed and sent to the cities named. Not only are the properties to be shipped to new homes, but some of the people are also to go. Marceline, for instance, who has been seen by nearly every child in Greater New York, as well as by many from out of town, is to "retire" next season in Chicago. Marceline has never been out of New York in his funny business since the New York Hippodrome opened. As most people who have seen him know, he is an Englishman. He probably couldn't tell offhand whether Chicago is in Illinois or in

Legislative Committee Investigates Its Pollution With Axe and Then Ended His Own Life

CONCORD, N. H., April 27.—His less, terror-stricken wife. mind unbalanced by the strain of living with his nervously ill wife, Herman Clough, who was about 45 years old, had been confined to her bed with a nervous disorder for nearly six months. Clough had been acting strangely for a few days but nobody supposed him insane. He killed his wife with one blow of the axe as she lay in bed yesterday killed his wife by splitting her head with an axe and then cut his own throat with a meat knife, dying instantly. Clough also attempted to kill his wife's nurse, Miss Elsie Hodge, who, though but a frail girl, tried to wrest the weapon from the hands of the madman as he wielded it over the help-one being considered at the present time was introduced by Senator Nason of Haverhill. The bill is not favored in this city, because it would give the state board of health the entire control of the Merrimack river and its tributaries. If the bill should pass the state board of health could at any time order a change in the sewerage system in Lowell and bring about a heavy and unwarranted expense to the city. Members of the committee on public health who came to Lowell today included the senate chairman, J. P. Parker; Dr. Oliver, house chairman; Rep.

Thomas Cuff of Lowell and Reps. Lantman, Brophy, Hall, Montgomery, Dr. Smith and Dr. Seth Arnold. The delegation called at the city hall to visit the mayor and look the place over, and then they went out on a tour of inspection.

LOSS OF $530,000

Anheuser-Busch Plant Damaged

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 27.—Fire of unknown origin caused a loss estimated at $530,000 in the mammoth plant of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association early today and for a time threatened the entire establishment with destruction. Five hundred thousand bottles of beer were destroyed and millions of burning corks made such a dense smoke that the firemen fought the flames in a black smudge. The streets about the plant flowed with beer for more than an hour and smoking corks bobbed up and down in the streams. Big orchestra, Associate, tonight.

LAMP EXPLODED

And Woman Was Fatally Burned

NEW YORK, April 27.—The flight of Mrs. Adele Rudolph with clothing ablaze from her home on Staten Island is believed today to have been due to fear on the part of the young wife and mother that the flames which enveloped her might be communicated to the room in which her three small children were asleep. Mrs. Rudolph, with clothing and hair entirely burned from her waist found outside her home late last night. She was barely alive and died today in a hospital. It is believed that blazing oil was thrown upon Mrs. Rudolph by an exploding lamp and that she fled to the open in self sacrifice, anxious for the safety of her children who were unharmed.

HALLEY'S COMET

Has Brightened Since Last Friday

CAMBRIDGE, April 27.—The return of clear weather in the morning skies shows that Halley's comet has brightened rapidly since last Friday and is now clearly visible to the naked eye shortly after 3 a.m. The comet is displaying a fine brush-like tail of some three degrees in length while the nucleus shines with a brightness of between 2.5 and 3 magnitude. Prof. O. C. Wendell at the Harvard observatory was able to make a number of interesting observations this morning despite the moonlight and the hastening dawn and his photometric measurements showed the nucleus to be 6.01 magnitude. Halley's comet has not yet attained so spectacular stage as that of comet A seen in the western sky in January but the rapidity with which it has increased in brightness during the past five days gives promise of a fine display in the course of a week and astronomers have great hope that when it emerges from the bright sunlight in the west next month it will prove a most interesting celestial picture. The comet is now moving through the constellation of Pisces and for a day or two will be a short distance east of the bright star in the southeastern corner of the great square of Pegasus.

SALE OF WOMEN'S COATS and FURS

From the J. Brest Co.'s Bankrupt Stock

This lot of clothing we bought with the stock of furniture. There was about $6000 worth. We sold most of it in Brockton and would have easily sold the balance in another week. But we were anxious to open the sale of furniture in Lowell by the 10th of April, so we shipped balance of furniture, clothing and all here so you can have your share of the bargains. And it is a good, clean, stylish lot of goods, as we saved out the best for our Lowell customers. Here are the prices:

3 Women's Coats, worth $5.00, sale price.....	$1.45
20 Women's Coats, worth $10 to $15, sale price.....	$4.95
9 Women's Coats, worth $12.50 to $18, sale price.....	$6.95
3 Women's Coats, worth $15 to $20, sale price.....	$8.95
2 Women's Coats, worth $22, sale price.....	$10.95

We sold every suit, skirt and waist in Brockton; but there were two suits on which a small deposit was made and they did not call for them, so they're for sale. One suit $4.95 and one $7.50.

AN AEROPLANE FLIGHT

Was Witnessed by Colonel Roosevelt in Paris

PARIS, April 27.—For the first time ex-President Roosevelt yesterday saw an aeroplane flight. It was a very short one, and the aeronaut, Emile Dubonnet, had a narrow escape from injury. Col. Roosevelt journeyed to Issy-les-Moulineaux, as the guest of the Academy of Sports. There a large crowd had gathered, including cabinet ministers and noted aviators. Unfortunately, a strong wind was blowing and it seemed as though the promised flight would have to be abandoned. Not wishing to disappoint Col. Roosevelt, Dubonnet volunteered to go up in the face of the gale. He had recently made a sensational flight over the city of Paris, and it was thought if anyone could give a good account of himself, that man was Dubonnet.

The ex-president was deeply interested in every detail of the start and he pressed forward as the machine left the ground. It was evident, however, that this was no day for flying and the aeroplane had hardly gone 150 yards when it came down with a swoop, almost capsizing as it struck the ground. One of the wings was broken, but Dubonnet was not hurt. Col. Roosevelt

Mr. Roosevelt, "that I am the first statesman to make an appeal to the Hague court—in a dispute between the United States and Mexico. A former government official should not give the impression that he believes he is still a government official but with this reserve, I am entirely in accord with you upon the necessity of a third Hague conference."

After a visit to the Luxembourg gallery in the morning, Mr. Roosevelt was conducted to the famous revolutionary prison in the wing of the Palais de Justice, known as the Conciergerie, where he inspected the dungeons among others that in which Marie Antoinette was confined prior to her execution.

Ambassador and Mrs. Bacon gave a dinner last evening of 28 covers in honor of Col. and Mrs. Roosevelt. The guests included Premier Briand, ex-President and Mme. Loubet, Foreign Minister and Mme. Pichon, the former ambassador to the United States and Mme. Jusserand, Count Desvieux, M. Lepine, prefect of Paris, Gen. Dalstein, military governor of Paris, M. Caron, president of the municipal council, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Montgomery Sears. One of the ex-president's visitors yesterday afternoon was the Indian prince, Jagatjit Singh Bahadur, maharaj of Kapurthala.

The last day in Paris of the Roosevelt party includes a visit to Vincennes this morning, where, under the direction of Gen. Dalstein the Paris garrison will be put through a series of evolutions.

In the afternoon there probably will be an excursion to Versailles, where fetes have been arranged, and in the evening Col. Roosevelt will be the guest at a dinner at the ministry of foreign affairs.

THE HOLY NAME

Of St. Patrick's Held a Banquet

The Holy Name society of St. Patrick's parish held a banquet in the school hall in Suffolk street last night and despite the inclement weather there was a large attendance and the affair proved to be a success.

The speaker of the evening was James E. O'Donnell, the well known local lawyer, who gave an interesting address on "The Manner of Conducting the Government of the Commonwealth."

Mr. O'Donnell spoke in part as follows:

"Our government is divided into three different branches, executive, judicial and legislative. The executive branch is composed of the governor and his council; the judicial, being made up of the justices of the supreme court, judges of the superior court and the district and police court judges, all of whom are appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, their terms of office being during good behavior, except trial judges whose terms are for three years, and justices of the peace who are appointed for seven years.

"The legislative branch is composed of the senate and the house of representatives. Like the executive department, the members of the legislature are elected by the people directly. The senate has 40 members, the presiding officer being designated as the president of the senate. The house has 210 members, its presiding officer being known as 'The Speaker.' In the senate the republican party generally has about 32 members, the democrats the balance, and in the house the democrats have a little over 70. Then there is another branch of the legislature known as the Third House, composed of representatives of those seeking special legislation, lobbyists and petitioners called 'The Lobby.'"

"When both branches assemble, which is on the first Wednesday in January of each year, they each proceed to the election of their respective presiding officers, both of whom are generally republicans."

The speaker then went into detail in explaining the panning and choosing of the different committees, the favored ones of the body receiving the most sought-for positions.

"After all of these preliminaries have been gone over and the different committees assigned to their respective rooms, the real work begins and from then the scenes about the state house during the session, are indeed busy ones."

Lawyer O'Donnell then explained the different courses bills go through before they are finally made laws, and what becomes of the different measures allowing them are favorably acted on or otherwise. He also explained the work of the lobbyists and what an important part they sometimes play in the enactment or defeat of bills. In closing he said: "In my brief experience as a member of the legislature, I met high-minded men, animated with desires to be of real service to their state and their constituents—a body of men in whom all the people might safely have confidence."

She Took Dose of Car-bolic Acid

ALTON, Ill., April 27.—Nina Anthis, 18 years old, committed suicide in school yesterday in the presence of her teacher and thirty schoolmates, by drinking carbolic acid.

She left a pathetic note in which she said that her heart was broken because her foster mother scolded her. She asked that she be buried with a favorite doll and a wedding ring that had been left by her own mother.

B. &amp; M. AGREEMENT

BOSTON, April 27.—A new agreement affecting the locomotive engineers on the entire Boston & Maine system, some 1250 employees, has been entered into by the officials of the road and the men's union, satisfactory to all parties, according to an announcement made yesterday. The engineers made no requests for increase in wages but asked a readjustment of the men's working schedules.

Nothing was given out as to the details of the agreement, it being stated the new schedules were technical and of little general interest.

HIGHWAY BILL

Sen. Hibbard Presents a Revised Bill

Senator Hibbard has framed and introduced in the senate his revised bill for the construction of the state highway between Lowell and Lawrence and it has been referred to the committee on ways and means. While differing from the original measure the revised bill embodies the points cleared up at the hearings held on the original bill for the highway and by the visit of the joint committee on roads and bridges here some time ago.

It differs from the original measure in that it specifically provides for the construction of the highway along the line of the Boston & Northern street railway along the bank of the Merrimack river, and that it divides the cost to the cities and towns affected somewhat differently.

As in the original bill, it is provided that the cities and towns in each county shall divide equally the cost of constructing that portion of the road which lies in that county. Unlike the original bill, however, it is provided that of the share to be paid by the cities and towns, 55 per cent. shall be paid by the city and 15 per cent. by the town.

As a result of this division, it is estimated that the whole cost to fall upon Middlesex county, the city of Lowell and the town of Andover, will be $11,500. Of this, the county will pay half, or $5,750, the city of Lowell will pay $1,875, and the town of Andover $3,875.

The cost to Essex county, Lawrence and Methuen will be about $16,000. This will mean an expenditure of $3000

REV. FR. FALLON, O. M. I. MAN WAS KILLED

Was Consecrated Bishop of London, Ontario By the Collapse of a Folding Bed in New York

The Hamilton, Ont., Herald published the following story of the consecration of Bishop Fallon at London, Ont.: The Right Rev. F. M. Fallon, a native of Canada and formerly of Buffalo, N. Y., was formally consecrated bishop of London by Archbishop McEvay, of Toronto, and the ceremony lasted about four hours. The church was crowded. Seven archbishops and many bishops, with three hundred priests from all over Canada and the United States, were present.

A special car containing about forty clergy and prominent Catholic laymen from Hamilton arrived early in the morning. Among the clergy were his lordship Bishop Dowling, Vicar-General Mahony, Rev. J. H. Coty, Rev. R. M. Brady, Rev. J. Bonomi, Rev. A. J. Leves, Rev. J. O'Connell, and Rev. Fr. Webb, of Owen Sound. The laymen included officers and other representatives of the various Catholic societies, and especially of the Knights of Columbus, of which the new bishop is an enthusiastic member.

Fr. Fallon arrived in London Saturday evening from Tewksbury, Mass., where he has been in retreat for some days, and was taken at once to Mount St. Joseph, where he remained in retirement until his consecration, which took place in St. Peter's cathedral at 9.30.

Prominent priests from all over the country arrived in scores and the consecration, in addition to its importance as a church ceremonial, was a remarkable tribute to the popularity of the new bishop of London.

Archbishop McEvay was assisted by Bishop Scollard of Sault Ste. Marie, and Bishop McDonald of Alexandria, Right Rev. Monsignor Shanahan, of Washington, D. C. arrived Saturday afternoon, and besides celebrating the consecration sermon, preached in St. Peter's cathedral on Sunday morning. Rev. Fr. Nolan, O. M. I., of Lowell, Mass., also arrived Saturday afternoon. He preached at the pontifical vesper.

Saturday afternoon a number of the local members of the Knights of Columbus met and presented Fr. Fallon with a magnificent crosier, which was used at the consecration. Father Fallon expressed his great pleasure at the gift.

Bishop Fallon's great parents and six brothers arrived in London Saturday and will be the guests of honor at a reception to be held in the Sacred Heart convent.

Special trains bearing priests and Knights of Columbus arrived Sunday morning from Hamilton, Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Buffalo, Detroit and other places.

Among the eminent priests who were present are Archbishops Langvin, of St. Boniface; Bruchesi, Montreal; Gauthier, Kingston; Quigley, Chicago;

McCarthy, Halifax; Dionien-Well, Rome, now at Ottawa, and Bishops Dowling, Hamilton; Barrie, Chatham; Pombro, Pembroke; O'Connor, Peterborough; Sherrin, Sarnia; Leves, Buffalo; Hickey, Rochester; Foley, Detroit; Muldoon, Chicago; Scollard, Sault Ste. Marie, and McDonald, of Alexandria.

The greatest gathering of the Catholic clergy and laity that has ever been seen in western Ontario was in the city to attend the consecration. At 9.15 the procession left St. Peter's palace, Bishop Fallon's future residence, and proceeded to the cathedral. The archbishop, accompanied by his two assistants, Archbishop Scollard, of Sault Ste. Marie, and Archbishop McDonald, of Alexandria. In front of the altar was a beautiful cross and four golden candlesticks. Archbishop McEvay offered a short prayer and then took his place on the faldstool. Bishop Fallon, vested and wearing his biretta, was led between the archbishops Scollard and McDonald before the altar.

Archbishop Scollard then rose and, addressing the consecrator, asked that he promote Father Fallon to the burden of the episcopate. Archbishop McEvay asked that the apostolic mandate appointing Father Fallon bishop of London be read. This was done by Father Aylward, London, who then took the oath of office.

After Archbishop McEvay then conducted the usual examination and consecration, at the conclusion of which Father Fallon was led back to his chair between the archbishops and there he received the pectoral cross and, after being invested with the tunics, was led back to the altar and read the whole office of the mass. He then knelt before the consecrator and blessed the pastoral staff, and the beautiful diamond ring presented to Father Fallon by M. P. Davis, Ottawa, and gave them to him, placing the ring on the ring finger of his right hand. He then gave Father Fallon the keys of peace, after which Father Fallon returned to his chair and mass was gone on with the consecration. Several prayers were said and then the consecrator blessed the mitre and placed it on the head of Bishop Fallon, who knelt before him. Upon arising he was enthroned on the faldstool by the assistants, and then led around the church between them while he blessed the people.

At the conclusion of the consecration which occupied nearly four hours, a dinner was held in the new parish hall of St. Peter's, which has just been completed. At this dinner all the priests of the diocese were present. The consecration was a striking testimonial of the popularity of the new bishop. Four hundred of his former parishioners in Buffalo came in a special train. Hundreds of the members of the Knights of Columbus, Catholic Order of Foresters, Ancient Order of Hibernians, Catholic Mutual Benefit Society and others were present and many handkerchiefs and flowers were presented to Bishop Fallon. Monsignor Neuner, Windsor, presented an address of welcome from the priesthood. Senator Coffey read an address from the laymen and a special speech from home was made by Right Rev. Monsignor Shanahan. Father Loefer, of Buffalo, also gave an address. Bishop Fallon will preach his first sermon in St. Peter's cathedral next Sunday morning.

DOWNED BY BEAR

NEW YORK, April 26.—With his body badly torn and mangled by teeth and claws, and his left arm almost torn from its socket, Richard Spicer, a keeper at the Bronx Park zoo, was rescued unconscious this afternoon from the bear pit after a desperate struggle with an angry bear. His condition is critical.

Elwyn Sandborn, a photographer, escaped from the pit with minor hurts after a hard fight with the animal. Spicer attempted to make the bear sit up and pose for a photograph with her cubs, and she sprang upon him. Pulling him with a terrific blow with her paw she threw him by the arm and dragged him into the den, clawing and mauling him.

Sandborn grabbed an iron bar and rushed to the rescue of Spicer, who was unconscious, but the bear turned on him. The photographer, however, managed to fight her off with the bar until the cries of a hundred spectators brought other attendants who beat the bear off and rescued the imperiled men.

THREATEN TO STRIKE
KANSAS CITY, April 27.—Machinists of five railroads entering Kansas City yesterday delivered their ultimatum in which they demand a 25 percent increase of three cents an hour is granted. The roads affected are the St. Louis and San Francisco, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, the Kansas City Terminal railroad and the Missouri Pacific R. R. Co. The machinists are now receiving 27 cents an hour. The companies, it is said, have promised a two cent increase.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

NEW YORK, April 27.—Through the collapse of a folding bed in which he was sleeping William Smith, described as a paper manufacturer of Waterbury, Conn., was instantly killed early today. His neck was broken. Mrs. Smith, who was with her husband on a business trip to this city was caught in the grip of the bed's mechanism as it closed up and was saved down upon them. The Waterbury police when communicated with by telephone informed the local authorities that they could find no William Smith.

WAR OPERATIONS

Were Witnessed by Col. Roosevelt on Vincennes Field

PARIS, April 27.—Col. Roosevelt, this morning saw a portion of the garrison of Paris perform war operations on the field of Vincennes outside the gates of that town. Accompanied by Gen. Dalsien, military governor of Paris, American Ambassador Bacon, M. Jusserand and Major T. Bentley Mott, military attaché at Paris, he drove in an automobile to the famous chateau of Vincennes, which was built in the 12th century and is now used as a barracks. Entering the keep he was received with military honors. Here the party, with the exception of M. Jusserand, mounted horses and escorted by a platoon of lancers rode out to the manoeuvring field, an open space one and a half miles long lying between the chateau and the forest of Vincennes, where a series of evolutions was executed rapidly under perfect conditions in order to give Mr. Roosevelt an opportunity to observe the technical methods of the French army. The manoeuvres simulated an attacking army consisting of a regiment of chasseurs-a-pied, a regiment of dragons, two battalions of infantry, a battery of artillery in pursuit of a retreating army whose retirement was being protected by three field batteries, a battalion of zouaves and a battalion of dragons.

The attackers advanced in open formation under protection of the guns making frequent rushes, the machine guns attached to each unit firing at the end of every rush. As the rear force of the retreating army fled before the charge of the dragons, the spectacle was a thrilling one. Col. Roosevelt warmly congratulated Gen. Dalsien upon the dash and good display by the troops and the admirable fashion in which the operations were conducted.

When the manoeuvres were concluded the troops retired before Gen. Dalsien and Col. Roosevelt while the massed bands played the "Star Spangled Banner."

BOY IS MISSING ON DEATH BED

Believed to be in Brattleboro, Vt. Brookline Man Married Housekeeper

BOSTON, April 27.—Mrs. Mary Doyle of 14 Sarsfield street, Roxbury, mother of George A. Doyle, the 14 year old boy who has been missing from home since April 5, yesterday received a letter from Brattleboro, Vt., which seems to be the most tangible clue yet received to his whereabouts.

It was written by Miss Loretta Turner, daughter of the proprietor of the Brattleboro hotel, and the description she gives of a boy who came there last Saturday night seems to fit the missing boy. Doyle had, and Mrs. Doyle, his father, feels that the lad Miss Turner gave him, she said, was a very much like her son. Turner read the description and saw the picture in the paper she was struck with the resemblance between the two.

When the boy was asked by the hotel man whether there was anybody with him or not, he said "No," but he was discovered that he had a companion, another boy about 16 or 17 years old. Mr. Doyle thinks the second boy, who is also described by Miss Turner, must be George Hannon of 41 Cabot street, with whom, he thinks, his son went away.

The letter, which is dated April 25 and was received by Mrs. Doyle yesterday, follows:

Brattleboro, Vt., April 25, 1910. "Mrs. Doyle—I have read an article today in a Boston paper and it also gave a picture of your missing son. Now I do not wish to say positively that I have seen him, but the picture is very much like him and I am sure that the younger boy, answering to the description of your son, were a brown suit, knee pants, white tie and blue cap. The shoes and stockings I did not notice."

He asked the clerk Sunday morning if he could hire a room for a week, and finding the price too high, decided not to remain here. Dear Mrs. Doyle, we all feel very sorry for you and will do all in our power to find him. If he is around this town, trusting you will receive tidings of him very soon and that God will deliver him safely into your hands. Write me very soon. "Miss Loretta Turner."

"Dakota Dan" Russell Here

DAKOTA DAN RUSSELL

Was a Caller at the Sun Office
This Afternoon

Daniel Blake Russell, "Dakota Dan," the conspicuous figure in the great Russell will case, was a caller at the Sun office this afternoon. Mr. Russell said that he would call at the Sun office. He had less than five minutes to spare and did not talk much about the recent will case.

He had paid a visit however, to an old Melrose boy, Frederick B. Leeds, the Melrose square ticket agent. Mr. Leeds said that he had a real good talk over old times with Dakota Dan, and Mr. Leeds allows that Dan knows all about Melrose in the olden days. Mr. Leeds said: "I left Melrose before Dakota Dan Russell and I was too young to remember him. I left Melrose 40 years ago. Mr. Russell called at my office this afternoon and we had a real good chat. He knew all about places that I had heard my father talk about and it seems to me that he must have lived there years ago. I recalled certain persons and incidents that I had heard my father talk about and Mr. Russell seemed perfectly familiar with them. I enjoyed his visit very much."

TWO MEN KILLED

BOSTON, April 27.—Two men were killed and three badly injured by a train on the New Haven road striking an auto truck at the Pipes Hill station shortly after noon today.

LEATHER MANUFACTURER INDICTED

BOSTON, April 27.—Addison M. Thayer of Franklin, a well known leather manufacturer, was indicted by the United States grand jury today for sending an improper letter through the mail to a colored woman.

AMERICAN GIRL SMITH KILLED

Said to Have Been Former Head of Paper-makers Association

WASHINGTON, April 27.—While theories of suicide and murder have been advanced as the cause of the drowning of Miss Estelle Reed, the young American art student whose body was found on a beach near Naples, Italy, the report of U. S. Consul Greenfield at that city, received at the state department today indicates that the young woman was accidentally drowned.

GIANT JEWELRY FRAUD

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Attorney General Clegg today announced that he had made public late today a statement regarding the government's action in assisting to unearth the gigantic jewelry fraud disclosed in New York from which merchants of various cities are said to have suffered. Investigation was made by the department of justice, following representations to it that certain persons engaged in these frauds were guilty of violation of the national bankruptcy laws. Mr. Clegg's statement was called to the White House early in the day which delayed the publication of the data on the subject for him by the bureau of investigation.

LEWIS, April 27.—A despatch from New York states that Wellington Smith of this town, formerly president of the American Papermakers Association, was killed in that city today. Smith was a prominent manufacturer and was formerly a member of the executive council when General Benjamin F. Butler was governor of Massachusetts.

VERDICT OF $3750

WAS AWARDED FOR LOST LOVE YESTERDAY

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 27.—A judgment of $3750 was given in the superior court yesterday to Mrs. Ida Rowley, who sued Mrs. A. Holland Forbes, wife of the aeronaut, for alleged alienation of the affections of her husband, Ernest, who was a chauffeur for Mrs. Forbes. The suit was for $7500 damages, and what was in effect a default was recorded in court, as there was no appearance of Mrs. Forbes.

The evidence introduced by the plaintiff consisted mostly of letters alleged to have been written by the defendant to the plaintiff's husband.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MEETING

NEW YORK, April 27.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Associated Press held in this city today the board elected Frank B. Noyes of the Washington (D. C.) Evening Star as president, R. M. Johnson of the Houston (Tex.) Post vice president and Frank McLean of the Topeka (Kas.) Journal as second vice president. The board also elected Melville E. Stone as secretary, Charles S. Dyer as assistant secretary and J. R. Yount as treasurer.

The board also elected members of the board of directors as members of the executive committee.

VANDERBILT'S HORSE SECOND

PARIS, April 27.—Clatterfoot, owned by W. K. Vanderbilt, finished second in the Prix de la Forêt which was run at Tremblay today.

ENGLISH AERONAUT'S FLIGHT

KELIHER IS BAILED

Bonding Company Put Up the Sum of $25,000

"Big Bill" Kellher, who since Friday night had been lodged in the Charles street jail, under arrest on charges alleging connection with the looting of the National City bank of Cambridge, was released yesterday afternoon upon the acceptance by the federal authorities of a $25,000 recognition by a bonding company.

Early in the afternoon Daniel H. Coukley, Kellher's counsel, had a conference with U. S. Dist. Atty. Asst. P. French at which the latter expressed his willingness to accept the surety offered. The preliminaries were then gone through, and shortly before 4 o'clock Kellher was brought in a closed carriage from the jail to the federal building by Deputies Waters and Tighe.

He was taken to the marshal's office and placed in the cage while the formalities were gone through by Mr. Coukley and Asst. U. S. District Atty. William H. Garland.

The bond was entered by Earl M. Lamphere, vice president of the bonding Co. and was pronounced acceptable by Assistant District Atty. Garland. The defendant was brought out of the cage and taken into the adjoining office of Commissioner Hayes.

Mr. Coukley then suggested that the continuance of the hearing before the commissioner set for Saturday might be annulled and his client be allowed to plead not guilty and be held immediately for the United States grand jury. This proposed short cut, however, met with opposition from Asst. Dist. Atty. Garland, and the suggestion was withdrawn by Mr. Coukley, bail was then formally entered at 4.30, and the defendant released.

Kellher, who has borne very ungraciously his four days, seemed greatly relieved at his return to freedom, and lost no time in hurrying out of the federal building with his counsel. Both Kellher and Mr. Coukley declined to discuss any feature of the case or their plans.

Yesterday the United States circuit court grand jury resumed its special session to consider the Kellher case, and it is expected to report this morning. If it brings in an indictment against Kellher, the case will be taken out of Commissioner Hayes' hands. Saturday's hearing will then be annulled and Kellher may be called on to plead. In this event he will be required to continue or renew bail.

A feature of yesterday's proceedings was a conference between District Attorney French with Asst. District Attorney Garland and others of his official staff, which presumably had to do with the testimony submitted to the grand jury and the protection of witnesses from newspaper interviews.

Mr. French subsequently in a talk with reporters gave vigorous expression to his intention to prevent such interviews, in the interest of justice. He implied that any violation of his wishes in this regard would bring contempt of court proceedings upon the offender.

COST OF LIVING INJURIES FATAL

Short Weight Packages Make High Prices

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Short weight packages and secret agreements between wholesalers and retailers are largely responsible for the high cost of living, according to statements of witnesses yesterday before the house committee investigating the subject.

Dr. Wm. C. Woodward, health officer of the District of Columbia, told of short weight bread, flour and other necessities of life.

Col. W. C. Haskell, superintendent of weights and measures, declared that everyone of the 300,000 barrels of flour sold in Washington, were short four pounds each of the advertised weight and that Washingtonians were paying annually $42,000 for flour which they never received.

STRIKE IS AVERTED

SPRINGFIELD, April 27.—A compromise agreement between the Springfield and Worcester street railway companies and their employees was reached last night, according to a semi-official authority. It is stated that the companies and men have agreed upon a sliding scale of wages, of from 22 to 27 cents an hour for motormen and conductors for five years. About 4200 men are affected.

DR. BURRILL DEAD

BOSTON, April 27.—Dr. Herbert Leslie Burrill, former president of the American Medical association, surgeon general in charge of the hospital ship "Albatross" during the Spanish war, and one of the leading members of the medical profession in New England, died last night at his home in Newbury street, of heart failure. He was born in Boston in 1856 and graduated from the Harvard medical school in 1879. He leaves a widow and two sons.

TO INCREASE RATES

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 27.—The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company plans for increasing passenger rates upon the system now being worked out will be based on the density of traffic upon the road's lines, and will arrange for an increase from about two per cent. upon the main stem to nearly or quite 25 per cent. upon the most unprofitable branches. Upon some of the latter the increase may be from two cents a mile to half cents a mile, the rate which prevailed before the general reduction was made on the whole system three years ago. The mileage book system, however, will probably be continued at the old rate of two cents a mile plus two cents for each fraction of a mile. The readjustment will be based upon the theory that the increases will nearly or quite make good the increased cost of operation caused by the increase of wages in the various operating branches of the service.

THE POLICE

Chief Says That They Are Constantly Violating Rules

BOSTON, April 27.—Chief Charles A. Kendall of the Somerville police department in a general order read at roll call last evening took the members of the department severely to task in one of the most stinging arraignments they have ever been subjected to.

In part, he said: "From personal observation I am thoroughly convinced that many of the officers are continually violating the rules of this department, namely, not properly patrolling their routes; improperly ringing in duty calls; neglecting at signal boxes; conversing with each other; unnecessarily standing and talking with persons; walking with persons on their routes, etc."

"Within a short time I saw one day a patrolman standing talking in one place for a period of 17 minutes. On night recently, while making a tour of the city covering a period of 3½ hours and visiting nearly every part of the city, I saw four patrolmen out of 29 who were supposed to be on duty."

"One was standing alone on Broadway; the next visited the fire station of engine company 2 and was inside for 15 minutes; the next was standing talking with two men in Magoun square, and the fourth was standing talking with a group of four or five young men in front of a drug store in the western part of the city for a period of 30 minutes."

"At Devine's corner at 10.45 p. m. there was a crowd of young men standing on the corner singing and acting in a boisterous manner. There was no officer in sight."

"The public, whose servants you are, have a right to expect and demand better police service than this. I shall expect more rigid attention to duty in the future and all violations of the rules will be summarily dealt with."

"The lieutenants and sergeants on duty in the station house will report

PRINCETON CLUB

Dancing Party

The Princeton club, an organization composed of young men who reside in Centralville, gave a minstrel show and dancing party in Associate hall last night. The excellent program and the manner in which it was carried out proved conclusively that there is plenty of good talent in the club.

The popularity of the members of the club was evidenced by the large attendance and the event proved a success both from a social as well as a financial standpoint.

The interior of the hall was prettily decorated with the club's colors, yellow and black. A new curtain, made of two large American flags, was seen for the first time last evening. This added greatly to the decorative feature.

The overture was carried out in a manner which reflects much credit on the young men and ladies who assisted them. Then came the songs which were so well-received that it was necessary for each soloist to respond to an encore.

Andrew Doyle made a hit with "Meet Me Tonight in Dreamland," and John Mayne gave "The Anybody Here Seen Kelly" in his own inimitable way. The refrain to the latter piece was given by the entire chorus. Miss Katherine Fay was loudly applauded after her rendition of "Laura Lee."

One of the hits of the evening was "I'm Going Home," by Joseph Furlong, but no one believed him. Miss Mae Delman pleased the audience with "I'm Glad I'm Irish."

Miss Ada Gordon gave that lively and tuneful rag-time selection "Wild Cherry Rag," and James Scanlon rendered "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." Anthony Doyle's number was "Bumble Bee," a pretty conceit. And Miss Margaret McDonough, with the green spot light shining on her sang "We'll Go Back to Erin Some Day, Mavourneen."

Miss Mabel Knight, who was one of the "men," provoked laughter with her rendition of "You'll Come Back." Herbert McKenzie gave "The Hat My Father Wore," and James Lyons, a tenor, sang pleasingly "Just Like a Rose." Daniel Gray's song was "I Wish I Had

My Old Girl Back Again.

A quartet composed of James Lyons, Fred Robert and Bert Lindsey sang a brace of numbers that proved highly popular. The performance, closed with the stately song, "Bohemian," the entire company participating in it. The members of the chorus were: Misses Florence Nolan, Mayme Carroll, Mabel LeClair, Elizabeth Cotterill, Mae O'Brien, Margaret O'Brien, Mae O'Brien, Nellie Hurley, Ina McCaskill, Harriet Clancy, Mamie McDonald, Mae Clark, Josie Shea, Lena Collins, Annie Russell, Marietta Gildee, Anna Kelley, Norah Slattery, Annie Breen, Agnes Kelley.

Charles D. Slattery, who has considerable reputation as a producer of entertainments, was largely responsible for last night's show. The orchestra was under the direction of Emil J. Borjes. George E. Donckus was a suave, dresy interlocutor.

Dancing was begun about 10.30 o'clock and was continued until midnight.

WILL NOT BE ANNEXED

NEW YORK, April 27.—Annexation of Newfoundland either to the United States or Canada is a visionary project, according to Sir Edward Morris, premier of the island, who expressed this view at a farewell dinner given in his honor by countrymen at the Hoffman house last night previous to his departure to attend the fisheries conference at The Hague.

TWO SPEEDY ATHLETES WHO WILL

PAUL KIRJASSOFF

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—Great preparations have been made for the University of Pennsylvania's 16th annual relay race carnival to be held on Franklin field April 30. The contests will bring together the biggest and finest lot of college and scholastic athletes in the country to compete in a series of relay races and special events. Never before in the history of scholastic and collegiate sport has such a fine set of entries been received for any meet. Two hundred and twenty-three teams have sent word that they will be on hand to battle for honor and glory. One of the features of the meet is the magnificent entry list of colleges. Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Cornell, Syracuse, Dartmouth, Amherst, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Lafayette, Penn State, Pittsburg, and Virginia will all have representatives here. The one mile college championship seems to be the favorite event for the American athlete, and there will be no exception to the rule on April 30, for no less than nine colleges representing the entire country, have entered. Chicago, the present champion, Michigan and Illinois, both of whom chased Slogg's men to the

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM OTHER AMERICAN CITIES

Washington, D. C.—First steps toward placing permanent markers on historic sites within the District were taken at the New Willard hotel at a meeting of the committee to accomplish this work. W. P. Van Winkle is chairman of the committee, which was appointed by the commissioners. The committee is permanent in its character. It is expected that by Independence day at least one or two prominent historic sites in the city will be marked with a suitable bronze tablet or some other equally permanent form of identification.

ELECTRIC THEATRES

Chicago, Ill.—Electric theatres should be owned by the municipality for the purpose of improving the morals of our young. In the opinion of Chief of Police Stewart, who made the suggestion to Ald. Bellus, of the Small parks commission. The alderman will lay the matter before the proper aldermanic committee. Chief Stewart believes in the educational value of the well-conducted five-cent theatre, but realizes the damage improper shows do. He explained the trouble in revoking licenses and said such things as proprietors permitting children to smoke cigarettes and otherwise misbehave behind the scenes would not be possible if he could get the theatres under his jurisdiction. The theatres ought to be established in the small parks, he says, and only adults should be charged the full five-cent price of admittance—children under 16 might be charged two cents, under 10 years of age one cent, or be admitted free. The first thing after that the theatres should be constructed of corrugated iron, so that they could be moved about and used for voting purposes or supplementary schoolrooms in the crowded districts.

PLAYGROUNDS IN HOLYOKE

Holyoke, Mass.—The city of Holyoke is taking the playground act most seriously, and Building Inspector Frank O'Connell, who is to be general supervisor of the playground activities, has already mapped out the season's campaign, which will begin the last of May. There are three large skating rinks opened and maintained by the city during the winter time, each one of which will be used as a wading pool during the summer months. The total expended for the three was less than $50, and Mr. O'Connell points to the fact that no Holyoke children were drowned while skating the past season, although in previous years one or two drowning accidents always occurred, and often five or six. Prospect Park and Riverside Park were equipped with playground apparatus by the board of park commissioners previous to the passage of the playground act, and will be continued along the same lines as last season. Three new playgrounds will be fully equipped, located as follows: West street, in ward 1; Hampden street between Linden and Beech, and Maple street north of Canal street. The equipment of each will include a baseball field, swimming pool, boys' outdoor gymnasium, girls' outdoor gymnasium, a green for dances and a wading pool. In addition there will be playground apparatus of a minor nature, such as sandboxes, swings, teeters, etc., at six of the schoolhouses, Highlands, South Chestnut, Elm street, Kirtland, Park and Appleton streets. About $20,000 will be spent. It is estimated that between 3,000 and 4,000 children will be accommodated in pleasant weather. The $20,000 spent will be largely for permanent apparatus and grading, so that another year the bill will be but a fraction of the amount expended this year.

ABOUT CITY AUTOS

Minneapolis, Minn.—E. R. Dutton, assistant city engineer, was instructed by the City Council Ways and Means Committee to allow C. A. Bloomquist, city treasurer, to use the city automobile assigned to him for official business. The city treasurer will use it twice a month in distributing pay checks to city employees, thus saving rental expense of $25 to $50 a month. It has often happened that the car assigned to the engineer was lying idle while other city officials were paying $4 an hour rent for automobiles for official business. Last year $400 was expended in automobile hire by the treasurer's office. At the last election

the city clerk spent $269 for similar purposes.

RAG STORAGE IN CHELSEA

Chelsea, Mass.—Judge Bosson in the Chelsea police court has nullified the second effort of the board of control to regulate the storage of rags. The court held that the word "rag" as defined in the dictionary does not include new clippings of worsted cloth serviceable for patching. One of the first things done by the board after the fire was to prohibit rag shops unless regulated by the chief of the fire department. Most of the rag dealers in Chelsea, re-established their rag shops without a license, and in a case to test the validity of the ordinance the supreme court decided that the board of control had no right to delegate the power of licensing. When the board made its second ordinance Chelsea had almost as many rag shops as before the fire. It is probable that still another effort will be made to regulate the business.

News of a Great Purchase

Probably the largest purchase of unbleached sheetings ever made by a New England firm—outside the manufacturing corporations—was consummated by us a few days ago when we closed a deal with the Salvage company, on account of the underwriters, for nearly 250,000 yards of unbleached sheetings slightly damaged by the recent fire on the Clyde line steamship Onondaga while at her wharf in Boston Feb. 27. Before offering these goods for sale the insurance underwriters had the entire lot thoroughly dried and put in shape.

A special selling of greater proportions than Lowell has ever experienced—a sale which we anticipate will attract customers from all over New England—will soon be announced.

Dyspepsia and Nervouness

Entirely cured by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey after other medicines did her no good. Now Mrs. Houck recommends it to all her friends. She recently wrote:—

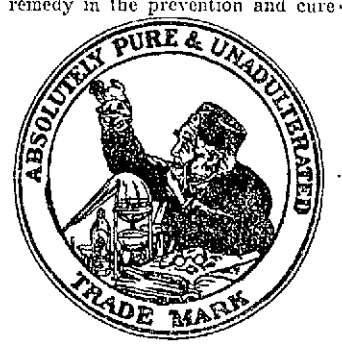

"Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done me so much good I intend to always keep it on hand. About two years ago when I was feeling all run down I consulted a physician. He pronounced my trouble a species of dyspepsia and nervousness. I had taken two bottles of other medicine and they had not helped me. When a friend recommended Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, I am pleased to say that it has cured me entirely, and I do not hesitate to give it my indorsement. I shall recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey to all my friends."—Mrs. Frances Houck, 423 E. Water St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Coming Big Fight Divides Interest With Baseball

By TOMMY CLARK.

PARAPHRASING an oft quoted line, the whole world loves a heavyweight fight for the championship. The coming battle between Jim Jeffries and John Spong undoubtedly has aroused more worldwide interest than any other fight ever staged. In the history of the world there have been several fights that were truly great. Nearly every one knows something about the great struggle be-

VIC WILLIS.

Manager Roger Bresnahan of the St. Louis Nationals is highly elated over the early showing of Vic Willis, whom he obtained from the Pittsburgh since the close of last season. In fact, Vic is now twirling as good ball as he ever did.

tween David and Goliath. Mythology chronicles the desperate battle between Hector and the invulnerable Achilles, and nearly every male child has heard of the Sullivan and Kilrain scrap. But not one of these can compare in point of interest with the Jeffries-Johnson mill. It is figured that the crowd that will cheer the winner at the Emeryville race track, Emeryville, Cal., on Independence day will be ten times as great as the mob that howled when Spartacus won the gladiatorial championship and as many times as great as the gangs that saw Hector do his sprint around the walls of Troy before Achilles put him out.

Throughout the east, south, north and parts of the west special trains are being chartered to carry the enthusiasts of the different cities to the scene of the battle. But America is not alone interesting itself in the big fight. The promoters have had orders for ringside seats from England and other parts of Europe, while even far-off Australia and India will be represented. Such enthusiasm is astonishing and has no parallel in the history of sports.

It will have a far-reaching effect, too, this scramble to get to the battle-ground. It will test the capacity and power of the railroads to the straining point and affect business in general.

Why? Because it is a battle between the greatest white pugilist against an equally great black man and a heavy-weight battle in which the outcome is in doubt.

There has been a lot of frenzied writing about the probable receipts, and some of the unthinking have estimated that $500,000 or even $1,000,000 will be taken in at the box office. It should be said that about $250,000 will cover the receipts very nicely.

They are saying that a full million will be bet on the result. A million is a lot of money, but there are many wise boys and hunches who are quietly stowing away the dollars against the time when the betting begins to be lively, and it is possible that the aggregate of the wagers at the last will look like a picture of the national debt.

Is it not barely possible that retirement of all this coin to stakeholders' hands might bring on stringency, tight money and large uncertainty? This is not the financial editor's department, but it is humbly suggested that if the Jeffries-Johnson mill takes the money out of circulation, as some of the sport writers say it will do, the treasury experts had better arrange to have all the big prizefight transactions carried out by check.

At least it is wise to leave enough money in circulation to handle prosperity. We want no more clearing house certificates.

Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American league baseball club, says:

"To discontinue the present style of spikes would slow up the game. None of the substitutes that we have examined would have the effect of the old spikes. I admit that they are dangerous, but I think it would be better to adopt safeguards such as shin guards or something like that instead of doing away with the spikes. In my mind baseball is just fast enough, and we should take no chances of reducing that speed in any way."

Splendid! "Spikes are dangerous!" But what are a few crippled players more or less compared to the delights of a dashing steal to third base?

"Adopt safeguards, such as shin guards or something like that!" Shin guards would not slow up the game—not much more than molasses would the legs of a fly. "None of the substitutes would have the effect of the old spikes!" It is not necessary to give them a fair trial, ent murderous spike will be found where it belongs—in the ash heap.

Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Americans has the record for securing great players for almost nothing. Perhaps Eddie Collins, his star second baseball player, was made than that by which McGraw acquired Pitchers Rube Marquard and Durham for a total of $16,000. Marquard costing $11,000. Durham was hardly given a show ere he was chased to Canada or some other distant wilds, while Marquard has

that he is worth every cent paid for him.

There is some doubt in certain quarters as to whether the return of Johnny Kling to the Chicago "Nationals" will add enough strength to give that team a chance to beat out Pittsburgh for the banner this year. It is argued that the Cubs were not weak behind the bat last season, that Archer did everything in the way of receiving that Kling could possibly have done and that the additional batting that Kling would bring will not be sufficient to make a material difference in the team's standing.

It is the opinion of the members of the Cubs, however—that is, of the veterans on the team—that the presence of Kling will make a great difference in the team because of his knowledge of the game and the fact that the players know his style and have a lot of confidence in him. One ball player often makes a wonderful difference in a team, and it may be that Kling is just the man to help the Cubs to another flag.

But to most persons who last year watched closely the Chicago team work it wasn't so much the want of a catcher that hurt the club as it was the inefficiency of the pitching department at the start of the year.

Frank Gotch, the world's heavyweight wrestler, may not have such an easy time with the gentlemen whose name looks like a bunch of pied types, Zybisco, whom he is to meet in Chicago on May 14. Recently the Gallien met Dr. Roller, the Seattle physician and crack wrestler, in Kansas City and threw him after a hard struggle. Next to Gotch, Roller is considered the best mat artist in America. In the recent contest the European showed that he possesses great defensive strength. It almost makes one believe that the failure of Gotch to throw him within an hour's time limit in Buffalo some time ago was not merely for exhibition and get the money purposes.

Zybisco has a neck about one thirty-second of an inch in height and as thick as a Norwiche elm. In his bout with Roller nelson holds sild off him like rain off a slicker. He is so tremendous a man physically that he is very difficult to handle, and, while his own attack is weak as compared with Gotch's, he is a hard man to throw.

Gotch's toe hold will be needed to put this man on his back. At that he has broken this terrible punishing hold several times.

Have you stopped to consider that the most football rules practically mean that the quarterback is a thing of the past save in title? For several years the tendency has been to have as a quarterback a player who stacks up about the average with the other backs in weight and height. Some teams have even had at quarter a man bigger and heavier than the other men back of the line. Now this is made compulsory if it is expected to turn out a good eleven.

In the first place, there is no restriction that the man who first receives the ball from the center—or snapper back—must run five yards outside before crossing the line of scrimmage. That does away with the necessity of playing a man directly back of center to receive the ball and pass it to the man selected to run with it.

Then there is a new rule allowing but four men back of the line of scrimmage, which minimizes interference and means the backs must rely largely on their own exertions. Obviously, all else being equal, the team that has three heavy and fast backs and one light and fast back is not going to be as well equipped for offense as the eleven that has four heavy and fast men back of the line.

It would not be surprising next fall to find all backs standing in a row about the same distance back of the line of scrimmage and with any of them receiving the leather, according to the signal called. Certainly the game has seen some radical changes.

Business End of a Circus

By FRANK H. BROOKS.

UNTIL wild geese honk their flight to the northland the white tents of the circus will rise and fall in the cities and towns of the country. MISS IDA CONQUEST.

Miss Ida Conquest, one of the favorite beauties of the American stage and an actress whose merits require no acclaim, is now playing a conspicuous role in Ibsen's "Little Eyolf," of which Mme. Nazimova is the star, at the new Nazimova theater in New York city. Miss Conquest's last appearance previous to the present was in "A Little Brother of the Rich."

sent its ludicrous features. Although humorously presented, "The Chatterbox" gets an advance notice, and in one of the big shows the homecoming of Colonel Roosevelt and Kerriell is foreshadowed.

Aside from all this, the circus has a business end that will command the respect of business men and an organization that requires brains and capital.

One of the best known shows on the road requires eighty-nine railroad cars to transport it from point to point. Its list of performers and supernumeraries foot up to 1,000 men and women. It has

vas. This canvas means eighteen tents. The big tent seats nearly 16,000 people. Fifty ushers are employed to seat the audience. It feeds from its own killing tent more than 1,000 persons. The clerical force of press agents, stenographers, ticket sellers and gatekeepers number forty people. It carries a Red Cross department composed of a physician and surgeon and two assistants, a corps of trained nurses and a graduate pharmacist who has his stock of drugs. It also has a veterinary surgeon and several aids. It has its own harness shop, wagon shop and paint shop, employing in all fifty people.

An expert lawyer travels with the show. It is his business to adjust all legal complications, and these are more numerous than many suppose.

The show in question has 400 performers and fifty clowns, thirty-eight elephants and as many of the animal kingdom as can be captured and as will live in this climate. The feeding of these animals keeps several men who are posted in prices and food busy. It takes daily seven tons of hay, 200 bushels of oats, 150 bushels of corn, six tons of straw, fifty bushels of bran and two or three cures of beef for lions and tigers and 700 bushels of vegetables to satisfy the hunger of caged and uncaged animals that help to make up the big show.

In the cooking tent 300 pounds of beef are necessary daily for the people who feed in the tent. In addition, there is purchased every day 150 pounds of mutton, 200 pounds of pork, and on two days of the week 550 chickens are bought and prepared. Two hundred dozen eggs, 800 loaves of bread, a half barrel of sirup and ten barrels of apples, alternating with other fruits in season, are purchased every day. Canned goods are bought by the gross. It takes sixty waiters to serve the meals. A high salaried chef and eight assistants and a pastry cook and three assistants prepare the dishes.

It requires experts to arrange for the billing of the show, advertising it and conducting the publicity department. The staff that attends to these features must be men of education, judgment and energy. The treasurer of such an organization must of necessity be a man of business and of the highest character. He has several assistants who must likewise be men who are alert and accurate. The business end of a big show is prodigious. That's the word.

Victor Herbert's Vision.

When Victor Herbert was the leader of the Seventh regiment (N. G. N. Y.) band he gave concerts at a stated festival. The arrangement of the program was in the hands of a committee of ladies who knew their music. To them Herbert submitted a list of the names of the great composers. There was an-

because the manufacturers might be forced to carry a big stock of the old ones and suffer a loss. How true the old saying, "A man convinced against his will is of the same opinion still." Some men can argue around a circle and rest content. Some day the pres-

baseman, is his most conspicuous success. But, strange to say, John McGraw, manager of the New York Nationals, probably has the record of paying more for "gold bricks" than the rest. It is doubtful if ever a deal of more conspic-

The scherzo from the "Symphony in D" was a wonderful vision. It was a creation of the brain of Victor Herbert. Simbling is Victor Herbert, or vice versa, as you prefer.

Nibbling his luncheon and sipping his favorite vintage from the Rhine at the Lamb club the other day, he was asked about the truth of the story here written, and, with a blush in his face, the composer of the most popular concert music in this country confessed.

left off—Simbling. Sometimes the committee wrangled over Herbert's list except when they came to the name of Simbling. His scherzo from the "Symphony in D" was never eliminated from the program. No member of the committee had ever heard of Simbling. They simply knew his name was on the list, and they knew his music. That was enough, plus the fact that he was a favorite with Herbert. Herbert was often asked to tell the story of his discovery, but he always shrugged his big shoulders when asked "Whence Simbling?" He might have said and maybe he did say it in the words of one of the ancients, "The unknown is held to be gloriously impressive."

Came the time when Victor Herbert was a master of concert music and a composer of renown. They know him away out in some of the one night stands as well as he is known in the great cities. And how often has his orchestra played the fetching music of Simbling? Still the question, "Who is Simbling, the favorite of Victor Herbert?"

The spell is broken. There is no Simbling. There never was a Simbling.

Benrimo (J. H.), who takes the part of Anton Schindler in the dramatic biography of Beethoven, which closes the season at the New theater, in New York city, has a scar on one arm which it is not necessary to exhibit, but he never will forget how he got it. He was the principal support of an actress whose name, like Benrimo's, scar, must remain under cover. She and Benrimo had a little lift before the curtain went up. Somewhere in one of the acts it was Benrimo's place to smooth and admire the jeweled arm of the star. He went through his part all right, but just as he finished speaking his lines the star, whose part it was just then to caress the bare arm of Benrimo, sank her pearly teeth into the flesh in a way not called for by the book. She drew the blood from Benrimo's arm, and if he had not been an old actor he would have screamed with pain. Fortunately for him the curtain went down on the act. Benrimo hurried to his dressing room, and the wound was bandaged by a physician who happened to be near by. In the subsequent parts of the play there was no occasion for the two to get close together. But the next day Benrimo informed the manager that he would not go on that night unless the actress was muzzled. Meanwhile the talented lady had repented of her biting propensities, and a truce was declared. At the close of the season Benrimo refused to be booked with the lady for the next season.

Playhouse Landmarks.

Old time playgoers who used to visit New York and such as continue to migrate that way occasionally will not find many familiar playhouses in the metropolis. Only three of these familiar old houses under their old names remain. The Academy of Music, Daly's and Wallack's continue as they were. And the Academy is soon to go into vaudeville. Of course there is the old house where Tony Pastor used to appear with that perennial smile, but as a theater proper it is no more, although it caters to people who like the continuous show. The Union Square that knew Stoddard, Charlie Thorne and Richard Mansfield, for it was in that house that Mansfield took his first step toward the heights, is plastered over with vaudeville signs.

The other day a new hand took hold of Wallack's. This is not the original Wallack's. The first was built in 1861 by James W. Wallack. It stood at the corner of Broadway and Thirtieth street. When its founder passed away he was succeeded by Lester Wallack, that finished actor and accomplished gentleman and one who always looked as if he had stepped out of the knightly creations of Walter Scott. He built the Wallack's still standing at Broadway and Thirtieth street. And what plays Lester Wallack brought out in this house! When he "slept with his fathers" the company scattered. Then the house, after some uncertain stages, passed to the management of A. M. Palmer, who had been the spirit of the old Union Square. In an unguarded moment Palmer rubbed out the name of Wallack and substituted his own. He might as well have written "chaebor" over the lintel, for the house under the name of Wallack stood again in its old place, a reminder of the man who made it famous.

Recently Charles Burnham got a lease of the house, and he ordered that the name of Wallack should remain so long as Burnham is manager. So Wallack's it is—one of the few theatrical landmarks of the big city that old time visitors will recognize.

Four Cities in the Scheme.

New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston will each have a theater in which only European plays will be produced. The plan has been worked out in London by Charles Frohman, A. L. Erlanger and Henry W. Savage. The plan also will include European players, many of whom have never been seen in this country. In connection with this comes the announcement that a London manager is arranging to obtain a number of vaudeville houses in our northwestern states and contemplates erecting several theaters for this line in New York.

The Only Lillian.

The most alert press agent has to sit up late to work out a story about Lillian Russell that will get into type. It would be the extreme of ungallantry to intimate that encroaching years had anything to do with this case. But there have been so many. However, when one blows in from Iowa one is tempted to open the box. It happened at Sioux City. Maybe you have noticed that all Iowa stories are dated from Sioux City or Burlington, although Council Bluffs does butt in now and then.

The sleeping car in which the "airy fairy" was dreaming—singers and actresses always dream—was on the side track, probably waiting for the freight to pass. A young man managed to reach the car of the manager of the company and asked him to arouse Lillian from slumber. The manager is reported to have said that Miss Russell always slept twelve hours and that was why she was always young (be sure that the manager did not overlook any Russell bets).

The late caller thought if Miss Russell was told that a young man who used to live in St. Charles, Ill., was waiting to see her she would "shake off death's counterfeit." Just what connection there was between the sleeping beauty and the Illinois town the manager could not divine. But the night prowler sprung it. When he was a kid living in St. Charles—now St. Charles is a suburb of Chicago—Nell Leonard used to come to his mother's house. Nell Leonard was the family name of Lillian Russell. The kid's mother was noted all over town for making the best light bread, and who was an artist in making it over with molasses in a way that made the water hole brighter vision than even when he was gashing the juiciest watermelon ever. Nell Leonard dated on the offhand bread smeared molasses and often ran

Julge. Often—many a time, no doubt—she went home with the plantation treacle soured over her sunny face. The caller said as a kid he often led her home while Nell shoed the flies that swarmed about her molasses covered countenance. Maybe if the manager would whisper the recollection in the ears of Miss Russell she would arise like a spirit from a fountain. But the manager shook his head. Not even the vision of Nell Leonard (now Miss Russell) with sugary smudges on her face would move the managerial wretch. And the caller went away in the depths of the Iowa night, sorrowful, no doubt.

MISS MABEL HACKNEY.

Miss Mabel Hackney, in private life Mrs. Laurence Irving, is now playing the role of Julia to Mr. Irving's M. Dupont in Eugene Brien's play, "The Three Daughters of Monsieur Dupont," at the Comedy theater, New York city. The theme of the play is the unhappiness caused by a typical marriage "of convenience," due primarily to the mercenary selfishness of M. Dupont. There are three daughters, the principal being Julie.

Hippodromes in Cold Storage.

What becomes of the properties of a hippodrome after it has run its course in New York, for up to the present time only New York has had a hippodrome in this country? Just now there are four hippodromes stored away in the metropolis. These are to be utilized next season. Chicago is to have a hippodrome, and so is Philadelphia. The shows in storage in New York are to be unboxed and sent to the cities named. Not only are the properties to be shipped to new homes, but some of the people are also to go. Marceline, for instance, who has been seen by nearly every child in Greater New York, as well as by many from out of town, is to "act" next season in Chicago. Marceline has never been outside of New York in his funny business since the New York Hippodrome opened. As most people who have seen him know, he is an Englishman. He probably couldn't tell offhand whether Chicago is in Illinois or in

THREE OF THE PRINCIPAL CHARACTERS IN "THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER"

The three hundredth performance of "The Chocolate Soldier," the run of which production at the Casino theater, in New York city, has been unprecedented, will occur within a few weeks. On this occasion an intermezzo specially written by the composer, Oscar Strauss, will be played for the first time. It is the opinion of those who have heard both that the intermezzo for "The Chocolate Soldier" surpasses the one in "Cavalleria Rusticana." # THE RIVER AGAIN KILLED HIS WIFE

Legislative Committee Investigates With Axe and Then Ended His Own Life

The legislative committee on public health came to Lowell this forenoon to look into the matter of the pollution of the Merrimack river in this city. The bill relative to the pollution of the river is a sort of annual affair and the CONCORD, N. H., April 27.—His mind unbalanced by the strain of living with his nervously ill wife, Herman W. Clough, a railroad switchman, late yesterday killed his wife by splitting her head with an axe and then cut his own throat with a meat knife, dying instantly.

Clough also attempted to kill his wife's nurse, Miss Blinnie Hodge, who, though but a frail girl, tried to wrest the weapon from the hands of the maniac as he wielded it over the helpless, terror-stricken wife.

Mrs. Clough, who was about 45 years old, had been confined to her bed with a nervous disorder for nearly six months.

Clough had been acting strangely for a few days but nobody supposed him insane. He killed his wife with one blow of the axe as she lay in bed and then turned on the nurse and his 15-year-old daughter, but they escaped. Clough then ran a big knife into his throat. He was about 50 years old.

one being considered at the present time was introduced by Senator Nelson of Haverhill.

The bill is not favored in this city, because it would give the state board of health the entire control of the Merrimack river and its tributaries. If the bill should pass the state board of health could at any time order a change in the sewerage system in Lowell and bring about a heavy and unwarranted expense to the city.

Members of the committee on public health who came to Lowell today included the senate chairman, J. P. Parker; Dr. Oliver, house chairman; Rep.

Thomas Cuff of Lowell and Reps. Lamm, Brophy, Hall, Montgomery, Dr. Smith and Dr. Seth Arnold.

The delegation called at the city hall to visit the mayor and look the place over, and then they went out on a tour of inspection.

Anheuser-Busch Plant Damaged

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 27.—Fire of unknown origin caused a loss estimated at $530,000 in the mammoth plant of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association early today and for a time threatened the entire establishment with destruction.

Five hundred thousand bottles of beer were destroyed and millions of burning corks melted such a dense smoke that the firemen fought the flames in a black smudge. The streets about the plant flowed with beer for more than an hour and smoking corks bobbed up and down in the streams.

Big orchestra, Associate, tonight.

And Woman Was Fatally Burned

NEW YORK, April 27.—The flight of Mrs. Adele Rudolph, with clothing ablaze from her home on Staten Island is believed today to have been due to fear on the part of the young wife and mother that the flames which enveloped her might be communicated to the room in which her three small children were asleep.

Mrs. Rudolph, with clothing and hair entirely burned from her was found outside her home late last night. She was barely alive and died today in a hospital. It is believed that blazing oil was thrown upon Mrs. Rudolph by an exploding lamp and that she fled to the open in self-sacrificing anxiety for the safety of her children who were unharmed.

Has Brightened Since Last Friday

CAMBRIDGE, April 27.—The return of clear weather in the morning skies shows that Halley's comet has brightened rapidly since last Friday and is now clearly visible to the naked eye shortly after 3 a.m. The comet is displaying a fine brush-like tail of some three degrees in length while the nucleus shines with a brightness of between 2.5 and 3 magnitude.

Prof. O. C. Wendell at the Harvard observatory was able to make a number of interesting observations this morning despite the moonlight and the hastening dawn and his photometric measurements showed the nucleus to be 6.01 magnitude.

Halley's comet has not yet attained so spectacular a stage as that of comet A seen in the western sky in January but the rapidity with which it has increased in brightness during the past five days gives promise of a fine display in the course of a week and astronomers have great hope that when it emerges from the bright sunlight in the west next month it will prove a most interesting celestial picture.

The comet is now moving through the constellation of Pisces and for a day or two will be a short distance east of the bright star in the southeastern corner of the great square of Pegasus.

SALE OF WOMEN'S COATS and FURS

From the J. Brest Co.'s Bankrupt Stock

This lot of clothing we bought with the stock of furniture. There was about $6000 worth. We sold most of it in Brockton and would have easily sold the balance in another week. But we were anxious to open the sale of furniture in Lowell by the 10th of April, so we shipped balance of furniture, clothing and all here so you can have your share of the bargains. And it is a good, clean, stylish lot of goods, as we saved out the best for our Lowell customers. Here are the prices:

3 Women's Coats, worth $5.00, sale price.....	$1.45
20 Women's Coats, worth $10 to $15, sale price.....	$4.95
9 Women's Coats, worth $12.50 to $18, sale price.....	$6.95
3 Women's Coats, worth $15 to $20, sale price.....	$8.95
2 Women's Coats, worth $22, sale price.....	$10.95

We sold every suit, skirt and waist in Brockton; but there were two suits on which a small deposit was made and they did not call for them, so they're for sale. One suit $4.95 and one $7.50.

THE FURS

Regular price $6.50 to $25.00

We shall offer the above goods for only two days

TOMORROW AND FRIDAY

What is left unsold, if any, will be sold to some dealer who handles these goods. We have no room for such goods in our store.

For the Men, Saturday Only 30 Men's Suits, at $8.50

These are worth from $15 to $22. We have made just one price, first come gets the best.

2 Overcoats, one sold for $15 and the other for $21, come first and grab the best	$8.50
9 Boys' Overcoats	$2.95
2 Boys' Overcoats	$4.95

These sold for $6.00 to $10.00.

Remember—the sale of Women's Coats and Furs Thursday and Friday only; the Men's Clothing Saturday only, as we can't interrupt our big sale of Furniture. As we have carloads of that to sell and only a handful of clothing and at the price we are offering it, we should sell the whole of it in a few hours.

AN AEROPLANE FLIGHT

Was Witnessed by Colonel Roosevelt in Paris

PARIS, April 27.—For the first time ex-President Roosevelt yesterday saw an aeroplane flight. It was a very short one, and the aeronaut, Emile Dubonnet, had a narrow escape from injury. Col. Roosevelt journeyed to Issy-Les-Moulineaux, as the guest of the Academy of Sports. There a large crowd had gathered, including cabinet ministers and noted aviators. Unfortunately, a strong wind was blowing and it seemed as though the promised flight would have to be abandoned. Not wishing to disappoint Col. Roosevelt, Dubonnet volunteered to go up in the face of the gale. He had recently made a sensational flight over the city of Paris, and it was thought if anyone could give a good account of himself, that man was Dubonnet.

The ex-president was deeply interested in every detail of the start and he pressed forward as the machine left the ground. It was evident, however, that this was no day for flying and the aeroplane had hardly gone 150 yards when it came down with a swoon, almost capsizing as it struck the ground. One of the wings was broken, but Dubonnet was not hurt. Col. Roosevelt rushed forward and offered him his heartiest congratulations.

The aeroplane sheds were then visited and Count De Lambert and Earl O. Berg, European manager for the Wright machine, explained the operation of the machine. Count De Lambert planned to make a flight, but the wind had increased to such violence that it was found impossible. Prior to his return to Paris, M. De Villeneuve, president of the Academy of Sports, presented to Col. Roosevelt an honorary president of the academy's gold medal.

During the course of the afternoon Mr. Roosevelt received a deputation from the French parliamentary group for international arbitration, headed by former Premier Leon Bourgeois and Baron D'Estournelles de Constant.

The latter, in addressing the ex-president, said he counted upon Mr. Roosevelt's influence in the holding of a third peace conference at The Hague. To this Mr. Roosevelt replied that his influence could be taken for granted, "but," he added, "you must remember I am now a private citizen."

"I, too, am a private citizen," said M. Bourgeois.

Mr. Roosevelt, "that I am the first statesman to make an appeal to the Hague court—in a dispute between the United States and Mexico. A former government official should not give the impression that he believes he is still a government official but with this reserve, I am entirely in accord with you upon the necessity of a third Hague conference."

After a visit to the Luxembourg gallery in the morning, Mr. Roosevelt was conducted to the famous revolutionary prison in the wing of the Palais de Justice, known as the Conciergerie, where he inspected the dungeons, among others that in which Marie Antoinette was confined prior to her execution.

Ambassador and Mrs. Bacon gave a dinner last evening of covers in honor of Col. and Mrs. Roosevelt. The guests included Premier Briand, ex-President and Mme. Loubet, Foreign Minister and Mme. Pichon, the former ambassador to the United States and Mme. Jussierand, Count Desseines, M. Lepine, prefect of Paris, Gen. Dailest, military governor of Paris, M. Curion, mayor of the municipal council, M. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Montgomery Sears. One of the ex-president's visitors yesterday afternoon was the Indian prince, Jagatjit Singh Bahadur, maharajah of Kapurthala.

The last day in Paris of the Roosevelt party includes a visit to the gardens this morning, where, under the direction of Gen. Dailest, the Paris garrison will be put through a series of evolutions.

In the afternoon there probably will be an excursion to Versailles, where the house has been arranged, and in the evening Col. Roosevelt will be the guest at a dinner at the ministry of foreign affairs.

THE HOLY NAME

Of St. Patrick's Held a Banquet

The Holy Name society of St. Patrick's parish held a banquet in the school hall in Suffolk street last night and despite the inclement weather there was a large attendance and the affair proved to be a success.

The speaker of the evening was James E. O'Donnell, the well known local lawyer, who gave an interesting address on "The Manner of Conducting the Government of the Commonwealth."

Mr. O'Donnell spoke in part as follows: "Our government is divided into three different branches, executive, judicial and legislative. The executive branch is composed of the governor and his council; the judicial being made up of the justices of the supreme court, judges of the superior court and the district and police court judges, all of whom are appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, their terms of office being during good behavior, except trial judges whose terms are for three years, and justices of the peace who are appointed for seven years."

"The legislative branch is composed of the senate and the house of representatives. Like the executive department, the members of the legislative branch are elected by the people direct. The senate has 40 members, the president of the senate being designated as the president of the senate. The house has 210 members, its presiding officer being known as 'The Speaker.' In the senate the republican party generally has about 22 members, the democrats the balance, and in the house the democrats have a little over 100. Then there is another branch of the legislature known as the Third House, composed of representatives of those seeking special legislation, lobbyists sometimes called."

"When both branches assemble, which is on the first Wednesday in January of each year, they each proceed to the election of their respective presiding officers, both of whom are generally republicans."

The speaker then went into detail in explaining the naming and choosing of the different committees, the favored ones of the body receiving the most sought-for positions.

"After all of these preliminaries have been gone over and the different committees assigned to their respective rooms, the real work begins and from then the scenes about the state house during the session, are indeed busy ones."

Lawyer O'Donnell then explained the different courses bills go through before they become a law, and what becomes of the different measures, allowing they are favorably acted on or otherwise. He also explained the work of the lobbyists and what an important part they sometimes play in the enactment or defeat of bills. In closing he said: "In my brief experience as a member of the legislature, I met high-minded men, animated with desires to be of real service to their state and their constituency—a body of men in whom all the people might safely have confidence."

GIRL A SUICIDE

She Took Dose of Carbo-lic Acid

ALTON, Ill., April 27.—Nina Anthis, 13 years old, committed suicide in school yesterday in the presence of her teacher and thirty schoolmates, by drinking carbo-lic acid.

She left a pathetic note in which she said that her heart was broken because her foster mother scolded her. She asked that she be buried with a favorite doll and a wedding ring that had been left by her own mother.

B. & M. AGREEMENT
BOSTON, April 27.—A new agreement affecting the locomotive engineers on the entire Boston & Maine system, some 1250 employees, has been entered into by the officials of the road and the men's union, satisfactory to all parties, according to an announcement made yesterday. The engineers made no requests for increase in wages but asked a readjustment of the men's working schedules.

Nothing was given out as to the details of the agreement, it being stated the new schedules were technical and of little general interest.

HIGHWAY BILL

Sen. Hibbard Presents a Revised Bill

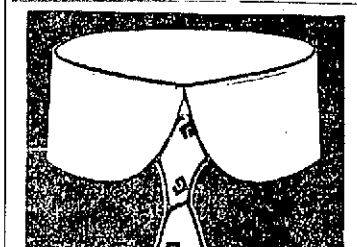

Senator Hibbard has framed and introduced in the senate his revised bill for the construction of the state highway between Lowell and Lawrence and it has been referred to the committee on ways and means. While differing from the original measure the revised bill embodies the points cleared up at the hearings held on the original bill for the highway and by the visit of the joint committee on roads and bridges here some time ago.

It differs from the original measure in that it specifically provides for the construction of the highway along the line of the Boston & Northern star railway along the bank of the Merrimack river, and that it divides the cost to the cities and towns affected somewhat differently.

As in the original bill, it is provided that the cities and towns in each county shall divide equally the cost of constructing that portion of the road which lies in that county. Unlike the original bill, however, it is provided that of the share to be paid by the cities and towns, 55 per cent. shall be paid by the city and 15 per cent. by the town.

As a result of this division, it is estimated that the whole cost to fall upon Middlesex county, the city of Lowell and the town of Dracut, will be $11,500. Of this, the county will pay half, or $5750, the city of Lowell will pay $4887.50, and the town of Dracut $662.50.

The cost to Essex county, Lawrence and Methuen will be about $16,000. This will mean an expenditure of $8000

BROOKSIDE LINE

L. &amp; F. R. R. Must Resume Its Service

The railroad commissioners have ordered the Lowell & Fitchburg street railway to resume the service from Brookside to Westford center, which has been suspended since winter.

The company is ordered to resume its service from the Centre to Brookside on a reduced schedule and under some other conditions not yet fully known here. The town will hold a mass meeting Friday evening in the town hall at 8 o'clock to consider the whole problem, and everybody is asked to attend, including the women.

Under the head of good and welfare interesting remarks were offered by Financial Secretary John McPadden, Grand Secretary Wm. H. Stafford and John Barrett. At the conclusion of the meeting whist was enjoyed by the members.

The lecture of the court is preparing for a series of lectures to be delivered by many prominent speakers from this city and throughout the state.

Odd Fellows
The regular meeting of Pilgrim encampment, A. O. U. E. was held Monday evening at the Centralville Odd Fellows hall. The regular business was transacted. An invitation from Rev. F. A. Macdonald to attend the service at the Fifth Street Baptist church Sunday evening, May 1, at 8:30 o'clock was accepted.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. John H. Billson and Miss Lillian T. Hoar were united in matrimony Tuesday afternoon at the parochial residence of the Sacred Heart church. Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I., officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Katherine A. Hoar, while Mr. Thomas W. Doyle was best man.

HESELTON-HESELTON
Mr. Herbert Heselton, a well known employee of the Lowell Automobile company, and Mrs. Emma M. Heselton were united in marriage by Rev. J. W. Stephan, pastor of the Worthen Street M. E. church, Monday evening.

COTTON CROP DESTROYED
NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—That the Southern planter is finding great difficulty in obtaining desirable cotton seed to replant the first crop destroyed by frost, was indicated by reports from Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia and other regions yesterday. A shortage of seed was needed before the cold spell. A great deal of choice seed already changed hands at $160 a ton. Much seed is offered at $40 and $50 a ton, but the cheaper grades have been found so full of dirt that they will only be used where no better can be had.

However, few cases of extortion have been reported in spite of conditions.

REV. FR. FALLON, O. M. I. MAN WAS KILLED

Was Consecrated Bishop of London, Ontario By the Collapse of a Folding Bed in New York

The Hamilton, Ont., Herald published the following story of the consecration of Bishop Fallon at London, Ont. The Right Rev. F. M. Fallon, a native of Canada and formerly of Buffalo, N. Y., was formally consecrated bishop of London by Archbishop McEvay, of Toronto, and the ceremony lasted about four hours. The church was crowded. Seven archbishops and many bishops, with three hundred priests from all over Canada and the United States, were present.

A special car containing about forty clergy and prominent Catholic laymen from Hamilton arrived early in the morning. Among the clergy were: his lordship Bishop Dowling, Vicar-General Mahony, Rev. J. H. Coffey, Rev. R. E. M. Brady, Rev. J. Bonnell, Rev. A. J. Leyland, Rev. F. O'Connell and Rev. F. Webb, of Owen Sound. The laymen included officers and other representatives of the various Catholic societies, and especially of the Knights of Columbus, of which the new bishop is an enthusiastic member.

Fr. Fallon arrived in London Saturday evening from Lakeshore, Mass., where he has been in retreat for some days, and was taken at once to Mount St. Joseph, where he remained in retirement until his consecration, which took place in St. Peter's cathedral at 9.30.

Prominent priests from all over the country arrived in scores and the consecration, in addition to its impressiveness as a church ceremonial, was a remarkable tribute to the popularity of the new bishop of London.

Archbishop McEvay was assisted by Bishop Scollard of Saint Ste. Marie, and Bishop McDonald of Alexandria, and Right Rev. Monsignor Shanahan, of Washington, D. C., arrived Saturday afternoon, and besides preaching the consecration sermon, preached in St. Peter's cathedral on Sunday morning. Rev. Fr. Nolan, O. M. I., of Lowell, Mass., also arrived Saturday afternoon. He preached at the pontifical vesper.

Saturday afternoon a number of the local members of the Knights of Columbus met and presented Fr. Fallon with a magnificent cross, which was used at the consecration. Father Fallon expressed his great pleasure at the gift.

Bishop Fallon's aged parents and six brothers arrived in London on Sunday and will be the guests of honor at a reception to be held in the Sacred Heart convent.

Special trains bearing priests and Knights of Columbus arrived Sunday from Buffalo, Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Detroit and other places.

Among the eminent priests who were present are Archbishops Langens of St. Boniface, Bruchesi, Montreal; Gauthier, Kingston; Quigley, Chicago;

McCarthy, Halifax; Dintien-Well, Rome, now at Ottawa, and Bishops Loring, Pembroke; O'Connor, Peterboro; Emard, Valleyfield; Queneau, Lacrosse; Sherbrooke, Quebec; Conlon, Buffalo; Hickey, Rochester; Foley, Detroit; Muldoon, Chicago; Scollard, Saint Ste. Marie, and McDonald, of Alexandria.

The greatest gathering of the Catholic clergy and laity that has ever been seen in western Ontario was in the city to attend the consecration. At 11.15 the procession left St. Peter's palace, Bishop Fallon's future residence. Father Fallon, in his ordinary priest's robes and surrounded by a bodyguard composed of Knights of Columbus from all parts of the United States and Canada, and accompanied by Archbishop McEvay of Toronto, led the way, and immediately behind came the archbishops, bishops, priests from throughout the diocese, and the acolytes.

The big cathedral was filled to the doors, and Father Fallon, who is a physical giant, standing six feet four inches, presented an impressive appearance as he passed through, followed by the priestly procession, resplendent in their gorgeous ceremonial robes, and advanced to the altar. Here Archbishop McEvay, the consecrator, took his place, accompanied by his two assistants, Archbishops Scollard of Saint Ste. Marie, and Archbishop McDonald, of Alexandria. In front of the altar was a beautiful cross and four golden candlesticks. Archbishop McEvay offered a short prayer and then took his place on the baldstool. Bishop Fallon, vested and wearing his biretta, was led between Archbishops Scollard and McDonald before the consecrator.

Archbishop Scollard then rose, and addressing the consecrator, asked that he promote Father Fallon to the burden of the episcopate. Archbishop McDonald, appointing Father Fallon bishop of London by word. This was done by Father Aylward, London, notary to the consecration. Father Fallon then took the oath of office.

After Archbishop McEvay then conducted the usual examination and confession, at the conclusion of which Father Fallon returned to his place, and then the archbishops, and then he received the pectoral cross, and, after being invested with the tunica, was led back to the altar and read the whole office of the mass. He then knelt before the consecrator and blessed the pastoral staff and the beautiful diamond ring presented to Father Fallon by M. P. Davis, Ottawa, and gave them to him, placing the ring on the ring finger of his right hand. He then gave Father Fallon the kiss of peace, after which Father Fallon returned to his place, and the mass was gone on with several prayers were said and then the consecrator blessed the mitre and placed it on the head of Bishop Fallon, who knelt before him. Upon arising he was enthroned on the baldstool by the assistants, and then led around the church between them while he blessed the people.

At the conclusion of the consecration which occupied nearly four hours, a dinner was held in the new parish hall of St. Peter's, which has just been completed. At this dinner all the priests of the diocese were present. The consecration was a striking illustration of the popularity of the new bishop. Four hundred of his former parishioners in Buffalo came in a special train. Hundreds of the members of the Knights of Columbus, Catholic Order of Foresters, Ancient Order of Foresters, Catholic Mutual Benefit society, and many other organizations were present, and many handsome gifts and addresses were presented to Bishop Fallon. Monsignor Meunier, Windsor, presented an address of welcome from the priesthood. The laymen and a special speech from the laymen was made by Right Rev. Monsignor Shanahan, of Washington, D. C., who gave an address. Bishop Fallon will preach his first sermon in St. Peter's cathedral next Sunday morning.

NEW YORK, April 26.—With his body badly torn and mangled by teeth and claws, and his left arm almost torn from its socket, Richard Spicer, a keeper at the Bronx Park zoo, was rescued unconscious this afternoon from the bear pit after a desperate struggle with an angry bear. His condition is critical.

Spicer, a photographer, escaped from the pit with minor hurts after a hard fight with the animal. Spicer attempted to make the bear sit up and pose for a photograph with her cubs, and she sprang upon him, felling him with a terrific blow with her paw. She then seized him by the arm and dragged him into the den, clashing and mauling him.

Sanderson grabbed an iron bar and rushed to the rescue of Spicer, who was unconscious, but the bear turned on him. The photographer, however, managed to fight her off with the bar until the cries of a hundred spectators brought other attendants, who beat the bear off and rescued the imperiled men.

THREATEN TO STRIKE
KANSAS CITY, April 27.—Machinists of five railroads entering Kansas City yesterday delivered their ultimatum in which they demand a strike will be called unless their demand of an increase of three cents an hour is granted. The roads affected are the St. Louis and San Francisco, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, the Kansas City Southern, the Kansas City Terminal and the Missouri Pacific R. R. Co. The machinists are now receiving 27 cents an hour. The companies, it is said, have promised a two cent increase.

BOY IS MISSING ON DEATH BED
Believed to be in Brattleboro, Vt.

BOSTON, April 27.—Mrs. Mary Doyle of 14 Sarsfield street, Roxbury, mother of George A. Doyle, the 14-year-old boy who has been missing from home since April 5, yesterday received a letter from Brattleboro, Vt., which seems to be the most tangible clue yet received of her son.

It was written by Miss Loretta Turner, daughter of the proprietor of the Brattleboro hotel, and the description she gives of a boy who came there last Saturday night seems to fit the missing Doyle well. Mr. Doyle, his father, is a son of the missing boy. When Miss Turner read the description and saw the picture in the paper she was struck with the resemblance between the two.

When the boy was asked by the hotel man whether there was anybody with him or not, he said "No," but he was discovered that he had a companion, another boy about 16 or 17 years old. Mr. Doyle thinks the second boy, who is also described by Miss Turner, must be George Hannan of 41 Cabot street, with whom, he thinks, his son went away.

The letter, which is dated April 25 and is signed by Mrs. Doyle yesterday, follows:

"Brattleboro, Vt., April 25, 1910. "Mrs. Doyle—I have read an article today in a Boston paper and it also gave a picture of your missing son. Now I do not wish to say positively that I have seen him, but the picture is very much like my son. He came to this hotel Saturday night and asked my father for a room. My father, who is the proprietor, asked the boy if he had baggage or anyone with him and the boy said 'No.' We later discovered he had a boy, about 16 or 17, with him wearing dark clothes and a gray suit. The younger boy, answering to the description of your son, wore a brown suit, knee pants, white tie and blue cap. The shoes and stockings I did not notice.

"He asked the clerk Sunday morning if he could hire a room for a week, and finding the price too high, decided not to remain here. Dear Mrs. Doyle, we all feel very sorry for you and will do all in our power to find him. If he is around this town, trusting you will receive tidings of him very soon and that you will deliver him safely into your hands. I remain sincerely, "Miss Loretta Turner."

NEW YORK, April 27.—Through the collapse of a folding bed in which he was sleeping William Smith, described as a paper manufacturer of Waterbury, Conn., was instantly killed early today. His neck was broken. Smith, who was with his husband on a business trip to this city was caught in the grip of the bed mechanism as it closed up and was only saved from suffocation by two young women who climbed through the upper part of a front window into the locked room and rescued her. She was unconscious when taken out, but will recover.

The elderly couple were visiting a friend at whose boarding house on West 23d street they were accustomed to stop when in this city. From some unknown cause their bed on the ground floor collapsed and the top fell down upon them. The Waterbury police when communicated with by telephone informed the local authorities that they could find no William Smith.

WAR OPERATIONS
Were Witnessed by Col. Roosevelt on Vincennes Field

PARIS, April 27.—Col. Roosevelt this morning saw a portion of the exercises of Paris perform war operations on the field of Vincennes outside the gates of that town. Accompanied by Gen. Dalstein, military governor of Paris, American Ambassador Bacon, M. Jusserand and Major T. Bently Mott, military attaché at Paris, he drove in an automobile to the famous chateau of Vincennes, which was built in the 14th century and is now used as barracks. Entering the keep he was received with military honors. Here the party, with the exception of M. Jusserand, mounted horses and escorted by a platoon of lancers rode out to the manoeuvring field, an open space one and a half miles long lying between the chateau and the forest of Vincennes, where a series of evolutions was executed rapidly under service conditions in order to give Mr. Roosevelt an opportunity to observe the technical methods of the French army. The manoeuvres simulated an attacking army consisting of a regiment of chasseurs-a-pied, a regiment of dragons, two battalions of infantry, a battery of artillery in pursuit of a retreating army whose retirement was being prosecuted by three field batteries, a battalion of zouaves and a battalion of dragons.

The attackers advanced in open formation under protection of the guns making frequent rushes, the machine guns attached to each unit firing at the rear and of every rush. As the rear guard of the retreating army fled before the charge of the dragons, the spectacle was a thrilling one. Col. Roosevelt warmly congratulated Gen. Dalstein upon the dash and go display by the troops and the admirable fashion in which the operations were executed.

When the manoeuvres were concluded the troops drilled before Gen. Dalstein and Col. Roosevelt while the massed bands played the "Star Spangled Banner."

BOY IS MISSING ON DEATH BED
Believed to be in Brattleboro, Vt.

BOSTON, April 27.—Mrs. Mary Doyle of 14 Sarsfield street, Roxbury, mother of George A. Doyle, the 14-year-old boy who has been missing from home since April 5, yesterday received a letter from Brattleboro, Vt., which seems to be the most tangible clue yet received of her son.

It was written by Miss Loretta Turner, daughter of the proprietor of the Brattleboro hotel, and the description she gives of a boy who came there last Saturday night seems to fit the missing Doyle well. Mr. Doyle, his father, is a son of the missing boy. When Miss Turner read the description and saw the picture in the paper she was struck with the resemblance between the two.

When the boy was asked by the hotel man whether there was anybody with him or not, he said "No," but he was discovered that he had a companion, another boy about 16 or 17 years old. Mr. Doyle thinks the second boy, who is also described by Miss Turner, must be George Hannan of 41 Cabot street, with whom, he thinks, his son went away.

The letter, which is dated April 25 and is signed by Mrs. Doyle yesterday, follows:

"Brattleboro, Vt., April 25, 1910. "Mrs. Doyle—I have read an article today in a Boston paper and it also gave a picture of your missing son. Now I do not wish to say positively that I have seen him, but the picture is very much like my son. He came to this hotel Saturday night and asked my father for a room. My father, who is the proprietor, asked the boy if he had baggage or anyone with him and the boy said 'No.' We later discovered he had a boy, about 16 or 17, with him wearing dark clothes and a gray suit. The younger boy, answering to the description of your son, wore a brown suit, knee pants, white tie and blue cap. The shoes and stockings I did not notice.

"He asked the clerk Sunday morning if he could hire a room for a week, and finding the price too high, decided not to remain here. Dear Mrs. Doyle, we all feel very sorry for you and will do all in our power to find him. If he is around this town, trusting you will receive tidings of him very soon and that you will deliver him safely into your hands. I remain sincerely, "Miss Loretta Turner."

NEW YORK, April 27.—Through the collapse of a folding bed in which he was sleeping William Smith, described as a paper manufacturer of Waterbury, Conn., was instantly killed early today. His neck was broken. Smith, who was with his husband on a business trip to this city was caught in the grip of the bed mechanism as it closed up and was only saved from suffocation by two young women who climbed through the upper part of a front window into the locked room and rescued her. She was unconscious when taken out, but will recover.

The elderly couple were visiting a friend at whose boarding house on West 23d street they were accustomed to stop when in this city. From some unknown cause their bed on the ground floor collapsed and the top fell down upon them. The Waterbury police when communicated with by telephone informed the local authorities that they could find no William Smith.

WAR OPERATIONS
Were Witnessed by Col. Roosevelt on Vincennes Field

PARIS, April 27.—Col. Roosevelt this morning saw a portion of the exercises of Paris perform war operations on the field of Vincennes outside the gates of that town. Accompanied by Gen. Dalstein, military governor of Paris, American Ambassador Bacon, M. Jusserand and Major T. Bently Mott, military attaché at Paris, he drove in an automobile to the famous chateau of Vincennes, which was built in the 14th century and is now used as barracks. Entering the keep he was received with military honors. Here the party, with the exception of M. Jusserand, mounted horses and escorted by a platoon of lancers rode out to the manoeuvring field, an open space one and a half miles long lying between the chateau and the forest of Vincennes, where a series of evolutions was executed rapidly under service conditions in order to give Mr. Roosevelt an opportunity to observe the technical methods of the French army. The manoeuvres simulated an attacking army consisting of a regiment of chasseurs-a-pied, a regiment of dragons, two battalions of infantry, a battery of artillery in pursuit of a retreating army whose retirement was being prosecuted by three field batteries, a battalion of zouaves and a battalion of dragons.

The attackers advanced in open formation under protection of the guns making frequent rushes, the machine guns attached to each unit firing at the rear and of every rush. As the rear guard of the retreating army fled before the charge of the dragons, the spectacle was a thrilling one. Col. Roosevelt warmly congratulated Gen. Dalstein upon the dash and go display by the troops and the admirable fashion in which the operations were executed.

When the manoeuvres were concluded the troops drilled before Gen. Dalstein and Col. Roosevelt while the massed bands played the "Star Spangled Banner."

CIGAR MAKERS
TO LIMIT THE SHIPMENT TO AMERICA
MANILA, April 27.—At a meeting of the cigar manufacturers association today it was unanimously decided to cease the shipment to America of cigars of indiscriminate quality and to limit the shipments of the poorer grades. It was agreed to ship in the following proportions:

Superior grades, 55 per cent.; medium, 30 per cent.; and cheaper grades, 15 per cent.

Steps will be taken to maintain this proportion and it is believed that it will result in a reduction in quantity and an improvement in the quality of the shipments of cigars from the Philippines.

ANNUAL BANQUET

Able Addresses by Rev. Fr. Prendergast, S. J. and Prof. Walsh

Lowell council, Knights of Columbus, held its 17th annual banquet last evening in the council apartments with about 200 members present.

The occasion was of particular interest by reason of the fact that two of the speakers were among America's foremost Catholic scholars, Rev. James Prendergast, S. J., of Boston college, and Dr. James J. Walsh, dean of the medical school of Fordham university of New York, and a distinguished historian. The other speakers were:

William F. Thornton, who officiated as toastmaster, Mayor Meehan, a member of Lowell council, and State Deputy William J. O'Brien of Boston. The hall was prettily decorated and Caterer Henderson provided an excellent menu. During the banquet the K. of C. orchestra, T. A. D. Sullivan, director, rendered a pleasing program.

The past year's activities were opened by Toastmaster Thornton, who welcomed all present, after which he introduced as the first speaker of the evening Rev. Fr. Prendergast to respond to the toast "The Church."

Fr. Prendergast, in opening, stated that although assigned to the toast "The Church" he would refer to the church only by inference and would talk on the education of the mind, leaving it to his hearers to draw their own inferences as to where the church comes in relative thereto. Education is a word, he said, like patriotism and progress, often used by those who know not what it means. Education comes from the Latin and means to lead out, to bring out, therefore, it means a development, that's all. Education doesn't mean putting in to a man. You cannot put into a faculty except the faculty of memory and then facts are put in only for the development of the faculty. He then described the different kinds of education, concluding with the education of the intellect, which means empowering it to find a truth. We cannot give a truth, he said, simply can give the power to find a truth. The speaker then formed his hearers that he was not addressing them as a priest or as a Catholic, but as a thinker to thinking men, going back to the writings of Aristotle, 400 years before Christ. The native mind is searching for causality, he said, and education is giving the mind the power to find a cause. The causes sought are "Who," the efficient cause; "What," the formal and material cause; and "Why," the final cause. In modern thought the question "How" prevails, and this brings an indefinite answer because it may be answered by any of the other causes. The thinker fails to distinguish which cause is right in making the answer. He then explained his quarrel on scientific grounds with the idea of evolution, stating that evolution asks "How" and gives only the final cause. Everything has its cause, he said, and the world is made up of them. Philosophy takes the world as a whole and tries to seek the who, the what and the why of it. You cannot get knowledge without getting the efficient cause, and hence God Almighty enters into any education. It is absolutely essential to any knowledge; that you get at the efficient cause. The efficient cause lies beyond human thought, but the efficient cause enters into the mind and supplies the knowledge of it itself. Knowledge of the efficient cause given by the cause itself is the only knowledge. Any man who says I can reason it all out myself is a fool. No man can reason out why an egg makes a chicken and a turkey's egg makes a turkey. With the efficient cause in all education of the intellect we come down to religion and the question comes, Which religion offers the most power to my intellect? Here is where Catholics should be proud for they are the thinkers of the world. The Catholic religion is the clearest, most solid, most scientific. It takes all causes, faces the proofs, goes to the depths with them and investigates bottom. It accepts.

St. Francis William J. O'Brien spoke on "Our Order," and outlined the great work being done by the Knights of Columbus in this country. Mayor Meehan responded to "Our Order," and spoke informally.

The concluding speaker was Dr. James J. Walsh of Fordham university. His subject was "Columbus' Century."

Dr. Walsh spoke as follows: Dr. Walsh called particular attention to the group of great men who did their work during the century immediately preceding and following Columbus' discovery of America. He said that while we are accustomed to think of this time, 1492 to 1592, as the Renaissance and usually associate that word with art and letters and education, it must not be forgotten that there was a great period in science and that the torch of the men of the time with the old Greek scientific writers made as great a renaissance, a true rebirth of physical science, as there was in art, in letters and education.

Among such men as Columbus, working at the same time as he and grouped the names of Regiomontanus, who has been greeted as the Father of Modern Astronomy; Nicholas of Cusa, the great German cardinal, whose works on mathematics made him so famous; Copernicus, who gave us a new universe in the heavens; Vesalius, the great father of anatomy, another Columbus, who was the first to describe the circulation of the blood in the lungs; Eustachius, after whom important structures in the head are named; Varolius, who taught us so much about the brain; and Cassepinus, who first described the circulation of the blood in the body.

There was at this period probably a greater scientific impulse and achievement than at any other in the world's history, even including the last hundred years. Mathematics, astronomy, anatomy, physiology, these were the particular subjects of attention though chemistry, physics and geology and meteorology were also fields of fine achievement. Men were more widely affected by science than almost at any other period, and just as in our time the discussion of the evolutionary theory has disturbed many men's minds and made them fear lest the old truths of religion were going to suffer from the new order of things scientific, so in the days when Copernicus gave his generation a new universe and Columbus a new world, men's minds were disturbed and they thought they saw the old order of things slipping away from them. Those who had firm faith in revelation and in Christianity soon found, however, that it was only the surface of things that was shifted and the realities in the depths were left undisturbed.

Tobynson in "Queen Mary" has a passage in which Bishop Gardiner describes the conditions of the time very well. Some one had said that even the old church shook and Bishop Gardiner declared that once upon a time he saw a tree growing in the rock on the edge of a cataract in Italy firmly wedged and rooted in its crevices. The tree threw its shadow athwart the cataract and as the cataract roared and rushed on its way over the rocks the shadow trembled on its wavy currents. There were those who said, as they looked upon the scene, and for a moment confused the shadow of the tree with the tree itself, that the tree seemed to shake, but it was only the shadow and not the tree itself trembled, and that was true of Christianity, said Bishop Gardiner, and the shadow on the passing waters of science.

In Columbus' time the great developments in science came from distinguished ecclesiastics. Their achievements in science instead of hurting their ecclesiastical careers only made them the subject of special honor on the part of the papacy. The most distinguished of the men of Columbus' beginning century was the famous Cardinal Nicholas of Cusa, whose contributions to mathematical science are so important that Hantzer, the great German historian of mathematics, devotes nearly two scores of pages to his work. Cardinal Nicholas did much in astronomy as well as in mathematics and, above all, he encouraged the young ecclesiastics around him to take up mathematical and scientific work. It is to him we owe the early studies of Regiomontanus of Vienna and of Regiomontanus of Nuremberg.

Regiomontanus, whom we have spoken of as the father of modern astronomy, began the issue of a series of astronomical leaflets called Ephemerides, in which the positions of the planets and the stars were set down with as much exactness as possible. He was a clergyman and doing his work in Nuremberg because that was his diocese, a fortunate thing for him, because in the old town so famous for its toys, its fine work in the metals, its invention of watches, he could more easily produce exact astronomical instruments than anywhere else in the world. These leaflets of his were sent all over the educated world of his time and attracted widespread attention. As a consequence he was invited down to Rome. It might be expected that such an invitation, if we were to trust all that the laymen heard of such opposition to science, would mean that the Roman ecclesiastical authorities having heard of this clergyman who was doing work in astronomy, wanted to warn him of the danger of it or perhaps effectually to prevent it for the future. Instead of that he was invited down to be the papal astronomer and correct the calendar so that the mistakes that had crept in might be obviated.

It was within five years of the time when Halley's comet started Rome in 1581 that Regiomontanus' invitation to go to Rome came. According to the story the papers were so much disturbed by the comet that they issued a bull to vanish. As the story is usually told the bull was issued against the Turk and the comet. Of course there is no foundation for the story. The issuance of Regiomontanus' astronomical leaflets was continued by his great pupil Valtierra and they became the source of important information for navigators. When the Portuguese navigators tried to find their way around the Cape of Good Hope and when Vasco Da Gama finally succeeded in finding his way to India he had some of these Nuremberg documents with him to help him in his observations of the heavens. The Spanish navigators also knew the value of them and when Columbus discovered America he had with him some of these precious documents as aids in the uncharted seas. It was by means of these that he was able to forget the evil prophecies of the Indians which enabled him to produce such an effect on their minds that from the abasement which had come over them because of the cruelty of his sailors they were ready to do anything that this great admiral who seemed to be so closely in touch with the counsel of heaven might ask of them.

The words that were being done in the Catholic universities in science was continued when the Catholic Spaniards made their settlements in this country. We are so accustomed to hear that whatever is significant in education in America was due to the English that we forget how much was accomplished by the Spaniards in this country long before the English began anything in this line and how much better the Spaniards succeeded in doing great educational work.

Perhaps one of the most interesting facts of the early history is that on the second expedition of Columbus a physician was sent with him by the Spanish government as the scientist of the expedition. This was Dr. Chanca who had been a royal physician, and who on his return wrote a most interesting account of the botany, zoology, ethnology, climate, diseases and folklore of these countries.

It is not surprising, then, that the first medical school in this country was established not at the University of Pennsylvania which began its lectures in 1767 but at the University of Mexico where the first lectures were delivered in 1578. This is more than two centuries before the medical school at Harvard was founded. I told this story recently in a lecture before the College of Physicians of Philadelphia. What was done for education was also done for charity. Not long ago I told the story of the first American hospital which by the way is still in existence.

The first medical school, the first hospital in America was founded in the City of Mexico now nearly four centuries ago, and it is still in existence. It was used for purposes of clinical teaching over three centuries and a half ago, and is a standing lesson of how much sooner the Spanish-American seriously took up the solution of social problems than the English-Americans.

In Columbus' century then a great beginning of education in America was made in the Spanish American countries which was to continue to have its influence for three centuries. The founding of its very existence in being in touch with the old pre-reformation tradition of education and science of the Catholic countries while the English Protestants were for three centuries so backward in this regard. This is the newer view of the history of education that is coming in. This is the real significance of Columbus' discovery of America and nowhere could I tell it better than to assemble Brother Knights of Columbus who are interested in their country and in the progress of true religious education in this country. Much of what I have had to say in this opinion concerns the supposed history of education that is taught even in our normal schools in this country. If the teachers are being led astray how can the pupils fall to get wrong notions. And yet, truth is strong and will prevail and in the meantime we can be gloriously paid of Columbus' discovery and of the work for American civilization, education and culture that was accomplished by the Catholic Spaniards as a consequence.

BOARD OF POLICE

Granted a Number of Minor Licenses Today

The board of police cleaned up a big list of routine business at the special meetings held yesterday and this morning. Inasmuch as a week ago yesterday was Patriots' day and also that there was no regular meeting held last night and that there were scores of licenses to be granted the members of the board were kept busy.

The following is the list of licenses granted:

Licenses to sell ice cream on the Lord's day: William L. Smith, 506 Rogers street; Miss Addie Quinn, 78 Christian street; John Bailey, 488 Chelmsford street; Robert S. Curran, 1419 Middlesex street; Leonard J. Bates, Cor. School and Liberty streets; John W. Feunoy, 386 Bridge street; Josephine Gamache, 1210 Gorham street; S. S. Cunningham & Co., 948 Gorham street; McQuade & Walton, 330 Lawrence street; Mrs. J. A. Lamont, 9 Marion street; Angela, 1212 Salem street; Rebecca MacKenzie, 15 Fremont street; Napoleon St. Arnaud, 181 Moody street; Peter Saba, 133 Appleton street; Henry Dross, 32 Andover street; Vasilios Loukos, 23 Thorndike street; Cameron Bros., 1551 Middlesex street; S. G. Lyford Co., 1212 Middlesex street; J. J. Jozolin, 1221 Aiken street; Boston Confectionery store, 218 Merrimack street; Annie M. Buxton, 270 High street.

Billiards and pool—James Petros, 27 Adams street; Damiano D. George, 107 Central street; Henry Chaput, 110 Howard street; Bogos Krikorian, 102 Lakeview avenue; Thomas P. Flynn, 881 Central street; William F. Scully, 748 Gorham street.

Bowling—Edward P. Donohoe & Co., 24-28 Hurd street.

Junk collectors—Hyman Sandler, 73 Railroad street; David Movitz, 112 Howard street; Joseph Smith, 108 Chelmsford street; Harry Feinberg, 71 Railroad street; David Cohen, 135 Howard street; Lewis Isenberg, 24 Watson avenue; Israel Warshtafsky, 12 Daly street; Wolf Cohen, 112 Howard street; John J. Smith, 153 Gorham street; William Evans, 50 Plain street; John McHugh, 10 Emery street.

Common victuallers—Michael Champagne, 348-351 Moody street; Bert Grew, between 500-592 Middlesex street; Robert Robinson, 189 Moody street; Maurice W. Mulachy, Central and Jackson streets; Warren W. Montgomery, between 1334-1353 Middlesex street; Lindsey & Hoyle, 770 Gorham street; Joseph Lescarbeau, 187 Aiken street.

Express licenses—Angelo Dugers, 564 Market street; Eugene E. Stoughton, 37 Midland street; Owen Quenane, 33 Merril street.

Intelligence office—Ida Hutchinson, 15 West Fourth street.

Hawker and peddler—Henry H. Stuckney, 749 Middlesex street.

Pauline Brennan & Stafford, 469 Merrimack street.

Sixth class (druggists) liquor licenses—James J. Brown, estate of R. J. Lang, 374 Merrimack street; Pierre N. Brunelle, 33 E. Merrimack street; Falls & Burkinshaw, 418 Middlesex street; Hall & Lyon Co., 57-59 Merrimack street; F. H. Butler & Co., 391 Middlesex street; Payette & Caisse, 481-485 Moody street; Frank J. Campbell, 255 Central street; Swan & Cobe, 51 Andover street; F. E. Bailey & Co., 85 Merrimack street; A. W. Dows & Co., 54 Merrimack street; Arthur Brown, estate of E. S. Houle, 452 Moody street; Carleton & Lovey, 236 Merrimack street; Albert L. Field, 1059 Gorham street; Osmond L. Field, 336 Merrimack street; The Frye & Crawford Drug company, 474-478 Merrimack street; Charles J. Gallagher, 255 High street; C. F. George & Co., 493 Chelmsford street; Fred C. Goodale, 217 Central street; Fred Howard, 197 Central street; J. T. Sparks & Co., 747-751 Lakeview avenue; J. B. Albert Johnson & Co., 289 Central street; Wilfred L. L'Esperance, 738 Moody street; L. Carter & Sherburne street, 2 and 4 Bridge and 2 and 5 Merrimack streets; Edward T. McEvoy, 709 Lawrence street; Frank E. McNabb, 225 Broadway; Frank P. Moody, 201 Central street; Albert E. Moore, 62 Gorham street; Horace C. Page, 336 Westford street; Hiding C. Petersen, 555 Central street; Mary A. Phelan, 245 Gorham street; Routhier & Delisle, 632 Merrimack street; Levi T. Steeves, 276-278 Chelmsford street; Hubert J. Turcotte, 418 Middlesex street; Thomas C. Walker, 465 Middlesex street; Frank J. Campbell & Co., 333 Dutton street; Wells Brothers, 301 Bridge street; George A. Wilson & Co., 106 Branch street; Charles O. Wilson, 616-621 Gorham street; Jaynes Drug Co., 119-123 Merrimack street.

"Terry" McGovern and his Brockton aggregation, with Frank Shannon, two Lowell favorites in the lineup, appeared at Spalding park this afternoon and played Lowell. Umpire Connolly made his first appearance of the season and acquitted himself in a creditable manner. The attendance was about 800.

Lemieux, the former Lowell catcher, who caught for Fall River, appeared in a Lowell uniform, and participated in the practice prior to the game, but did not play.

Manager Smith announced that the Lowell team would take the train for Manchester tonight and play against St. Anselm's college in the Queen City tomorrow, while the league game between Lowell and Brockton would be played in that city in the afternoon, owing to the fact that tomorrow will be Fast day in the up-state.

The batting order of the teams was as follows:

Lowell
Fitzpatrick 2b
Boultes ss
Flaherty rf
Magee lf
Stone 1b
Jones of
Campbell 3b
Huston c
Moore p

First Inning

The visitors broke the ice in the first inning and scored one run, while the home team failed to send a man across the plate. Hendrickson hit the ball over Flaherty's head for a three bagger. McLane hit to Boultes and died at first. McGovern bunted and was out at first but Hendrickson scored. Stankard hit to Moore and failed to reach first.

In the latter half of the inning Fitzpatrick sent a grounder to Shannon.

Score—Brockton 2, Lowell 0.

Second Inning

In the fifth inning Orcutt flied out to Flaherty, the latter making a beautiful one hand running catch. Lavigne flied to Campbell and Gilroy hit to Fitzpatrick and was out at first.

Lowell scored a run in the fifth inning. Jones, the first man up, drew a base on balls. He went to second on Campbell's sacrifice. Huston singled to center field and Jones went to third. Moore hit to Orcutt and Jones beat the ball to the plate for a run. Moore and Huston tried to work a double steal. Huston being nailed at the plate, Fitzpatrick was third out on a foul fly to Lavigne.

Score—Brockton 2, Lowell 1.

Sixth Inning

The visitors slammed Moore to beat the band in the sixth inning and scored three runs. Hendrickson sent the ball to right field for a clean two bagger, it being his third hit. McLane bunted to Moore, who fumbled, and Hendrickson went to third. McGovern flied to Magee and Hendrickson scored. Stankard slammed the ball to the far corner of left field for a home run and both he and McLane scored.

At this point Moore was taken out of the game and Boultes was substituted. Shannon drew a base on balls and Dulin went out on strikes. At this point Boultes caught Shannon napping off first and the side was retired.

Boultes flied to McGovern, Flaherty flied to Hendrickson and Magee followed with a base on balls. Stone hit to Shannon, forcing Magee at second.

Score—Brockton 5, Lowell 1.

Seventh Inning

In the seventh inning Orcutt got hit by a pitched ball and walked to first. Lavigne followed with a base on balls. Buckles then made a wild pitch and the men on the bases were advanced. Gilroy hit to Fitzpatrick and was out at first. Hendrickson flied to Fitzpatrick and the latter threw the ball to Campbell, who got Orcutt for a double play.

In Lowell's half Jones hit to Gilroy and was out at first. Campbell got a scratch single. Huston hit to Shannon, forcing Campbell at second. Buckles drew a free pass and Fitzpatrick popped a foul fly which Lavigne gathered in.

Score—Brockton 5, Lowell 1.

Eighth Inning

Brockton scored two more runs in the eighth inning. McLane got a single and McGovern went out on strikes. Stankard hit to the right field fence for a three bagger and McLane came home. Stankard and Shannon then worked the squeeze play, Shannon going out at first while Stankard scored. Dulin hit to Buckles and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Boultes got a single. Flaherty and Magee flied to Hendrickson, Stone hit and was out at first. Boultes fanned the breezes and Flaherty flied to McGovern and was third out.

Score—Brockton 1, Lowell 0.

Ninth Inning

There was nothing doing in the second inning. Shannon started the inning off by fliing to Campbell, and then Dulin drew a base on balls. Orcutt hit to Boultes who put Dulin out at second and threw to first for a double.

In Lowell's half Magee flied to Orcutt. Stone flied to Dulin and Jones flied to Lavigne.

Score—Brockton 1, Lowell 0.

Tenth Inning

Brockton got another run in the third inning. Lavigne hit to Campbell and the latter threw over Stone's head and the ball went to the first base bleachers, while Lavigne went around to third. Gilroy hit to Fitz and never reached first. Hendrickson singled over second, base scoring. Lavigne, Hendrickson then stole second. McLane drew a base on balls and McGovern hit to Fitz, who threw to Boultes, who put McLane out and then the ball was sent to first for a double play.

In the latter half of the inning Campbell hit to Orcutt and was out at first. Huston flied to McGovern, who made a pretty running catch. Moore singled over second, but Fitz struck out.

Score—Brockton 2, Lowell 0.

Fourth Inning

Stankard flied to Magee. Shannon hit to Fitz and never reached first. Dulin singled to centre field but while he was trying to steal second he was thrown out.

Boultes struck out for the second time and Flaherty hit to Shannon and was out at first. Magee singled to left field while Stone flied out to Shannon.

Score—Brockton 2, Lowell 0.

Fifth Inning

In the fifth inning Orcutt flied out to Flaherty, the latter making a beautiful one hand running catch. Lavigne flied to Campbell and Gilroy hit to Fitzpatrick and was out at first.

Lowell scored a run in the fifth inning. Jones, the first man up, drew a base on balls. He went to second on Campbell's sacrifice. Huston singled to centre field and Jones went to third. In the latter half of the inning Boultes got a single. Flaherty and Magee flied to Hendrickson, Stone hit

DEATH SENTENCE

For Albert Wolter for Murder of Ruth Wheeler

NEW YORK, April 27.—Albert Wolter, convicted of the murder of little Ruth Wheeler, was sentenced today by Judge Foster in general sessions to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison some time during the week beginning June 6. The condemned man displayed only a languid interest in the court proceedings.

A great crowd of men and women fought for admission to the court room in which Wolter was sentenced. Shortly after Judge Foster took his seat the prisoner was led in. He looked impassively at the judge, but smiled and shook hands with Wallace D. Scott, his counsel.

Frank Moss, assistant district attorney, who prosecuted Wolter, made the motion for the imposition of the sentence of death and Wolter was asked if there was any reason why the sentence should not be pronounced.

Mr. Scott, replying for Wolter, said he already had made all the legal motions necessary and had advised his client that there was nothing for the court to do but impose sentence. He said that if he was able to obtain a ruling from a higher court for a new trial he would be glad to have the case retried before the same court in which the first trial had been held. When Judge Foster began to speak Wolter gazed at him intently but with no show of feeling as the fateful words were pronounced.

"Albert W. Wolter," said the judge, "you have had a fair trial, in which you have been ably defended. At crime of which you have been convicted attracted the attention of the whole world by its very enormity and caused many to doubt your sanity. I have carefully observed your conduct in court during the whole week of your trial and I have detected nothing to indicate that you are not sane under the law. In addition reports which have been made by Frank A. McGuire, the Tombs physician, and Dr. Tracy, superintendent of the Long Island state asylum for the insane, confirm my impression that you are morally and legally responsible for the crime of which you stand convicted."

Judge Foster then imposed the sentence of death and Wolter was taken to the Tombs. Later he was taken to police headquarters where he was photographed and measured. Then he left for Sing Sing. None of Wolter's relatives nor any members of the Wheeler family were in court when sentence was pronounced.

After he had boarded the train for Sing Sing Wolter lighted a big black cigar and sat next the window, placidly smoking. A throng gathered outside the window to watch him and the deputy sheriff who had him in charge pulled down the window shade. The youth, whose air of bravado never once deserted him and who seemed to enjoy the attention he was attracting, at once raised the curtain and continued smoking in full view of the crowd until the train pulled out of the depot.

SMITH KILLED

Former Head of Paper-makers Association

LEE, April 27.—A despatch from New York states that Wellington Smith of this town, formerly president of the American Papermakers Association was killed in that city today. Smith was a prominent manufacturer and was formerly a member of the executive council when General Benjamin F. Butler was governor of Massachusetts.

AMERICAN GIRL

Said to Have Been Accidentally Drowned

WASHINGTON, April 27.—While theories of suicide and murder have been advanced as the cause of the drowning of Miss Estelle Reed, the young American art student whose body was found on a beach near Naples, Italy, the report of U. S. Consul Crowninshield at that city received at the state department today indicates that the young woman was accidentally drowned.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MEETING

NEW YORK, April 27.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Associated Press held in this city today the board elected Frank B. Noyes of the Washington (D. C.) Evening Star as president, R. M. Johnson of the Houston (Tex.) Post vice president and Frank McLanen of the Topeka (Kas.) State Journal as second vice president. Th board also elected Melville E. Stone as secretary, Charles S. Diehl as assistant secretary and J. R. Yount as treasurer.

The board also elected members of the board of directors as members of the executive committee.

DAKOTA DAN RUSSELL

Was a Caller at the Sun Office This Afternoon

Daniel Blake Russell, "Dakota Dan," the conspicuous figure in the great Russell will case, was a caller at the Sun office this afternoon. Mr. Russell said he dropped off in Lowell and decided that he would call at the Sun office. He had less than five minutes to spare and did not talk much about the recent will case.

He had paid a visit however, to an old Melrose boy, Frederick B. Leeds, the Merrimack square ticket agent. Mr. Leeds said that he had a real good talk over old times with Dakota Dan, and Mr. Leeds allows that Dan knows all about Melrose in the old days.

Mr. Leeds said: "I left Melrose before Daniel Blake Russell and I was too young to remember him. I left Melrose 40 years ago. Mr. Russell called at my office this afternoon and we had a real good chat. He knew all about places that I had heard my father talk about and it seems to me that he must have lived there years ago. I recalled certain persons and incidents that I had heard my father talk about and Mr. Russell seemed perfectly familiar with them. I enjoyed his visit very much."

6 O'CLOCK LARCENY CHARGED

Man is Accused of Stealing a Coat

Clifford Dusseault was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on complaints charging him with drunkenness and indecent exposure. He pleaded guilty and the court finding him guilty sentenced him to six months in jail on the charge of indecent exposure, the case of drunkenness being placed on file.

Case Continued

Julia Tony and Charles Mentz were charged with drunkenness, but owing to the fact that another complaint will be made against the couple, the cases were continued till tomorrow morning.

Charged With Larceny

Frank Stone, charged with the larceny of a coat valued at $5, the property of Ellen Cawley was given a trial but the disposition of his case was continued till tomorrow morning. According to the testimony the complainant lives at 20 Appleton street and it is alleged that yesterday Stone entered her house and after drinking all the milk which was in the ice chest stole a half pound of pork and then took the coat.

Mill Trouble Aired

Meislin Roney of 465 Market street and George Pappas had trouble about 1.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon near the gates of the Tremont & Suffolk mills and both men were arrested, but after the pair was brought to the police station and the story told Roney was released and a charge of assault and battery was preferred against Pappas.

It seems that Roney was desirous of going to work, but owing to some difficulty among the men employed in the mill Pappas tried to prevent the man from entering. There was an exchange of blows, and Roney came out second best in the argument.

Pappas was fined $20, to be paid within three days or go to jail for three months.

Sent to Jail

Katherine O'Malley, who was suffering from the effects of liquor, was taken out of a house at 23 Bridge street last night by Patrolman David Petrie and this morning was sentenced to one month in jail.

Drunken Offenders

Michael J. Burns, while under the influence of liquor yesterday afternoon, smashed a pane of glass in a store in Middlesex street and after settling for the glass came back looking for his money. He was arrested, and this morning the suspension of his former sentence to the state farm was revoked.

Michael Connors was also sentenced to the state farm. James Whelan paid a fine of $5, and five first offenders were fined $2 each.

YOUNG FAMILY OFFICERS CHOSEN

Identified Remains of Mother Angel At Meeting of Andover Association

SALT LAKE CITY, April 27.—For almost two years the bones of Brigham Young's first mother-in-law, Mother Angel, have lain unclaimed at the Salt Lake police headquarters. They were identified today by members of the Young family, who have been hunting them for years and will be placed in a vault prepared for them long ago in Brigham Young's private cemetery.

This peculiar circumstance results from the early custom of interring bodies near their former homes. Mother Angel was buried in this manner and when the deceased members of the Young family were gathered all in one cemetery her grave could not be found. J. W. Young, a son of Brigham, a well known railroad promoter, spent considerable money in digging through the block where Mrs. Angel had lived, but all hope of finding the grave was given up. The bones which lie at the police station were discovered in June, 1908, by workmen excavating for a new carriage factory on Social Hall avenue.

ASSOCIATED PRESS

HELD THE ANNUAL MEETING IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 27.—Members of the Associated Press met at the Waldorf-Astoria yesterday for the 11th annual meeting. The attendance in point of numbers was the largest ever gathered at a similar meeting.

After the reading of the various committee reports elections were held to fill seven vacancies in the board of directors. The voting resulted in the election of the following: Clark Howell, Atlanta Constitution; Charles W. Knapp, St. Louis Republic; W. C. McClatchy, Sacramento Bee; Albert J. Barr, Pittsburgh Post; Charles Hopkins Clark, Hartford Courant; Frank B. Meyer, Utica Press; secretary, Frederick R. Martin, Providence Journal; Samuel Strauss, New York Globe.

The two last named were elected to fill the vacancies created by the death of Rufus N. Rhodes of the Birmingham News and by the resignation of Chas. H. Grasty of the Baltimore Sun.

In addition the following were elected as members of the advisory board of the four divisions of the Associated Press:

Members' nominating committee: Frederick R. Martin, Providence Journal; Samuel Strauss, New York Globe.

Central division—Charles A. Otis Jr., Cleveland News, chairman; H. M. Fugitt, Peoria Journal, secretary; John C. Eastman, Chicago Journal; Gardner Cowles, Des Moines Register; and Leader; Frank E. Maclean, Topeka State Journal; Members' nominating committee: Arthur Capper, Topeka Capital; Edward L. Proctor, St. Louis West Lake Post.

Nashville Banner, chairman; James H. Gray, Atlanta Journal, secretary; E. P. Glass, Montgomery Advertiser; John R. Ross, Charlotte Evening Chronicle; Robert Ewing, New Orleans States; Members' nominating committee: W. J. Crawford, Memphis Commercial Appeal; P. A. Stovall, Savannah Press.

Western division—W. H. Cowles, Spokane Spokesman-Review, chairman; R. A. Crothers, San Francisco Bulletin, secretary; I. N. Stevens, Pueblo Chieftain; E. T. Pearl, Los Angeles Express; W. W. Chapin, Seattle Post-Intelligencer; Members' nominating committee: Charles W. Hornick, San Francisco Call; Alden J. Bletcher, Seattle Times.

The annual spring meeting of the Andover association, formerly called the "Andover Conference," of Congregational churches and ministers, was held yesterday afternoon and night, in the First church. Mr. Andrew Sutherland of Lawrence was moderator.

Officers and committee were elected as follows:

Moderator for the fall meeting, Rev. E. G. Alger, alternate, Justin E. Varney of Lawrence. Place of meeting, South church, Lawrence.

Committee on work of the churches, Rev. F. R. Shipman, Rev. E. C. Davis, L. A. Olney.

Advisory committee, (additional members), Rev. J. L. Keedy, W. D. Hartshorn.

Committee on systematic giving, Rev. W. Dunneley, Rev. W. E. Wadcott, L. H. Thompson, Andrew Sutherland, Judge W. P. Frye.

Statistical secretary, Rev. Sarah A. Dixon.

Secretary, Rev. O. H. Gates (re-elected).

Delegates to state association, Professor, W. H. Tyler, alternate, Rev. D. A. Walker.

Delegates to national council, Rev. O. H. Gates, Rev. B. A. Willmott, William Shaw; alternates, Rev. Arthur Barber of Lawrence, Rev. E. A. Wilson of Andover, A. C. Russell of Lowell.

The following were appointed a special committee on new work among foreigners: J. E. Varney, Rev. J. L. Keedy, Rev. George P. Kenngott, Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, Arthur W. Colburn.

The committee on ministerial standing reported progress toward the consummation of the transfer. This means that this association will vote for the ministerial candidate, rather than the ministerial association.

One hundred delegates were reported, and at the supper which followed the afternoon session, 175 were present.

Rev. E. Victor Bigelow led the devotional exercises at the opening of the evening session. There were several musical selections by the chorus choir of the First church, led by Mr. Frank B. Murphy.

We invite criticism, Bachelor Club.

LETTER DELAYED

MAN GETS IT AFTER WAIT OF 13 YEARS

MILFORD, N. H., April 27.—It has taken 13 years for a letter mailed at Boston to reach the party it was directed to here. In January, 1897, a letter was mailed to Ralph T. Chase, Milford, N. H. The envelope shows it was stamped at the Boston postoffice and another imprint shows that it was received here.

The envelope was a small one and it was found back in its receptacle in the local postoffice until it disappeared behind a partition.

Some years ago, to make room for a new postoffice outfit, the old fittings were removed and stored away. Recently Spurgeon Cuthbertson, station agent on the Fitchburg branch, purchased a portion of the fittings and in separating some of the boxes found the letter.

He at once sought out Ralph T. Chase, who is now 19 years old. He was six when the letter was mailed to him. It was a note from a friend in Boston telling him of pleasures in store for him. He is going to frame the long lost letter.

END OF TRAINING SCHOOL

Selection of Teachers Left in Hands of Eight Grammar Masters

New Fangled Rule for Selection of Teachers That is Not Likely to Give Satisfaction—Some of the Oldest Masters Left Out of the Arrangement

The training school in Charles street has been abolished and a new board of supervisors has been elected.

This was all done at a meeting of the school committee held last night. The motion came as a surprise and was presented by Edmund T. Simpson.

Miss Gertrude Edmund has been principal of the training school for about fourteen years, and the abolition of the training school means that Miss Edmund's services will cease with the expiration of the June term.

Hereafter Lowell's public school teachers will be named by a board of supervisors, comprising eight masters of grammar schools, all applicants to be graduates of normal schools or colleges.

The new board of supervisors elected includes the following: Frederick A. Wood, Greenhalge school; Charles W. Moore, Highland school; Calvin W. Durbank, Elm school; Henry H. Harris, Varnum school; Herbert D. Bixby, Bartlett school; James L. Melien, Lincoln school; John E. Barr, Washington school; Albert L. Bachelor, Green school.

In submitting the motion for the abolition of the training school, Mr. Simpson said:

"I believe that the Training school under its present plan of operation is not the most satisfactory method of selecting our teachers, for the reason that it has relieved the grammar masters of the privilege and duty of selecting teachers for their several schools. Its greatest weakness has been with respect to the separation of the power and responsibility insofar as the grammar masters have been concerned. At present teachers are assigned to schools without regard to their fitness for the position, and the fitness which exists, seldom at the request of the grammar masters, and sometimes without their approval. It is self-evident, therefore, that any attempt to better the school system must have for its foundation the election of candidates for the position of grammar master, and that any plan to remedy the existing situation must give to the grammar master large powers in the selection of his teachers. Whatever plan is consummated, the grammar master must, in the last analysis, be the judge of the fitness of candidates for the position in his schools and be responsible for their selection. This is fundamental, and cannot be changed by any condition. Assuming then, that each master should be held responsible by the school board for the character and the intellectual and professional capacity of his teachers, a system must be devised which shall bring it within the power of the master, acting under competent advice, to secure suitable teachers for his school."

I believe the following plan will meet these conditions. That it will provide for the selection of approved teachers for the schools of Lowell, furnish a regular substitute list, and put the power where only the responsibility has hitherto rested—with the grammar master—where both belong."

Mr. Simpson's motion became a unanimous vote, the only member not voting being Mr. Mahoney, who was absent.

Mr. Simpson then pointed out the new rules and the amendments to the old rules made necessary by the abolition of the training school.

The new rules governing the selection of teachers by the board of supervisors are as read and adopted, are as follows:

Chapter 2, section 11. A board of supervisors, consisting of eight grammar masters together with the head master of the high school, whose duties shall be permanent is hereby organized by the school board.

Duties: Section 12. This board, with the superintendent of schools, shall furnish the members of the school committee with expert information as to the condition of the schools at any time and give expert advice as to improving the same.

At the present time, as well as for all future time, the principal duty of the members shall be the selection of teachers for filling vacancies in the high, grammar and primary schools.

They shall also review the textbooks and recommend whatever changes are found advisable for adoption by the board.

Chapter 4, section 40. About Oct. 1 of each year, the superintendent shall issue a public advertisement, announcing that during the first week of the June next following, a public examination of applicants for Lowell teachers' certificates of the third grade will be held in Lowell and stating the number of applicants likely to be chosen. Persons to be eligible to take these examinations must be graduates of normal schools or colleges, must have had at least one year's successful experience in teaching, attested in writing by the superintendent under whom they have worked, said attest to be presented at the time of taking the examination. All applicants must signify their intention of taking the examination by notifying the superintendent of schools in writing by November 15th next following the issuance of the public notice, at which time the list will be closed and no new names added.

Section 41.—The superintendent of schools shall assign to each member of the board of supervisors a partial list of names of the applicants.

It shall then be the duty of each member of the board of supervisors to visit each of the applicants assigned to him and report in writing to the superintendent the result of such visit.

No applicant whatever be his qualifications, shall be admitted to examination whom the visiting members of the board find inefficient or unworthy.

Section 42.—The examination shall be conducted by the superintendent of schools and the board of supervisors. All questions for these examinations shall be prepared by some school department other than that of Lowell and the papers of applicants, identified by number only—not by name—shall be sent by mail or express to the framers of the questions for correction, and they shall later return the corrected papers with the list of numbers arranged in order, beginning with the highest and going to the lowest.

Section 43. The successful candidates having been chosen, they shall be assigned to certain of the grammar and primary schools—to be changed from time to time—as permanent substitutes for one year, where they will work under the observation of the various members of the board of supervisors, who will be able to determine during that time with reasonable accuracy their exact fitness for filling vacancies that may occur.

Section 44. After one year's successful service as permanent substitutes, the applicants shall go on the regular reserve list of teachers, and a new class, larger or smaller according to the desire of the school committee, shall be chosen to take their places.

Section 45. In the event of a vacancy, the master in whose district it occurs shall name the most available person, in his judgment, from the reserve list to fill that particular vacancy and, subject to the vote of the board of supervisors, she shall be recommended to the school committee for immediate election.

Section 46. (a) All graduates of the Lowell Training school shall preserve their standing and shall be given employment before anyone holding a Lowell teachers' certificate under the above plan.

The abolition of the training school does not mean that instruction in that school will be discontinued, but it means that prospective teachers will not be received in the school after the June term. The teaching force will not be disturbed with the exception of Miss Edmund, who holds the position of principal.

On motion of Edward T. Goward a vote of sympathy was extended to Craven Mingley upon the recent death of his wife.

The resignations of Grace Ward of the high school and Alice Leashey of the Riverside school were read and accepted with a vote of thanks for faithful services given. Johanna Hour asked for leave of absence until 1911, and it was granted.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians wanted to have the high school hall for a banquet in June, but some of the members thought this would be establishing a bad precedent. The matter was referred to a sub committee.

The new building department has plans for a stable 210 by 40 feet, to take the place of the old shacks in the yard of health yard in Broadway. These buildings have been a nuisance for a long time and the new building which would extend from Broadway to Cross street would make a big improvement in that section, besides bringing about a saving that would in time mean a great deal to the city.

The estimated cost of the building is $30,000 and that amount will have to be forthcoming before anything is done. The matter will go to the city council at an early date.

The new building would provide stalls for 18 horses, 44 ordinary and two box stalls, and that would accommodate not only the horses of the health department that are now being housed and fed in the city yard but it would also make room for the horses that are now being cared for at the city stables at the cost of $25 a month to the city. These are driving horses and are used by heads of departments and bosses.

The hay loft would be over the stable and over the carriage house would be a teamsters' room and small dry room. These rooms would be supplied with all the necessary accommodations for the teamsters. Over the carpenter room there would be a lumber room and over the administration part, as called, there would be a dining and drying room.

Inspector Dow says that this stable is badly needed and he allows the building would effect a saving that would soon wipe out the cost of construction. The old shacks now used by the board of health in its yard, he says, are unfit for use and a menace to public safety.

AN AUTOPSY

An autopsy on the body of George Lewis, who was found dead in a vat in the pickling house of the American Hide & Leather Co., Monday morning, was held last evening at the warehouses of Charles H. Mollay & Sons in Market street and the examining surgeons came to the conclusion that there was no evidence of foul play present.

The autopsy was performed by Medical Examiner Joe V. Neigs, Dr. Royden H. Pillsbury and Dr. M. A. Long. At the conclusion of the examination it was stated that there was no evidence of drowning, and that the man died as a result of a fracture—dislocation of the cervical vertebra, or a broken back. Abrasions were found, however, on the face and head.

It was positively stated that there was no evidence of murder, and that the injuries which the body showed the man sustained, might easily have been received in the vat where the man was found.

FECITT SISTERS

Resisted Deportation From This Country

BOSTON, April 27.—Steamship Megantic of the White Star line, Capt. Smith, sailed from Boston docks at noon yesterday for Liverpool and Queenstown with the largest list of saloon passengers taken to England this season. On board were 140 saloon passengers, 100 second cabin and 200 steerage, and 10 deported aliens.

Elizabeth, Louise and Lily Feccitt, sisters, who arrived from Lancashire, Eng., on the Megantic as second cabin passengers, were among those sent back. When they were examined upon their arrival all three were intoxicated. They were going to New Bedford to work in a mill, but the board of special inquiry before whom they were examined decided that they were likely to become public charges and they were ordered deported.

KELIHER IS BAILED

Bonding Company Put Up the Sum of $25,000

"Big Bill" Keliher, who since Friday night had been lodged in the Charles street jail, under arrest on charges alleging connection with the looting of the National City bank of Cambridge, was released yesterday afternoon upon the acceptance by the federal authorities of a $25,000 recognizance by a bonding company.

Early in the afternoon Daniel H. Oakley, Keliher's counsel, had a conference with U. S. Dist. Atty. Asa P. French at which the latter expressed his willingness to accept the surety offered. The preliminaries were then gone through, and shortly before 4 o'clock Keliher was brought in a closed carriage from the jail to the federal building by Deputies Waters and Tighe.

He was taken to the marshal's office and placed in the cage while the formalities were gone through by Mr. Oakley and Asst. U. S. District Atty. William H. Garland.

The bond was entered by Earl M. Lamphere, vice president of the Bonding Co. and was pronounced acceptable by Assistant District Atty. Garland. The defendant was brought out of the cage and taken into the adjoining office of Commissioner Hayes.

Mr. Oakley then suggested that the continuance of the hearing before the commissioner set for Saturday might be annulled and his client be allowed to plead not guilty and be held immediately for the United States grand jury. This proposed short cut, however, met with opposition from Asst. Dist. Atty. Garland, and the suggestion was withdrawn by Mr. Oakley. Bail was then formally entered at 4.30, and the defendant released.

Keliher, who has borne very ungraciously his four days' confinement, and lost no time in hurrying out of the federal building with his counsel. Both Keliher and Mr. Oakley declined to discuss any feature of the case or their plans.

Yesterday the United States circuit court grand jury resumed its special session to consider the Keliher case, and it is expected to report this morning. If it brings in an indictment against Keliher, the case will be taken out of Commissioner Hayes' hands.

Saturday the Keliher may be called on to plead. In this event he will be required to continue or renew bail.

A feature of yesterday's proceedings was a conference between District Attorney French with Asst. District Attorney Garland and others of his official staff, which presumably had to do with the testimony submitted to the grand jury and the protection of witnesses from newspaper interviews.

Mr. French subsequently in a talk with reporters gave vigorous expression to his intention to prevent such interviews, in the interest of justice. He implied that any violation of his wishes in this regard would bring contempt of court proceedings upon the offender.

COST OF LIVING INJURIES FATAL

Short Weight Packages Make High Prices

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Short weight packages and secret agreements between wholesalers and retailers are largely responsible for the high cost of living, according to statements of witnesses yesterday before the house committee investigating the subject.

Dr. Wm. C. Woodward, health officer of the District of Columbia, told of short weight bread, flour and other necessities of life.

Col. W. C. Haskell, superintendent of weights and measures, declared that everyone of the 300,000 barrels of flour sold in Washington, were short four pounds each of the advertised weight and that Washingtonians were paying annually $42,000 for flour which they never received.

STRIKE IS AVERTED

SPRINGFIELD, April 27.—A compromise agreement between the Springfield and Worcester Street Railway companies and their employees was reached last night, according to a semi-official authority. It is stated that the companies and men have agreed upon a sliding scale of wages, of from 22 to 27 cents an hour for motormen and conductors for five years. About 4200 men are affected.

DR. BURRILL DEAD

BOSTON, April 27.—Dr. Herbert Leslie Burrill, former president of the American Medical association, surgeon general in charge of the hospital ship Bay State during the Spanish war, and one of the leading members of the medical profession in New England, died last night at his home in Newbury street, of heart failure. He was born in Boston in 1856 and graduated from the Harvard medical school in 1879. He leaves a widow and two sons.

COMMON COUNCIL THE POLICE BLAMED

Took Up Labor Day Appropriation

The common council held a short meeting last night. There were 26 members present.

An appropriation of $1000 for the proper observance of Labor day was referred to the committee on appropriations.

An order for $675 for band concerts introduced by Councilman Elliott was adopted, Councilman McKeanle voting in opposition.

Councilman Kilpatrick introduced an ordinance to change the name of the poor farm to the Chestnut Street hospital, and the same was referred to the committee on appropriations and legislation.

Sidewalks were voted in the following streets: School, Pawtucket, Gates, Sidney, West Fourth, State, Howe and Clitheroe and Butler avenues.

Kittredge's, Prescott, tonight.

TO INCREASE RATES

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 27.—The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company plans for increasing passenger rates upon the system now being worked out will be based on the density of traffic upon the road's lines, and will arrange for an increase from about two per cent. upon the main stem to nearly or quite 25 per cent. upon the most unprofitable branches. Upon some of the latter the increase may be from two cents a mile to two and a half cents a mile, the rate which prevailed before the general reduction was made on the whole system three years ago. The mileage book system, however, will probably be continued at the old rate of two cents a mile plus two cents for each fraction of a mile. The readjustment will be based upon the theory that the increases will nearly or quite make good the increased cost of operation caused by the increase of wages in the various operating branches of the service.

Chief Says That They Are Constantly Violating Rules

BOSTON, April 27.—Chief Charles A. Kendall of the Somerville police department in a general order read at roll call last evening took the members of the department severely to task in one of the most stinging arraignments they have ever been subjected to.

"From personal observation I am thoroughly convinced that many of the officers are continually violating the rules of this department, namely, not properly patrolling their routes; improperly ringing in duty calls; meeting at signal boxes; conversing with each other; unnecessarily standing and talking with persons; walking with persons on their routes, etc."

"Within a short time I saw one day a patrolman standing talking in one place for a period of 17 minutes. One day recently, while making a tour of the city covering a period of 4½ hours and visiting nearly every part of the city, I saw four patrolmen out of 20 who were supposed to be on duty."

"One was standing alone on Broadway; the next visited the fire station of engine company 2 and was inside for 15 minutes; the next was standing talking with two men in Magoun square, and the fourth was standing talking with a group of four or five young men in front of a drug store in the western part of the city for a period of 20 minutes."

"At Devine's corner at 10.15 p. m. there was a crowd of young men standing on the corner singing and acting in a boisterous manner. There was no officer in sight."

"The public, whose servants you are, have a right to expect and demand better police service than this. I shall expect more rigid attention to duty in the future and all violations of the rules will be summarily dealt with."

"The lieutenants and sergeants on duty in the station house will report

THE IDEAL NEWSPAPER.

Major I. C. Hemphill of the Richmond Times-Despatch in a lecture on Journalism at Yale seemed to speak in a pessimistic tone of the hopelessness of seeing the "Ideal Newspaper."

The ideal newspaper, like the ideal man, is a rarity of course; but Editor Hemphill is unjust to the average newspaper when he deplures "the present degradation of the press which caters to the worst tendencies of a corrupt and malodorous age." That some papers cater to such tendencies is unfortunately true; but Mr. Hemphill knows or should know that the papers which do this are in the minority. There are still a few sensational sheets that try to work up a scare whenever they can. The sensational manner in which the raid at the Vesper Country club has been treated by some newspapers proves this, but that is no reason why respectable newspapers should be maligned by a man who is himself in the business or by anybody else.

The decent newspapers in this case as in many others have to suffer the blame that properly belongs only to the yellow sheets and the sensational organs that try to live on scandals and the use of the muck rake.

It is a perfectly just and proper function of the honest newspaper to show up dishonesty in public officials, to stand for civic probity and official integrity. That is one of the functions of the press that has greatly assisted in purifying municipal government in this country.

In no city in which there has been an honest and fearless newspaper have the officials been found to engage in wholesale corruption. If perchance any official ventured to prostitute his office to private gain, he was quickly exposed and either convicted or driven into obscurity.

The service which the honest newspapers have rendered in this respect has been of incalculable value to American cities.

Yet these newspapers do not get credit for their work in this respect. In other respects also the newspapers have done incalculable good as for example in denouncing wrong, in pleading for the poor and the weak, in defense of right and in exposing shams and humbugs.

When some ministers thought of getting out an ideal newspaper and undertook to publish a paper such as in their opinion would Christ Himself were He on earth, the result was not nearly as good even from the Christian standpoint as hundreds of papers published by laymen throughout the year without any pretence to religious motives.

Next to the church the press is the greatest power for good in the land and its work should not be scoffed at, minimized or misrepresented, because of the shortcomings of a small number of unprincipled newspapers.

When Editor Hemphill spoke of the "ideal newspaper" he may not have realized that the "ideal" in newspaper production is never attainable for the reason that the man who produces the most perfect newspaper has still an ideal far beyond what he can then realize. The ideal always stands afar off like a beautiful vision perched upon the horizon of the highest reality.

Carlyle says: "Alas, we know that ideals can never be completely embodied in practice. Ideals must ever lie a great way off—and we will thankfully content ourselves with any not intolerable approximation thereto! Let no man as Schiller says, too querulously, 'measure by a scale of perfection the meagre product of reality' in this poor world of ours."

In this connection we might also appropriately quote Adelaide Proctor when she says:

"Dwells within the soul of every artist,
More than all his efforts can express,
He knows the best remains unuttered
Sighing at what we call his success."

Thus after all Editor Hemphill need not be discouraged because he cannot find in this broad land of ours the ideal newspaper. If he cannot find it here he certainly cannot find it elsewhere and it, therefore, does not exist.

No line of business has made such rapid strides within the past dozen years as did the newspaper business. The marvel of news, intelligence and research crowded into the columns of a one cent paper nowadays is far beyond what the greatest journalists of twenty years ago dreamed of as possible. The ideals of the past have been more than realized as the ideals of today may be realized in the future. It is not expected, therefore, that the present ideal of great journalists should be realized. To accomplish this would require superhuman gifts, for when we consider the work of the great journalists such as Col. Henry Waterson, the late Charles A. Dana and the present critic, Major I. C. Hemphill as reflected in their respective newspapers, we find that while each might have attained excellence in one or in many points yet none of them ever issued a newspaper approaching the highest ideal of journalistic excellence.

The newspapers that print the news of the world faithfully and up to the minute, that hold up to the people high ideals of morality, citizenship, civic purity, strong manhood and noble womanhood, are doing their full duty to their clientele no matter how far they may be away from the critic's conception of the ideal.

But did not the great Cæsar himself—beg pardon, we mean Col. Roosevelt—who was not averse to giving the newspapers a severe sham when it suited his purpose or his mood—did he not make the statement in his Paris speech that—

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the door of deeds could have been done better. 'The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood, whose place shall never be with those cold, timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.'"

Applying this piece of common sense we can see the absurdity of Major Hemphill setting himself up as a general critic of the press of this country, while the paper of which he is editor in point of excellence will rank only third rate when compared with the best in the land.

How grand, how noble, how sublime would be the achievements of man in every field of endeavor if the critics could remedy the imperfections they can so readily point out in the works of others.

ENJOYABLE EVENT

Rosebuds Held Dancing
Party Last Evening

O. U. A. M. hall, Middle street, was the scene last evening of one of the most enjoyable dancing parties of the season, the occasion being the third annual sociable of the Rosebuds. Like its predecessors it was a grand success in every particular. There were about seventy-five couples present and all enjoyed the program furnished. The ladies of the party were all becomingly attired in beautiful gowns, while the men wore evening dress.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Pink and white, the colors of the club, predominated. Streamers of these colors were alternately suspended from the center of the hall to the sides. In the center was a large bell of light blue, pink and white. The stage was decked with potted plants and ferns. Hidden behind the scenery was Edredge's orchestra, Harry Kittredge, director, which rendered excellent music for the dancers.

An order of twenty numbers was given and each was anchored several times. One, in particular, namely, the Rosebud waltz, proved to be the feature of the evening. This was the last dance before intermission and it was applauded many times.

At intermission refreshments were served, after which dancing was resumed and continued until midnight.

SERGT. GRENIER

Popular Militiaman Succumbed to Scarlet Fever

The many friends of Sergeant Armene Henri Grenier of Co. G, Sixth regiment, will be pained to learn of his death, which occurred yesterday at the Lowell hospital, after a few days' illness with scarlet fever. He was 32 years, 11 months old. Owing to the nature of the disease the funeral took place yesterday afternoon and was private. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery and Undertaker Joseph Albert had charge. Capt. Colby T. Kirtledge of the general staff of the militia represented the Spanish War Veterans, and Capt. Walter R. Jeyes of Co. G represented the company, which sent a beautiful floral tribute.

Sergeant Grenier was a Spanish war veteran, and had been through the Porto Rican campaign as a member of Co. G, and had also seen service in the Philippines. He was one of the ablest drillers in his company, having always taken the keenest interest in military tactics, and personally was highly respected by all who knew him. He had been interested in organizing military guards among French Americans, and had first organized the Garde Franco-Americaine and later the Garde Saint-Paul, of which he was captain. He was also a member of the Royal Arcanum.

He left a wife, a son, Armand; two brothers, Elie Grenier of California and Emmanuel Grenier of Lowell, and one sister, Mrs. Alma Bonin of Nashua.

OFFERS TO MARRY

Green Has Letters From 150 Women

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—E. H. R. Green of Terrell, Texas, president of the Texas Midland R. R. Co., and a son of Mrs. Betty Green of New York and who recently announced in St. Louis that he had not married because he could find no woman who would accept him except for his money, admitted last night the receipt of 150 letters from women asking his hand in marriage during the last two weeks.

The letters were accompanied by about fifty photographs of the writers, according to Green. One of the letters was from a widow with half a dozen children. Green will remain in St. Louis several days. He denied a statement that his mother had retired or was about to retire from business.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Tonight Viola Allen will present at the Opera House what is perhaps the most interesting and important dramatic work that she has ever appeared in during her distinguished career as an actress. It is "The White Sister," the last play written by F. Marion Crawford, which he made from his book of the same name. The play, therefore, has a sentimental value, in addition to the interest in the work of a writer of international repute. A large and notable cast has been engaged by Messrs. Liebler & Co. to support Miss Allen. The part of Montsignor Saracinesca is in the hands of James O'Neill of "Monte Cristo" fame; that of Captain Severi in those of William Farrum; while Minna Gale, the one time leading lady of Booth and Barrett, who returns to the stage after a retirement of a decade and a half, will be seen as the Countess Chiaromonte. The other important roles have been assigned to Fanny Addison Pitt, Richie Ling, Edwin Barbour, Dwight Dana and Bella Chippendale.

"The White Sister" as a play differs from the book of the same title in many respects. The central theme, however, is much the same, presenting a dramatic conflict between love and duty in the case of a young girl who turns to the church for comfort upon receiving false reports of her soldier lover during an ill-fated African expedition, only to meet him in the flesh after having taken religious vows. The setting of the first two acts on the second round, especially that of the second act, which shows the cloister scene, has given the management ample opportunities for elaborate stage effects. William Farst, the well known composer, wrote the musical score for "The White Sister." A female chorus and several musicians are part of the company and are interpreters of the music that runs through the entire performance, and has been made to fit the sentiments of each scene.

"HAVANA." "Havana," the successful musical comedy which James T. Powers will appear in this city tomorrow night, was originally written for George Edwards, who produced it at the Gaiety theatre, London, where it ran for a long time. Mr. Edwards is the most successful producer of musical plays in the United Kingdom. When Mr. Powers was looking for a new play to succeed "The Blue Moon," he dropped into the Gaiety theatre, London, one day to see "Havana." Although in the form he saw it, it would not do at all for America, the comedian thought he saw a possibility in the piece if he could write it. Negotiations were entered into at once through which the Shuberters secured the American rights to "Havana." The book was turned over to Mr. Powers who completely re-wrote it and to such effect that it scored an instantaneous hit when produced at the New York Casino two seasons ago. In "Havana" Mr. Powers has one of the biggest successes of his career and it is a Jimmy Powers success more than anything else.

PRIMROSE MINSTRELS

The "First Part" setting of the Primrose Minstrels is said to be a perfect gem in its way; white and gold are the pretty colors used towards an effect of genuine grandeur. The whole scheme utilized is one of massive scenic conception, and carries with it a fairly good idea of some of the ancient Roman palaces. This magnificent background is furthermore enhanced in effectiveness by the rich draperies and other picturesque furnishings that have been generously provided by Mr. Primrose, who prides himself on giving the proper atmosphere to his entertainment of so much novelty. The Primrose Show promises more than a little in the way of exceptionally fine singing at the Opera House next Friday, April 29, not forgetting the clever performances by the famous Ward Bros., who have arranged a special act of astonishing, as well as laughing importance.

A special added attraction for the engagements of the large New England cities is George Wilson of the famous Barrow, Wilson, Primrose & West. This is the first time that Primrose and Wilson have appeared together in nearly twenty years. Those two great artists need no introduction to theatre goers from ocean to ocean and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. Now you'll it look good to you to see George Wilson on one "End" and George Primrose on the other. It should pack the theatre from "pit to dome."

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The Roosevelt pictures are still drawing admiring crowds to the Academy of Music, while the vaudeville of today is at the best, "The sketch 'Hulu's Dream,' presented by MacCollin and Hall, is a gem of mirth and melody. Rarely if ever has such an artistic piece of high class comedy been seen in a picture theatre. It ought to be on the Keith time. Julia Tracey is making a host of friends by her clever work, and the rest of the show is up to the standard. Admissions tonight, Admission 5 and 10 cents.

Barlo and McCue, the world's greatest exponent of physical culture, will present their athletic and acrobatic act which is one of the finest on the vaudeville stage today. It is an act distinctive in itself.

The pictures are all new, and are personally selected by the manager.

THEATRE VOYONS

STAR THEATRE

"The Tongue of Scandal," "His Last Burglary," and several other excellent motion picture subjects, with the talking picture and illustrated songs, comprise the bill at the Star Theatre. Comedy and drama are mingled in the talking picture, "His Last Burglary," by the Biograph company. Tomorrow there will be a complete change of program. Women and children are tendered special attention. The theatre is thoroughly clean and well ventilated. The admission of five cents includes a seat.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Tomorrow the Empire theatre will be opened to the people of Lowell to give to them a new first class moving picture and vaudeville theatre. From the artistic front of the stage this house is a model of beauty and forethought, and a work of which Mr. Davis, the architect, ought to be proud.

The management, through its efforts in securing the best booking agents in the country, plans on showing acts and pictures which are fitting such a neat, up to date theatre. For the first show, commencing Thursday afternoon, Clifford, Dempsey & Co. will present their comedy act, "Route by the Rabbit Route." They are clever people and their clever act will be one of the funniest comedies.

Barlo and McCue, the world's greatest exponent of physical culture, will present their athletic and acrobatic act which is one of the finest on the vaudeville stage today. It is an act distinctive in itself.

Carley Carles is one of the daintiest of dainty girls, and a wonderful little dancer. She is styled "The Parisian Slinger" and "Russian Dancer," introducing novelties which earn for her that title and which will attract a big house at every performance.

PRINCETON CLUB

Dancing Party

The Princeton club, an organization composed of young men who reside in Centerville, gave a minstrel show and dancing party in Associate hall last night. The excellent program and the manner in which it was carried out proved conclusively that there is plenty of good talent in the club.

The popularity of the members of the club was evidenced by the large attendance and the event proved a success both from a social as well as a financial standpoint.

The interior of the hall was prettily decorated with the club's colors, yellow and black. A new curtain, made of two large American flags, was seen for the first time last evening. This added greatly to the decorative feature.

The overture was carried out in a manner which reflects much credit on the young men and ladies who assisted them. Then came the songs which were so well received that it was necessary for each soloist to respond to an encore.

Andrew Doyle made a hit with "Meet Me Tonight in Dreamland," and John Payne gave "Here I See You" in his own inimitable way. The refrain to the latter piece was given by the entire chorus. Miss Katherine Fay, was loudly applauded after her rendition of "Laura Lee."

One of the hits of the evening was "I'm Going Home" by Joseph Furlong, but no one believed him. Miss Alice Delgman pleased the audience with "I'm Glad I'm Irish."

Miss Ada Gordon gave that lively and tuneful rag-time selection "Wild Cherry Rag," and James Scanlon rendered "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." Anthony Doyle's number was "Bumble Bee," a pretty conceit, and Miss Margaret McDonough, with the green spot light shining on her sang "We'll Go Back to Erin Some Day, Mavourneen."

Miss Mabel Knight, who was one of the and "men" provided laughter with her rendition of "You'll Come Back." Herbert McKenzie gave "The Hat My Father Wore," and James Lyons, a tenor, sang pleasingly "Just Like a Rose." Daniel Gray's song was "I Wish I Had

My Old Girl Back Again." A quartet composed of James Lyons, Fred Robert and Bert Lindsay, sang a brace of numbers that proved highly popular.

The performance closed with the staid song, "Bohemia," the entire company participating in it. The members of the chorus were: Misses Florence Solen, Mayme Carroll, Mabel LeClair, Elizabeth Catterall, Mae O'Brien, Margaret O'Brien, Mae McPartland, Nellie Hurley, Ina McCaskill, Harriet Clancy, Mamie McDonald, Mae Clark, Josie Shea, Lena Collins, Annie Russell, Marietta Glides, Anna Kelley, Norah Slattery, Annie Breen, Agnes Kelley, Messrs. Charles Slowey, William Grant, Albert McKenzie, Thomas Monahan, James Quinn, William Ryan, Miles Thompson, Henry Johnson, Thos. Hubin, Harry McNeil, Arthur Monahan, Charles McGowan, Joseph Clark, Fred Powers, John McNulty, Edward McKinley, William Foye, Sidney McKenzle, James Monahan, Walter Foye, Thomas McGuane, Charles McKenzle, Charles Vidito, Frank Clarke, Frank Lescour.

Charles D. Slattery, who has considerable reputation as a producer of entertainments, was largely responsible for last night's show. The orchestra was under the direction of Emil J. Borjes. George H. Donohue was a suave, dainty interlocator.

Dancing was begun about 10:30 o'clock and was continued until midnight.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The North Chelmsford Choral society will give a grand concert in the Second Congregational church this evening, and a large number of Lowell people will attend. There will be a chorus of 40 voices, assisted by Mrs. Nemo Gallagher Leachy, Mrs. Daisy Duncan, Mrs. Hanson, Mr. Arthur Booth, violin soloist; Miss Ethel A. Hinton, reader. Director of chorus, Mr. P. Picken; organist, Mrs. A. Slattery; accompanist, Miss Helen Savage. Mr. Herbert Waterhouse.

WILL NOT BE ANNEXED

NEW YORK, April 27.—Annexation of Newfoundland either to the United States or Canada is a visionary project, according to Sir Edward Morris, premier of the island, who expressed this view at a farewell dinner given in his honor by countrymen at the Hoffman house last night previous to his departure to attend the fisheries conference at The Hague.

TWO SPEEDY ATHLETES WHO WILL
SHINE IN ATHLETIC CARNIVAL

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—Great preparations have been made for the University of Pennsylvania's 15th annual relay race carnival to be held on Franklin field April 30. The contests will bring together the biggest and finest lot of college and scholastic athletes in the country to compete in a series of relay races and special events. Never before in the history of scholastic and collegiate sport has such a fine set of entries been received for any meet. Two hundred and twenty-three teams have sent word that they will be on hand to battle for honor and glory. One of the features of the meet is the magnificent entry list of colleges. Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Cornell, Syracuse, Dartmouth, Amherst, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Lafayette, Penn State, Pittsburg and Virginia will all have representatives here. The one mile college championship seems to be the favorite event for the American athlete, and there will be no exception to the rule on April 30, for no less than nine colleges representing the entire country, have entered. Chicago, the present champion; Michigan and Illinois, both of whom chased Stagg's men to the very finish last season; Pennsylvania, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Virginia and Dartmouth are the teams out for the honors. Michigan will rule the favorite, because she retains all of her last year's team, one that was then beaten only by two feet for the title. In Paul Penn has one big star of the meet, for he is the college record holder at 4 minutes 17 4-5 seconds for the mile. Great things are expected of Kirjassoff, Yale's star half miler.

Dyspepsia and Nervousness

Entirely cured by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey after other medicines did her no good. Now Mrs. Houck recommends it to all her friends. She recently wrote:—

"Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done me so much good I intend to always keep it on hand. About two years ago when I was feeling all run down I consulted a physician. He pronounced my trouble a species of dyspepsia and nervousness. I had taken two bottles of other medicine and they had not helped me, when a friend recommended Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I am pleased to say that it has cured me entirely, and I do not hesitate to give it my endorsement. I shall recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey to all my friends."—Mrs. Frances Houck, 423 E. Water St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Ministers of the gospel, doctors of medicine, nurses and people everywhere unite in commending Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, a perfect tonic stimulant, the one true medicinal whiskey.

has to its credit fifty years of success. It is an absolutely pure distillation of carefully malted grain. Overworked men, delicate women and sickly children will find in Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey the health and strength-giving properties that are so necessary to them. It is a wonderful remedy in the prevention and cure of consumption, pneumonia, grippe, bronchitis, coughs, colds, asthma, malarial, low fevers, stomach troubles and all wasting and weakening conditions, if taken as directed.

THE MUNICIPALITIES
NOTES OF INTEREST FROM OTHER AMERICAN CITIES

Washington, D. C.—First steps toward placing permanent markers on historic sites within the District were taken at the New Willard hotel at a meeting of the committee to accomplish this work. W. P. It is expected that by Independence day at least one or two prominent historic sites in the city will be marked with a suitable bronze tablet or some other equally permanent form of identification.

believes in the educational value of the well-conducted live-stage theatre, but realizes the damage improper shows do. He explained the trouble in revoking licenses and said such things as proprietors permitting children to smoke cigarettes and otherwise indulging behind the scenes would not be possible if he could get the theatres under his jurisdiction. The theatres ought to be established in the small parks, he says, and only adults should be charged the full five-cent price of admittance—children under 16 might be charged two cents, under 10 years of age one cent, or be admitted free. The chief thinks also that the theatres should be constructed of corrugated iron, so that they could be moved about and used for voting purposes or supplementary schoolrooms in the crowded districts.

PLAYGROUNDS IN HOLYOKE

Holyoke, Mass.—The city of Holyoke is taking the playground act most seriously, and Building Inspector Frank O'Connell, who is to be general supervisor of the playground activities, has already mapped out the season's campaign, which will begin the last of May. There are three large skating rinks opened and maintained by the city during the winter time, each one of which will be used as a wading pool during the summer months. The total expended for the three was less than $50, and Mr. O'Connell points to the fact that no Holyoke children were drowned while skating the past season, although in previous years one or two drowning accidents always occurred, and often five or six. Prospect Park and Riverside Park were equipped with playground apparatus by the board of park commissioners previous to the passage of the playground act, and will be continued along the same lines as last season. Three new playgrounds will be fully equipped, located as follows: West street, in ward 1; Hampden street between Linden and Deca, and Maple street north of Cabot street. The equipment of each will include a baseball field, swimming pool, boys' outdoor gymnasium, girls' outdoor gymnasium, a green for dancers and a wading pool. In addition there will be a playground apparatus, a minor nature, such as sandboxes, swings, etc., at six of the schoolhouses, Highlands, South Chestnut, Elm street, Kirtland, Park and Appleton streets. About $40,000 will be spent. It is estimated that between 3,000 and 4,000 children will be accommodated in pleasant weather. The $30,000 spent will be largely for permanent apparatus and grading, so that another year the bill will be but a fraction of the amount expended this year.

ABOUT CITY AUTOS

Minneapolis, Minn.—E. R. Dutton, assistant city engineer, was instructed by the City Council Ways and Means Committee to allow C. A. Bloomquist, city treasurer, to use the city automobile assigned to him for official business. The city treasurer will use it twice a month in distributing pay checks to city employees, thus saving rental expense of $25 to $50 a month. It has often happened that the car assigned to the engineer was lying idle while other city officials were paying $4 an hour rent for automobiles for official business. Last year $400 was expended in automobile hire by the treasurer's office. At the last election the city clerk spent $269 for similar purposes.

RAG STORAGE IN CHELSEA

Chelsea, Mass.—Judge Bosson in the Chelsea police court has nullified the second effort of the board of control to regulate the storage of rags. The court held that the word "rag" as defined in the dictionary does not include new clippings "of worsted cloth serviceable for patching." One of the first things done by the board after the fire was to prohibit rag shops unless regulated by the chief of the fire department. Most of the rag dealers in Chelsea re-established their rag shops without a license, and in a case to test the validity of the ordinance the supreme court decided that the board of control had no right to delegate the power of licensing when the board made its second ordinance in Chelsea had almost as many rag shops as before the fire. It is probable that still another effort will be made to regulate the business.

Coming Big Fight Divides Interest With Baseball

By TOMMY CLARK.

PARAPHRASING an oft quoted line, the whole world loves a heavyweight fight for the championship. The coming battle between Jim Jeffries and John-son unquestionably has aroused more worldwide interest than any other fight ever staged. In the history of the world there have been several fights that were truly great. Nearly every one knows something about the great struggle be-

VIC WILLIS.

Manager Roger Bresnahan of the St. Louis Nationals is highly elated over the early showing of Vic Willis, whom he obtained from the Pittsburghs since the close of last season. In fact, Vic is now twirling as good ball as he ever did.

tween David and Goliath. Mythology chronicles the desperate battle between Hector and the invulnerable Achilles, and nearly every male child has heard of the Sullivan and Kilrain scrap. But not one of these can compare in point of interest with the Jeffries-Johnson mill. It is figured that the crowd that will cheer the winner at the Emeryville race track, Emeryville, Cal., on Independence day will be ten times as great as the mob that howled when Spartacus won the gladiatorial championship and as many times as great as the gang that saw Hector do his sprint around the walls of Troy before Achilles put him out.

Throughout the east, south, north and parts of the west special trains are being chartered to carry the enthusiasts of the different cities to the scene of the battle. But America is not alone interesting itself in the big fight. The promoters have had orders for ringside seats from England and other parts of Europe, while even faroff Australia and India will be represented. Such enthusiasm is astonishing and has no parallel in the history of fistfights.

It will have a far-reaching effect, too, this scramble to get to the battleground. It will test the capacity and power of the railroads to the straining point and affect business in general.

Why? Because it is a battle between the greatest white pugilist against an equally great black man and a heavyweight battle in which the outcome is in doubt.

There has been a lot of frenzied writing about the probable receipts, and some of the unthinking have estimated that $500,000 or even $1,000,000 will be taken in at the box office. It should be said that about $250,000 will cover the receipts very nicely.

They are saying that a full million will be bet on the result. A million is a lot of money, but there are many wise boys and hunches who are quietly stowing away the dollars against the time when the betting begins to be lively, and it is possible that the aggregate of the wagers at the last will look like a picture of the national debt.

Is it not barely possible that retirement of all this coin to stakeholders' hands might bring on stringency, tight money and large uncertainty? This is not the financial editor's department, but it is humbly suggested that if the Jeffries-Johnson mill takes the money out of circulation as some of the sport writers say it will do, the treasury exports had better arrange to have all the big prizefight transactions carried out by check.

At least it is wise to leave enough money in circulation to handle prosperity. We want no more clearing house certificates.

Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American league baseball club, says:

"To discontinue the present style of spikes would slow up the game. None of the substitutes that we have examined would have the effect of the old spikes. I admit that they are dangerous, but I think it would be better to adopt safeguards such as shin guards or something like that instead of doing away with the spikes. In my mind baseball is just fast enough, and we should take no chances of reducing that speed in any way."

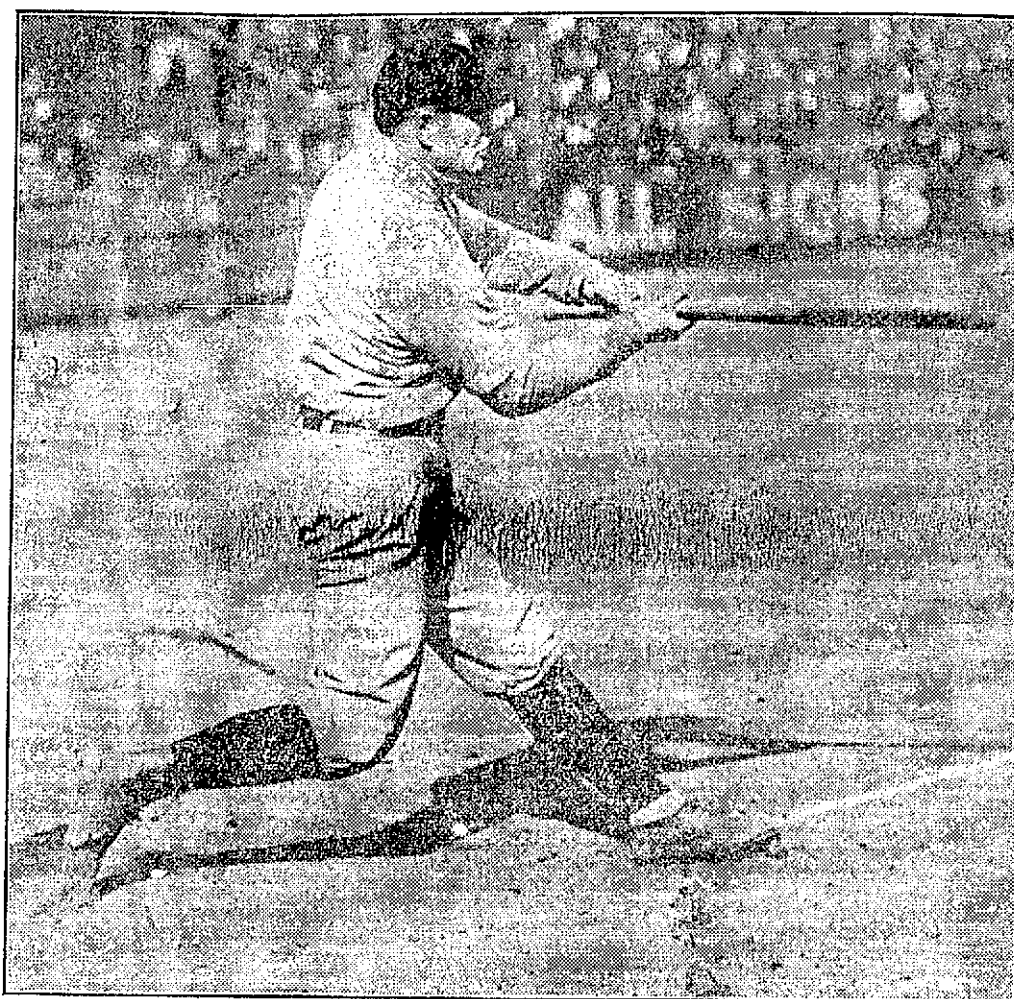

Splendid! "Spikes are dangerous!" But what are a few crippled players more or less compared to the delights of a dashing steal to third base?

"Adopt safeguards, such as shin guards or something like that!" Shin guards would not slow up the game—not much more than molasses would the legs of a fly. "None of the substitutes would have the effect of the old spikes!" It is not necessary to give them a fair trial.

ent murderous spike will be found where it belongs—in the ash heap.

Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Americans has the record for securing great players for almost nothing. Perhaps Eddie Collins, his star second uous financial disaster was made; then that by which McGraw acquired Pitchers Rube Marquard and Durham for a total of $16,000, Marquard costing $11,000. Durham was hardly given a show ere he was chased to Canada or some other distant wilds, while Marquard has

FRANK CHANCE, MANAGER AND FIRST BASEMAN OF THE CHICAGO NATIONALS

Manager Frank Chance is confident that his Cubs will capture the banner this season. He figures that his team is stronger than last season. Since the close of the 1909 campaign the attitude of the Cubs has changed several promising young pitchers, some of whom he expects will make good. In a recent game against Cincinnati one of his youngsters, Cole, fanned seven of the Reds and won his battle by a score of 10 to 5. With the return of Ed Reulbach, who has been ill with diphtheria, Chance says that he will have the strongest twirling staff in the league. The addition of "Ginger" Beaumont to the team seems to have strengthened the outfield to some extent.

because the manufacturers might be forced to carry a big stock of the old ones and suffer a loss. How true the old saying, "A man convinced against his will is of the same opinion still." Some men can argue around a circle and rest content. Some day the pres-baseman, is his most conspicuous success.

But, strange to say, John McGraw, manager of the New York Nationals, probably has the record of paying more for "gold bricks" than the rest. It is doubtful if ever a deal of more conspi-been retained. His score last season with a team like the Giants behind him was five games won and thirteen lost. You can't always make pitchers by paying high prices for them.

McGraw figures that his $11,000 find will prove during the present season that he is worth every cent paid for him.

There is some doubt in certain quarters as to whether the return of Johnny Kling to the Chicago Nationals' fold will add enough strength to give that team a chance to beat out Pittsburgh for the banner this year. It is argued that the Cubs were not weak behind the bat last season, that Archer did everything in the way of receiving that Kling could possibly have done and that the additional batting that Kling would bring will not be sufficient to make a material difference in the team's standing.

It is the opinion of the members of the Cubs, however—that is, of the veterans on the team—that the presence of Kling will make a great difference in the team because of his knowledge of the game and the fact that the players know his style and have a lot of confidence in him. One ball player often makes a wonderful difference in a team, and it may be that Kling is just the man to help the Cubs to another flag.

But to most persons who last year watched closely the Chicago team work it wasn't so much the want of a catcher that hurt the club as it was the inefficiency of the pitching department at the start of the year.

Frank Gotch, the world's heavyweight wrestler, may not have such an easy time with the gentleman whose name looks like a bunch of pied type, Zbysco, whom he is to meet in Chicago on May 14. Recently the Gallatin met Dr. Roller, the Seattle physician and crack wrestler, in Kansas City and threw him after a hard struggle. Next to Gotch, Roller is considered the best mat artist in America. In the recent contest the European showed that he possesses great defensive strength. At almost makes one believe that the failure of Gotch to throw him within an hour's time limit in Buffalo some time ago was not merely for exhibition and get the money purposes.

Zbysco has a neck about one thirty-second of an inch in height and as thick as a Norwich elm. In his bout with Roller nelson holds slid off him like rain off a slicker. He is so tremendous a man physically that he is very difficult to handle, and, while his own attack is weak as compared with Gotch's, he is a hard man to throw.

Gotch's toe hold will be needed to put this man on his back. At that he has broken this terrible punishing hold several times.

Have you stopped to consider that the new football rules practically mean that the quarterback is a thing of the past save in title? For several years the tendency has been to have as a quarterback a player who stacks up about the average with the other backs in weight and height. Some teams have even had at quarter a man bigger and heavier than the other men back of the line. Now this is made compulsory if it is expected to turn out a good eleven. In the first place, there is no restriction that the man who first receives the ball from the center—or snapper back—must run five yards outside before crossing the line of scrimmage. That does away with the necessity of playing a man directly back of center to receive the ball and pass it to the man selected to run with it.

Then there is a new rule allowing but four men back of the line of scrimmage, which minimizes interference and means the backs must rely largely on their own exertions. Obviously, all else being equal, the team that has three

OWEN BUSH.

Owen Bush, the Detroit Americans' star shortstop, is again burning up the diamond with sensational plays. Added to this is the fact that he has improved in batting and is nearly always there with his timely wallop.

heavy and fast backs and one light and fast back is not going to be as well equipped for offense as the eleven that has four heavy and fast men back of the line.

It would not be surprising next fall to find all backs standing in a row about the same distance back of the line of scrimmage and with any of them receiving the leather, according to the signal called. Certainly the game has seen some radical changes.

Business End of a Circus

By FRANK H. BROOKS.

UNTIL wild geese honk their flight to the northland the white tents of the circus will rise and fall in the cities and towns of the country. Avoid the man who tells you that all circuses are alike. All circuses now are up to date. There is scarcely a phase of human life that is not represented in some manner on the tanbark. The clowns of today catch a fad as quickly as film and present its ludicrous features. Although humorously presented, "The Chanticleer" gets an advance notice, and in one of the big shows the homecoming of Colonel Roosevelt and Kermit is foreboding.

Aside from all this, the circus has a business end and that will command the respect of business men and an organization that requires brains and capital. One of the best known shows on the road requires eighty-nine railroad cars to transport it from point to point. Its list of performers and superlatives foot up to 1,300 men and women. It has

vas. This canvas means eighteen tents. The big tent seats nearly 16,000 people. Fifty ushers are employed to seat the audience. It feeds from its own eating tent more than 1,000 persons. The clerical force of press agents, stenographers, ticket sellers and gatekeepers number forty people. It carries a Red Cross department composed of a physician and surgeon and two assistants, a corps of trained nurses and a graduate pharmacist who has his stock of drugs. It also has a veterinary surgeon and several aids. It has its own harness shop, wagon shop and paint shop, employing in all fifty people.

An expert lawyer travels with the show. It is his business to adjust all legal complications, and these are more numerous than many suppose.

The show in question has 400 performers and fifty clowns, thirty-eight elephants and as many of the animal kingdom as can be captured and as will live in this climate. The feeding of these animals keeps several men who are posted in prices and food busy. It takes daily seven tons of hay, 200 bushels of oats, 150 bushels of corn, six tons of straw, fifty bushels of bran and two or three carcasses of beef for lions and tigers and 700 bushels of vegetables to satisfy the hunger of caged and uncaged animals that help to make up the big show.

In the cooking tent 300 pounds of beef are necessary daily for the people who feed in the tent. In addition, there is purchased every day 150 pounds of mutton, 200 pounds of pork, and on two days of the week 550 chickens are bought and prepared. Two hundred dozen eggs, 300 loaves of bread, a half barrel of sirup and ten barrels of apples, alternating with other fruits in season, are purchased every day. Canned goods are bought by the gross. It takes sixty waiters to serve the meals. A high salaried chef and eight assistants and a pastry cook and three assistants prepare the dishes.

It requires experts to arrange for the billing of the show, advertising it and conducting the publicity department. The staff that attends to these features must be men of education, judgment and energy. The treasurer of such an organization must of necessity be a man of business and of the highest character. He has several assistants who must likewise be men who are alert and accurate. The business end of a big show is prodigious. That's the word.

Victor Herbert's Vision.

When Victor Herbert was the leader of the Seventh regiment (N. C. N. Y.) band he gave concerts at a stated interval. The arrangement of the program was in the hands of a committee of ladies who knew their music. To them Herbert submitted a list of the names of the great composers. There was a left off—Simbling. Sometimes the committee wrangled over Herbert's list except when they came to the name of Simbling. His scherzo from the "Symphony in D" was never eliminated from the program. No member of the committee had ever heard of Simbling. They simply knew his name was on the list, and they knew his music. That was enough, plus the fact that he was a favorite with Herbert. Herbert was often asked to tell the story of his discovery, but he always shrugged his big shoulders when asked "Whence Simbling?" He might have said and maybe he did say it in the words of one of the ancients, "The unknown is held to be gloriously impressive."

Came the time when Victor Herbert was a master of concert music and a composer of renown. They knew him away out in some of the one night stands as well as he is known in the great cities. And how often has his orchestra played the fetching music of Simbling? Still the question, "Who is Simbling, the favorite of Victor Herbert?"

The spell is broken. There is no Simbling. There never was a Simbling.

An Actress Who Bites. Benrimo (J. H.), who takes the part of Anton Schindler in the dramatic biography of Beethoven, which closes the season at the New theater, in New York city, has a scar on one arm which it is not necessary to exhibit, but he never will forget how he got it. He was the principal support of an actress whose name, like Benrimo's, must remain under cover. She and Benrimo had a little tiff before the curtain went up. Somewhere in one of the acts it was Benrimo's place to smooth and admire the jeweled arm of the star. He went through his part all right, but just as he finished speaking his lines the star, whose part it was just then to caress the bare arm of Benrimo, sank her pearly teeth into the flesh in a way not called for by the book. She drew the blood from Benrimo's arm, and if he had not been an old actor he would have screamed with pain. Fortunately for him the curtain went down on the act. Benrimo hurried to his dressing room, and the wound was bandaged by a physician who happened to be near by. In the subsequent parts of the play there was no occasion for the two to get close together. But the next day Benrimo informed the manager that he would not go on that night unless the actress was muzzled. Meanwhile the talented lady had reported of her biting propensities, and a truce was declared. At the close of the season Benrimo refused to be booked with the lady for the next season.

Playhouse Landmarks. Old time playgoers who used to visit New York and such as continue to migrate that way occasionally will not find many familiar playhouses in the metropolis. Only three of these familiar old houses under their old names remain. The Academy of Music, Daly's and Wallack's continue as they were. And the Academy is soon to go into vaudeville. Of course there is the old house where Tony Pastor used to appear with that perennial smile, but as a theater proper it is no more, although it caters to people who like the continuous show. The Union Square that knew Stoddard, Charlie Thorne and Richard Mansfield, for it was in that house that Mansfield took his first step toward the heights, is plastered over with vaudeville signs.

The other day a new hand took hold of Wallack's. This is not the original Wallack's. The first was built in 1861 by James W. Wallack. It stood at the corner of Broadway and Thirtieth street. When its founder passed away he was succeeded by Lester Wallack, that finished actor and accomplished gentleman and one who always looked as if he had stepped out of the knightly creations of Walter Scott. He built the Wallack's still standing at Broadway and Thirtieth street. And what plays Lester Wallack brought out in this house! When he "slept with his fathers" the company scattered. Then the house, after some uncertain stages, passed to the management of A. M. Palmer, who had been the spirit of the old Union Square. In an unguarded moment Palmer rubbed out the name of Wallack and substituted his own. His might as well have written ichabod over the lintel, for the house under his management failed, and the name of Wallack stood out again in its old place, a reminder of the man who made it famous.

Recently Charles Burnham got a lease of the house, and he ordered that the name of Wallack should remain so long as Burnham is manager. So Wallack's it is—one of the few theatrical landmarks of the big city that old time visitors will recognize.

Four Cities in the Scheme.

New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston will each have a theater in which only European plays will be produced. The plan has been worked out in London by Charles Frohman, A. L. Erlanger and Henry W. Savage. The plan also will include European players, many of whom have never been seen in this country. In connection with this comes the announcement that a London manager is arranging to obtain a number of vaudeville houses in our northwestern states and contemplates erecting several theaters for this line in New York.

The Only Lillian.

The most alert press agent has to sit up late to work out a story about Lillian Russell that will get into type. It would be the extreme of ungallantry to intimate that encroaching years had anything to do with this case. But there have been so many. However, when one blows in from Iowa one is tempted to open the box. It happened at Sioux City. Maybe you have noticed that all Iowa stories are dated from Sioux City or Burlington, although Council Bluffs does butt in now and then.

The sleeping car in which the "alry fairy" was dreaming—singers and actresses always dream—was on the side track, probably waiting for the freight to pass. A young man managed to reach the car of the manager of the company and asked him to arouse Lillian from slumber. The manager is reported to have said that Miss Russell always slept twelve hours and that was why she was always young (be sure that the manager did not overlook any Russell boys).

The late caller thought if Miss Russell was told that a young man who used to live in St. Charles, Ill., was waiting to see her she would "shake off death's counterfeits." Just what connection there was between the sleeping beauty and the Illinois town the manager could not divine. But the night prowler sprung it. When he was a kid living in St. Charles—now St. Charles is a suburb of Chicago—Neil Leonard used to come to his mother's house. Neil Leonard was the family name of Lillian Russell. The kid's mother was noted all over town for making the best light bread, and she was an artist in smothering it over with molasses in a way that made the eaters have brighter visions than ever. Neil Leonard doted on the broad smeared, molasses and often, rare deluge. Often—many a time, no doubt—she went home with the plantation treacle soured over her sunny face. The caller said as a kid he often led her home while Neil sneezed the flies that swarmed about her molasses covered countenance. Maybe if the manager would whisper the recollection in the ears of Miss Russell she would arise like a spirit from a fountain. But the manager shook his head. Not even the vision of Neil Leonard (now Miss Russell) with sugary splashes on her face would move the managerial wretch. And the caller went away in the depths of the Iowa night, sorrowful, no doubt.

Hippodromes in Cold Storage.

What becomes of the properties of a hippodrome after it has run its course in New York for up to the present time only New York has had a hippodrome in this country? Just now there are four hippodromes stored away in the metropolis. These are to be utilized next season. Chicago is to have a hippodrome, and so is Philadelphia. The shows in storage in New York are to be unboxed and sent to the cities named. Not only are the properties to be shipped to new homes, but some of the people are also to go. Marcelline, for instance, who has been seen by nearly every child in Greater New York, as well as by many from out of town, is to "act" next season in Chicago. Marcelline has never been outside of New York in his funny business since the New York Hippodrome opened. As most people who have seen him know, he is an Englishman. He probably couldn't tell offhand whether Chicago is in Illinois or in

THREE OF THE PRINCIPAL CHARACTERS IN "THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER"

The three hundredth performance of "The Chocolate Soldier" the run of which production at the Casino theater in New York city, has been unprecedented, will occur within a few weeks. On this occasion an intermezzo specially written by the composer, Oscar Straus, will be played for the first time. It is the opinion of those who have heard that the intermezzo for "The Chocolate Soldier" surpasses the one in "Cavalleria Rusticana." CONCORD, N. H., April 27.—His mind unbalanced by the strain of living with his nervously ill wife, Herman W. Clough, a railroad switchman, late yesterday killed his wife by splitting her head with an axe and then cut his own throat with a meat knife, dying instantly.

Clough also attempted to kill his wife's nurse, Miss Binnie Hodge, who, though but a frail girl, tried to wrest the weapon from the hands of the maniac as he wielded it over the helpless, terror-stricken wife. Mrs. Clough, who was about 45 years old, had been confined to her bed with a nervous disorder for nearly six months.

Clough had been acting strangely for a few days but nobody suspected him insane. He killed his wife with one blow of the axe as she lay in bed and then turned on the nurse and his 15-year-old daughter, but they escaped. Clough then ran a big knife into his throat. He was about 50 years old.

one being considered at the present time was introduced by Senator Nason of Haverhill.

The bill is not favored in this city, because it would give the state board of health the entire control of the Merrimack river and its tributaries. If the bill should pass the state board of health could at any time order a change in the sewerage system in Lowell and bring about a heavy and unwarranted expense to the city.

Members of the committee on public health who came to Lowell today included the senate chairman, J. P. Parker; Dr. Oliver, house chairman; Rep.

Happy, Happy, Use TIZ

A Marvel For Sore Feet. Acts Right Off

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ—Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, swollen feet, swollen feet, swollen feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof. TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous excretions which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you don't find all this true after trying a box of TIZ, you can get your money right back.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Anheuser-Busch Plant Damaged

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 27.—Fire of unknown origin caused a loss estimated at $530,000 in the mammoth plant of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association early today and for a time threatened the entire establishment with destruction.

Five hundred thousand bottles of beer were destroyed and millions of burning corks made such a dense about that the firemen fought the flames in a big struggle. The streets about the plant flowed with beer for more than an hour and smoking corks bobbed up and down in the streams.

And Woman Was Fatally Burned

NEW YORK, April 27.—The flight of Mrs. Adèle Rudolph with clothing ablaze from her home on Staten Island is believed today to have been due to fear on the part of the young wife and mother that the flames which enveloped her might be communicated to the room in which her three small children were asleep. Mrs. Rudolph, with clothing and hair entirely burned from her was found outside her home late last night. She was barely alive and died today in a hospital. It is believed that blazing oil was thrown upon Mrs. Rudolph by an exploding lamp and that she fled to the open in self-sacrificing anxiety for the safety of her children who were unharmed.

Has Brightened Since Last Friday

CAMBRIDGE, April 27.—The return of clear weather in the morning skies shows that Halley's comet has brightened rapidly since last Friday and is now clearly visible to the naked eye shortly after 3 a.m. The comet is displaying a fine brush-like tail of some three degrees in length while the nucleus shines with a brightness of between 2.5 and 3 magnitude.

Prof. O. C. Wendell at the Harvard observatory was able to make a number of interesting observations this morning despite the moonlight and the hastening dawn and his photometric measurements showed the nucleus to be 4.61 magnitude.

Halley's comet has not yet attained so spectacular a stage as that of comet A seen in the western sky in January but the rapidly with which it has increased in brightness during the past five days gives promise of a fine display in the course of a week and astronomer have great hope that when it emerges from the bright sunlight in the west next month it will prove a most interesting celestial picture.

The comet is now moving through the constellation of places and for a day or two will be a short distance east of the bright star in the southeastern corner of the great square of Pegasus.

SALE OF WOMEN'S COATS and FURS

From the J. Brest Co.'s Bankrupt Stock

This lot of clothing we bought with the stock of furniture. There was about $6000 worth. We sold most of it in Brockton and would have easily sold the balance in another week. But we were anxious to open the sale of furniture in Lowell by the 10th of April, so we shipped balance of furniture, clothing and all here so you can have your share of the bargains. And it is a good, clean, stylish lot of goods, as we saved out the best for our Lowell customers. Here are the prices:

- 3 Women's Coats, worth $5.00, sale price.....$1.45
- 20 Women's Coats, worth $10 to $15, sale price.....$4.95
- 9 Women's Coats, worth $12.50 to $18, sale price.....$8.95
- 3 Women's Coats, worth $15 to $20, sale price.....$8.95
- 2 Women's Coats, worth $22, sale price.....$10.95

We sold every suit, skirt and waist in Brockton; but there were two suits on which a small deposit was made and they did not call for them, so they're for sale. One suit $4.95 and one $7.50.

THE FURS

14 SCARFS $1.95 to $9.95
Worth at regular price $4.50 to $20.00

18 MUFFS $1.45 to $9.95
Sold for $4.00 to $20.00

6 SETS $2.95 to $12.95
Regular price $6.50 to $25.00

We shall offer the above goods for only two days

TOMORROW AND FRIDAY

What is left unsold, if any, will be sold to some dealer who handles these goods. We have no room for such goods in our store.

For the Men, Saturday Only

30 Men's Suits, at $8.50

These are worth from $15 to $22. We have made just one price, first come gets the best.

- 2 Overcoats, one sold for $15 and the other for $21, come first and grab the best $8.50
- 9 Boys' Overcoats $2.95
- 2 Boys' Overcoats $4.95

These sold for $6.00 to $10.00.

Remember—the sale of Women's Coats and Furs Thursday and Friday only; the Men's Clothing Saturday only, as we can't interrupt our big sale of Furniture. As we have earloads of that to sell and only a handful of clothing and at the price we are offering it, we should sell the whole of it in a few hours.

AN AEROPLANE FLIGHT

Was Witnessed by Colonel Roosevelt in Paris

PARIS, April 27.—For the first time ex-President Roosevelt yesterday saw an aeroplane flight. It was a very short one, and the aeronaut, Emile Dubonnet, had a narrow escape from injury. Col. Roosevelt journeyed to Issy-les-Moulineaux, as the guest of the Academy of Sports. There a large crowd had gathered, including cabinet ministers and noted aviators. Unfortunately, a strong wind was blowing and it seemed as though the promised flight would have to be abandoned. Not wishing to disappoint Col. Roosevelt, Dubonnet volunteered to go up in the face of the gale. He had recently made a sensational flight over the city of Paris, and it was thought if anyone could give a good account of himself, that man was Dubonnet.

The ex-president was deeply interested in every detail of the start and he pressed forward as the machine left the ground. It was evident, however, that this was no day for flying and the aeroplane had hardly gone 150 yards when it came down with a swoop, almost capsizing as it struck the ground. One of the wings was broken, but Dubonnet was not hurt. Col. Roosevelt

Mr. Roosevelt, "that I am the first statesman to make an appeal to the Hague court—in a dispute between the United States and Mexico. A former government official should not give the impression that he believes he is still a government official but with this reserve, I am entirely in accord with you upon the necessity of a third Hague conference."

After a visit to the Luxembourg gallery in the morning, Mr. Roosevelt was conducted to the famous revolutionary prison in the wing of the Palais de Justice, known as the Conciergerie, where he inspected the dungeons, among others that in which Marie Antoinette was confined prior to her execution. Ambassador and Mrs. Bacon gave a dinner last evening of 28 covers in honor of Col. and Mrs. Roosevelt. The guests included Premier Briand, ex-President and Mme. Loubet, Foreign Minister and Mme. Fichon, the former ambassador to the United States and Mme. Jusserand, Count Deselves, M. Lepine, prefect of Paris, Gen. Dalstein, military governor of Paris, M. Caron, president of the municipal council, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Montigny de Sars. One of the ex-president's visitors yesterday afternoon was the Indian prince, Jagatjit Singh Bahadur, maharajah of Kapurthala. The last day in Paris of the Roosevelt party includes a visit to Vincennes this morning, where, under the direction of Gen. Dalstein the Paris garrison will be put through a series of evolutions.

In the afternoon there probably will be an excursion to Versailles, where fetes have been arranged, and in the evening Col. Roosevelt will be the guest at dinner at the ministry of foreign affairs.

Eight soloists at Associate, tonight.

THE HOLY NAME

Of St. Patrick's Held a Banquet

The Holy Name society of St. Patrick's parish held a banquet in the school hall in Suffolk street last night and despite the inclement weather there was a large attendance and the affair proved to be a success.

The speaker of the evening was James E. O'Donnell, the well known local lawyer, who gave an interesting address on "The Manner of Conducting the Government of the Commonwealth."

Mr. O'Donnell spoke in part as follows: "Our government is divided into three different branches, executive, judicial and legislative. The executive branch is composed of the governor and his council; the judicial being made up of the justices of the supreme court, judges of the superior court and the district and police court judges, all of whom are appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the council; their terms of office being during good behavior, except trial justices whose terms are for three years, and justices of the peace who are appointed for seven years.

"The legislative branch is composed of the senate and the house of representatives. Like the executive department, the members of the legislative branch are elected by the people direct. The senate has 40 members, the presiding officer being designated as the president of the senate. The house has 240 members, its presiding officer being known as 'The Speaker.' In the senate the republican party generally has about 23 members, the democrats the balance, and in the house the democrats have a little over 70. Then there is another branch of the legislature known as the Third House, composed of representatives of those seeking special legislation, lobbyists sometimes called."

"When both branches assemble, which is on the first Wednesday in January of each year, they each proceed to the election of their respective presiding officers, both of whom are generally republicans."

The speaker then went into detail in explaining the naming and closing of the different committees, the favored ones of the body receiving the most sought-for positions.

"After all of these preliminaries have been gone over and the different committees assigned to their respective rooms, the real work begins and from then the scenes about the state house during the session, are indeed busy ones."

Lawyer O'Donnell then explained the different courses bills go through before they are finally made laws and what becomes of the different measures allowing them to be favorably acted on or otherwise. He also explained the work of the lobbyists and what an important part they sometimes play in the enactment or defeat of bills. In closing he said: "In my brief experience as a member of the legislature, I met high-minded men, animated with desires to be of real service to their state and their constituents—a body of men in whom all the people might safely have confidence."

GIRL A SUICIDE

She Took Dose of Carbo-lic Acid

ALTON, Ill., April 27.—Nina Anthis, 13 years old, committed suicide in school yesterday in the presence of her teacher and thirty schoolmates, by drinking carbo-lic acid.

She left a pathetic note in which she said that her heart was broken because her foster mother spoiled her. She asked that she be buried with a favorite doll and a wedding ring that had been left by her own mother.

B. &amp; M. AGREEMENT

BOSTON, April 27.—A new agreement affecting the locomotive engineers on the Boston & Maine system, some 1200 employees, has been entered into by the officials of the road and the men's union, satisfactory to all parties, according to an announcement made yesterday. The engineers made no requests for increase in wages but asked a readjustment of the men's working schedules.

Now the wages given out as to the details of the agreement, it being stated the new schedules were technical and of little general interest.

HIGHWAY BILL

Sen. Hibbard Presents a Revised Bill

Senator Hibbard has framed and introduced in the senate his revised bill for the construction of the state highway between Lowell and Lawrence and it has been referred to the committee on ways and means. While differing from the original measure the revised bill embodies the points cleared up at the hearings held on the original bill for the highway and by the visit of the joint committee on roads and bridges here some time ago.

It differs from the original measure in that it specifically provides for the construction of the highway along the line of the Boston & Northern street railway along the bank of the Merrimack river, and that it divides the cost to the cities and towns affected somewhat differently.

As in the original bill, it is provided that the cities and towns in each county shall divide equally the cost of constructing that portion of the road which lies in that county. Unlike the original bill, however, it is provided that of the share to be paid by the cities and towns, 85 per cent. shall be paid by the city and 15 per cent. by the town.

As a result of this division, it is estimated that the whole cost to fall upon Middlesex county, the city of Lowell and the town of Dracut, will be $11,500. Of this, the county will pay half, or $5750, the city of Lowell will pay $4875.00, and the town of Dracut $825.00.

The cost to Essex county, Lawrence and Methuen will be about $16,000. This will mean an expenditure of $5000

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Court Merrimack, Foresters of America, was held last night in Grafton hall, Chief Ranger Thomas F. Kelley in the chair. A communication was received from Court Northern Star of Denver, Colorado, stating that Patrick Shallow was improving in health.

Under the head of good and welfare interesting remarks were offered by Financial Secretary John Macdonald, Grand Secretary Wm. H. Stafford and John Barrett. At the conclusion of the meeting whist was enjoyed by the members.

The lecturer of the court is preparing for a series of lectures to be delivered by many prominent speakers from this city and throughout the state.

Odd Fellows

The regular meeting of Pilgrim encampment, A. I. O. O. F., was held on Monday evening at the Centralville Odd Fellows hall. The regular business was transacted. An invitation from Rev. F. A. Macdonald to attend the service at the Fifth Street Baptist church Sunday evening, May 1, at 6.30 o'clock was accepted.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. John H. Bilson and Miss Lillian T. Hoar were united in matrimony Tuesday afternoon at the parochial residence of the Sacred Heart church, Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I., officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Katherine A. Hoar, while Mr. Thomas W. Doyle was best man.

HESELTON-HESELTON

Mr. Herbert Heselton, a well known employee of the Lowell Automobile company, and Mrs. Emma M. Heselton were united in marriage by Rev. J. W. Stephan, pastor of the Worthen Street M. E. church, Monday evening.

COTTON CROP DESTROYED

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—That the Southern planter's finding great difficulty in obtaining desirable cotton seed to replant the first crop destroyed by frost, was indicated by reports from Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia and other regions yesterday. A shortage of seed was needed before the cold spell.

A great deal of choice seed already changed hands at $150 a ton. Much seed is offered at $40 and $50 a ton, but the cheaper grades have been found so full of dirt that they will only be used where no better can be had.

However, few cases of extortion have been reported in spite of conditions.

BROOKSIDE LINE

L. &amp; F. R. R. Must Resume Its Service

The railroad commissioners have ordered the Lowell & Fitchburg street railway to resume the service from Brookside to Westford Centre, which has been suspended since winter.

The company is ordered to resume its service from the Centre to Brookside on a reduced schedule and under some other conditions not yet known here. The town will hold a mass meeting Friday evening in the town hall at 8 o'clock to consider the whole problem, and everybody is asked to attend, including the women.

REV. FR. FALLON, C.M.I. MAN WAS KILLED

Was Consecrated Bishop of London, Ontario

The Hamilton, Ont., Herald published the following story of the consecration of Bishop Fallon at London, Ont.: The Right Rev. F. M. Fallon, a native of Canada and formerly of Buffalo, N. Y., was formally consecrated bishop of London by Archbishop McEvay, of Toronto, and the ceremony lasted about four hours. The church was crowded. Seven archbishops and many bishops, with three hundred priests from all over Canada and the United States, were present.

A special car containing about forty clergy and prominent Catholic laymen from Hamilton arrived early in the morning. Among the clergy were his lordship Bishop Dowling, Vicar-General Mahony, Rev. J. H. Coty, Rev. R. E. M. Brady, Rev. J. Bonomi, Rev. A. J. Leves, Rev. Fr. O'Connell and Rev. Fr. Webb, of Owen Sound. The laymen included officers and representatives of the various Catholic societies, and especially of the Knights of Columbus, of which the new bishop is an enthusiastic member.

Fr. Fallon arrived in London Saturday evening from Tewksbury, Mass., where he has been in retreat for some days and was taken at once to Mount St. Joseph, where he remained in retirement until his consecration, which took place in St. Peter's cathedral at 9.30.

Prominent priests from all over the country arrived in scores and the consecration, in addition to its impressiveness as a church ceremonial, was a remarkable tribute to the popularity of the new bishop of London.

Archbishop McEvay was assisted by Bishop Scollard of Saint Ste. Marie, and Bishop McDonald of Alexandria. Right Rev. Monsigneur Shahan, of Washington, D. C., arrived Saturday afternoon and besides preaching the consecration sermon, preached in St. Peter's cathedral on Sunday morning. Rev. Fr. Nolan, O. M. I. of Lowell, Mass., also arrived Saturday afternoon. He preached at the pontifical Mass.

Saturday afternoon a number of the most members of the Knights of Columbus met and presented Fr. Fallon with a magnificent crozier, which was used at the consecration. Father Fallon expressed his great pleasure at the gift.

Bishop Fallon's aged parents and six brothers arrived in London on Sunday and will be the guests of honor at a reception to be held in the Sacred Heart convent.

Special trains bearing priests and Knights of Columbus arrived Sunday from Buffalo, Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Detroit and other places.

Among the eminent priests who were present are: Archbishops Langevin, of St. Boniface; Bruchon, of Montreal; Gauthier, Kingston; Quigley, Chicago; and others.

At the conclusion of the consecration, which occupied nearly four hours, a dinner was held in the new parish hall of St. Peter's, which has just been completed. At this dinner all the priests of the diocese were present.

The consecration was a striking testimonial of the popularity of the new bishop of London. It was the first time that the parishioners of St. Peter's, in a special train, hundreds of the members of the Knights of Columbus, Catholic Order of Foresters, Ancient Order of Buffaloes, and others were present and many handsome gifts and addresses were presented to Bishop Fallon.

Monsieur Shahan, present, presented an address of welcome from the priesthood. Senator Coffey read an address from the laymen and a special speech of welcome was made by Right Rev. Monsigneur Shahan. Father Kerwin, of Buffalo, also gave an address. Bishop Fallon will begin his first sermon in St. Peter's cathedral next Sunday morning.

By the Collapse of a Folding Bed in New York

NEW YORK, April 27.—Through the collapse of a folding bed in which he was sleeping William Smith, described as a paper manufacturer of Waterbury, Conn., was instantly killed early today. His neck was broken. Mrs. Smith, who was with her husband on a business trip to this city was caught in the grip of the bed's mechanism as it closed up and was only saved from suffocation by being thrown through the window into the locked room.

The elderly couple were visiting a friend at whose boarding house on West 23d street they were accustomed to sleep when in this city. From some unknown cause their bed on the ground floor collapsed and the top fell down upon them. The Waterbury police when communicated with by telephone informed the local authorities that they could find no William Smith.
